Foreword

In the publication of this annual it is the desire of the staff to stimulate an interest in the welfare of the Tecumseh High School, its organizations and activities. It is hoped that all who have added to or taken from the life of T. H. S. may receive enjoyment in the perusal of these pages, and that in years to come they will bring many pleasant memories.

—THE STAFF
Dedication

We, the class of '31, dedicate this year book to Mr. Cleveland R. Dustin as an expression of our genuine appreciation for his untiring service to the Tecumseh High School and as a token of our high esteem.

Salutatory

ESTHER HOWE AND LESTER HANDY

We, the class of thirty-one, welcome you here tonight on the eve of our departure from Tecumseh High. This approaching adventure will be a long and, most probably, a tedious journey and in the end it will lead us to either failure or success.

We wish to express our thanks at this time to our parents and teachers who have so willingly worked for us and with us during these past four years. The words of appreciation seem inadequate, but our hearts are filled with gratitude for your sacrifices for us.

Our past four years might well be compared to the slow and constant progress which it requires for any person to attain that goal—success.

Our freshman year signifies his high school education. We are rather confused as to what the whole thing is about but are willing to find out and meanwhile take in all the fun that comes our way. So with this young man. He has no definite idea as to what he intends to do after this is over, but he enjoys himself while he can.

Then we suddenly become Sophomores before we are aware of the fact. We still have our fun, but there are more responsibilities than when we were young freshmen. This year may be compared to the young man’s college life. He becomes more thoughtful as to what his life is to become in the future. He realizes that soon he will have to depend upon himself entirely and to make his own decisions with no one to confide in for mental or financial encouragement.

He graduates and prepares to establish himself in his particular line of business. When we become Juniors we, like him, decide whether or not we shall go on in our preparation for the great adventure.

But we study diligently and earn our reward by becoming dignified seniors. Now we really are on the last lap of our journey. Soon we will rest and then take up a much longer one—the one the young man is now on. He sees his shining aurora in the not too distant future as we see ours. And so we seniors are tonight—“Not at the top but climbing.”
Class History

CHARLOTTE RUSSELL AND DORIS VAN DOREN

1927—As Freshmen we embarked on the good ship "Tecumseh" for our journey up the Raisin River. The officers were: Captain, Ned Rosacrans; First Mate, Esther Howe; Second Mate, Maxwell Smith; Wireless Chief, Ruth Evans; Admiral, Miss Krieger.

Our first party on board was a Halloween Party given by Ruth Evans. The Second Mate turned Cook and fried hamburgers.

We, as the Crew, entertained the upper classes with a program, showing our acting ability.

We were represented in athletics on deck by Max Smith, Edward Reeves, Lawrence Poley, and Ned Rosacrans—tennis champion.

We celebrated our first three months' leave with a picnic—never to return as Freshmen.

1928—Sophomores—Back on board, but—"Freshies" no longer. The officers for this year were: Captain, Max Smith; First Mate, Alden Erlenbush; Second Mate, Ned Rosacrans; Wireless Chief, Charlotte Russell; Admiral, Miss Gillette.

The Ship's Annual Operetta, "Purple Towers," was given, our crew being represented by Marian Colson, leading lady, and Alice Wyman, who received an important part.

The Crew was greatly honored by the Juniors, who allowed us to serve at the Junior-Senior Reception.

We added to our athletes of last year three new men, namely, Fred Mattis, George Mattis, and Gale Hooten.

1930—Juniors—Well, young and foolish no longer—almost supreme. We chose Blue and Silver for the Ship's Colors. Now began our struggle for a Washington Trip—Which we were unfortunate enough not to receive.

We were led in the struggle by: Captain, Charlotte Russell; First Mate, Esther Howe; Second Mate, Marian Colson; Wireless Chief, Edward Reeves; Admiral, Miss Cooper.

A Basketball Tournament was held on board. We won the tournament, placing four men—Ned Rosacrans, Ed Reeves, Max Smith and Gale Hooten.

This year we entertained the Passengers with a Junior Play, "Sunny-Jane," the leading parts being taken by Sybil Guy and Ned Rosacrans.

We also gave a reception in honor of the Seniors. Orley Campbell, general chairman, aided by his committees, made the affair a success. The gymnasium was transformed into a May Basket.

The track meet was won by Tecumseh, the crew placing Captain Ed Reeves, Max Smith, Gale Hooten, Lester Hardy and Ned Rosacrans.

This year Ned Rosacrans won the State Tennis Singles for us.

1931—Seniors—the top at last reached and all privileges accorded to the Senior, ours! The water was rough but was calmed by: Captain, Lester Handy; First Mate, Bruce Bradley; Second Mate, Max Smith; Wireless Chief, Gale Hooten; Admiral, Mr. Gamble.

We decorated for the annual Christmas Party.

Semi-Finals—Three quarters of the way to shore. It was a hard battle but our motto, "Not at the Top but Climbing," carried us through.

An Invitational Tournament was held at Adrian where Captain Ned Rosacrans repeated the honor of being chosen the "Best All Around Floorman." George Pinkerman was chosen on the First All-Tournament team as well as Ned. Smith and Hooten had honorable mention.

The Senior Play, "The Worm," was given. The major parts were taken by Charlotte Russell, Lester Handy, Ruth Evans and Harold Pfeifer.

Another Operetta, "Lelawala," was given on board, the last in which our crew participated. Ruth Evans had the role of "Lelawala."

During our last month on board the Crew was royally entertained by the Juniors. Soon after, the May Party took place, the last one on board ship which we attended as Deck Hands.

At last! Class Night is here; we are nearing shore—landing in one day.

We dock tomorrow to cross the gang-plank where new opportunities await us.
Class Prophecy

NERISSA FOSDICK AND BRUCE BRADLEY

Oh harken! all ye good people
Who have come from far and near;
List to the sayings I tell you
Of the class of the thirty-first year.
In the past the prophecy
Has always, as it seems,
Been handed down to us
Through the prophets' dreams.
But in this modernistic age,
When brains are in their station,
I'm not telling you a dream—
But use your imagination.
So let us clear the crystal
And play the fortune teller;
And let us look into the life
Of every girl and "feller."
And, now, my dear folk,
I'll run the list with you;
I hope that you are satisfied. This is
What they're going through.
And to my classmates I shall say—
Remember, every one,
That this is fun for all,
And really all for fun.
Francis Langthorne is I hear
Selling hair dye not altogether;
He would have to make too much
To keep him in shoe leather.
Madam Ruth Evans
Has just made her debut;
She sings grand opera (you know how)
Oh! some young newlyweds—
It sounds like the cat's mew
This surely is a wow!
You see it's just like this, folks,
Laura's Mrs. Campbell now.
Orville Gove and Woodrow Hunt
Are heroes of the air.
Each have made a three point landing—
Oh girls, please forbear!
Guy Haviland and Elmer Russell—
Oh, what! what shall I say?
For the last ten years it seems
They've only been pitching hay.
Wedding bells are ringing
And with sweethearts on parade,
Came Iva, Lottie and Vivian
With their better halves delayed.
George Pinkerman still parades
With that strut of his so grand;
He recently has been hired
To lead Sousa's great band.
Edge Temple is way out west
Among the lonesome pine;
He rides as well as Robert F. Lee
But only feeds the swine.
Class Prophecy—Continued

Orris Jones still rides around
With Fred Mattis I am told
They're always trying to catch some girls—
They'll do well if they only catch cold.
The Saturday Evening Post—
And a poem in it I see.
It's by our old class poet,
Miss Gertrude Montgomery.
Since Trans-Atlantic flying
Takes more than just one day,
Eliene Allen makes money
With her tourist camp on the way.
Running a mission in Africa
Is quite a dangerous feat;
Alice Wyman first taught the cannibals
That they should not eat meat.
Through help by Charlotte Russell
They came to this decision:
That it's too darned hard
To teach cannibals religion.
Charles Haughn is still at Kroger's.
You see this is not a bluff, for
He will own the whole concern
If he works there long enough
'Tis popular to be married—
'Tis shocking if you're sane—
Arlie, Margaret Hunt, Ruth Anderson
Have kept their maiden name.
Sybil Guy is in Hollywood.
They don't so much as rhyme, but
She'll have her name among the stars
If you will only give her time.
Harold Pfeifer and Edward Reeves
Are down where it's ever cool;
They're seven feet beneath the sod—
They worked too hard in school.
Gale Hooten and Esther Howe,
For whom "Math" was lots of fun,
Have just recently discovered
Two can live as cheap as one.
Here's Zelia Spence and Doris Teufel
Who used to be so shy—
They're married 'cause of their shyness
And now they've several shynesses shy.
A bird is a bird as long as a bird,
In a place where a bird ought to be;
But Marian was Colson one day, so they say,
And now she's a Smith, you see.
Boys, listen to my warning!
It is as it has always been—
Doris Grady is out vamping,
So be very careful, men.
Way down on Chicago Boulevard,
A girl is with valor
Running a little shop. It is
"Maynard's Beauty Parlor."
Dale Cook and Walter Titley,
A couple of country boosters,
Class Prophecy—Continued

Have made a fortune over night—
They can now get eggs from roosters.
Lester Handy's latest book
Rivals those of the late Zane Grey;
He writes of nature and other things—
At least, that's what they say.
Ned Rosacrans, who was
The school's golfing fool,
Is a "pro" at Tam O'Shamer
Where he now runs a school.
Girls aren't the only ones
Who think too much of their worth;
Garth and Duane Hall
Also use a single berth.
Doris Van Doren is a millionaire.
She made a million cool
Selling the pink slips that—
She used to get in school.
Ellen Pennington, the great surgeon,
Has just made a wonderful discovery;
She found the relief for cancer
Without eventual recovery.
George Mattis' interest in
All of the well known stars
Has been shown by his late
Radio message to Mars.
Trans-Pacific flying
Is now a thing of old,
Since Myldred Everett and Lucille Packard
Became aviatrix so bold.
Melvin Murphy of this town
Is one of the leading photographers;
Esther Nye and Edna Daniels
Are two of his best stenographers.
If you hear a lot of squeaking,
When listening to the radio,
Just say it is Miss Shandley
Who's playing an original solo.
Margaret Kempf and Wilda Henry,
Yes, Alice Filter, too,
Even in school it seems
Their boy friends began to woo.
Naomi Beland and Olive Pifer
Are distinguished women I guess;
Both of them are Michigan's Representatives to Congress.
And last, but not least,
Who could it be?—
Yes, Ruth Platt—
An old maid, you see.
And, now, my dear folk,
I've run the list with you;
I hope that you are satisfied. This is
What they're going through.
And to my classmates I still say—
Remember, every one,
That this is fun for all.
And really all for fun.
Giftatory
SYBIL GUY AND ALICE WYMAN

Sponsor—Mr. Wagner

Ruth Anderson—Here is some "Bottled Sunshine" (Cod Liver Oil) so that Ruth will continue to have a sunny disposition.

Elilene Allen—Here is a "Stop and Go" sign for Elilene; we know it will help her in her Safety City.

Naomi Beland—We have some Campfire beads for Naomi, which she can add to her thousands.

Bruce Bradley—A road map for Bruce—to assist him in finding Tipton.

Orley Campbell—We gladly give you this court plaster, Orley. When you find your tongue running away with you, put some on, and remember that "Silence is Golden."

Helen Condit—We understand that Helen likes to hike, and perhaps this ambition might lead her far from home, so we give her this mule.

Marian Colson—Here is a box of cough drops. You will find plenty of Smith Brothers in this, Marian.

Dale Cook—To Dale we give this Palmolive Soap to keep that "Schoolgirl Complexion."

Iva Cummings—Iva, here is a new wrist watch, guaranteed to keep perfect time in giving speed tests.

Edna Daniels—We have a package of safety pins for Edna—they will come in handy in her Child Nursing.

Ruth Evans—Here is a tire for you, Ruth; this is also a Miller.

Myldred Everett—As Myldred appreciates "Art," we give her this picture.

Alice Filter—Here is a ruler for Alice; it should help to discipline her pupils.

Nerissa Fosdick—Here is a bus for Nerissa—she has the driver.

Orville Gove—We give this book to Orville—"How to Become Mentally Superior."

Doris Grady—Doris will surely need this rolling pin as protection in her matrimonial venture.

Sybil Guy—The way to Earl Mack's heart should be via the stomach. By using this cook book properly, you may get it.

Duane Hall—We all know what a fine student Duane is; he must be in need of these glasses by this time.

Garth Hall—Garth can easily reach those high tenor notes with this step ladder.

Lester Handy—We crown Lester "King of the Actors" with this crown.

Arlie Haviland—As Arlie appears before the public a great deal, she will surely need this book—"How to Overcome Nervous Troubles."

Guy Haviland—Here is some Sta-Put for Guy's unruly hair.

Wilda Henry—We give Wilda this sunbonnet to shade her fair complexion from the sun.

Laura Holloway—We donate this can of Campbell's Pork and Beans so that she and Orley can live more economically.

Charles Haughn—We give this can of red paint to Charles to be used in putting a Red Front on his new house so that Bernice and he will feel at home.

Gale Hooten—No matter what Gale has to do, he will do it well, and he should have a good motto to put over his desk. "We suggest and offer—And Howe."

Esther Howe—Esther, here is an owl to remind you of "Hoot."

Margaret Hunt—Margaret, here are some sheep shears; keep your hair cut to the customary shortness.

Woodrow Hunt—Woodrow, use this can of 3 in 1 oil; it will keep all joints from squeaking.

Orris Jones—We know Orris is always chewing gum, so here's an extra package.

Margaret Kempf—We have a pitch fork for Margaret; it will pitch her voice up higher.
Francis Langthorne—We know how well Francis likes to argue and hunt, so here's a gun to hunt facts.

Lottie Lewis—Lottie was worried so much about what we were going to give her, so here's a box—chuck full of—space.

Frederick Mattis—Here is a paper of pins—make good use of them when you feel a bit drowsy, Frederick.

George Mattis—You can make a match with Eloise if you use this dye and color chart, George.

Mildred Maynard—Here is a box of Quaker Oats for Mildred so that she may become a stronger Quaker.

Vivian McClure—As a stenographer, Vivian can use this powder puff to captivate
Bond salesmen.

Gertrude Montgomery—We give this bottle of Soothing Syrup to Gertrude. It will protect the children in her Physical Training classes against her temper.

Melvin Murphy—Take this pillow with you wherever you go, Melvin. Then you can sleep to your heart's content.

Esther Nye—As Esther wears out so many slippers in dancing, we give her these soles.
We hope they last longer than the others did.

Lucile Packard—We donate the first frying pan to the McConnell home. Polish it well, Lucile, so that it won't get "rusty."

Ellen Pennington—Since Ellen is going to be one of the hard working girls, perhaps
"The Adventures of Tillie the Toiler" will help her.

Harold Pfeifer—Here's a spoon, Harold; it will remind you of your spooning days in
T. H. S.

Olive Pifer—Olive must surely be in need of a new supply of jokes by this time. Here are some that did not come off the Ark.

George Pinkerman—George, we are giving you this skull for your medical course in college, when studying the structure of the skull.

Ruth Platt—We notice that "little Ruthie" carries anything from stove wood to chewing gum in her purse, so this laundry bag might be more convenient.

Edward Reeves—We have an airplane for Ed, and we advise him to read Lindbergh's book; it may help him to realize his lofty ideas.

Ned Rosacrans—Ned can use this wheelbarrow—we know he's good at 'wheelin'.

Charlotte Russell—Here is a calendar for Charlotte; it will add another year to her youthful age.

Elmer Russell—Here is a sponge for Elmer; this will absorb his hearty laughter.

Clara Shandley—This bagpipe will furnish music for Clara when she dances the Highland Fling.

Max Smith—Max ought to be grateful for this pacifier the next time he helps Min take care of children.

Zella Spence—This picture of a ham will remind you of that other "ham"—your dearly beloved neighbor—Hamilton Fetterman.

Edgerton Temple—Edgerton really deserves a reward for his bluffing in high school.
Accept this hard earned medal, Edge.

Doris Teufel—Here's a new Ford, Doris. You surely need one by this time.

Walter Titley—Carry this talcum powder with you, Walter, and use it whenever you feel a blush coming on.

Doris Van Doren—Doris can use this wave-set on the victim when she has a beauty shop of her own.

Alice Wyman—The last on the list is Alice—modest and earnest—hard working Alice.
She along with Sybil Guy worked and sweat to think up and prepare these valued gifts. Alice has a sweet voice but it lacks volume. If she will eat this onion her voice will be quite strong.
Class Will
LAURA HOLLOWAY AND MAXWELL SMITH

We, the class of 1931, of the village of Tecumseh, county of Lenawee, and state of Michigan, being of full age and of sound mind and memory, do hereby make and declare this to be our last will and testament, and do hereby revoke all other previous wills and statements, as follows:

Charlotte Russell wills her daily package of Dentyne gum to the remaining students in T. H. S. Fight over it. We did.

Ned Rosacrans wills his athletic ability to Ham Fetterman.

The class of 1931 wills the ability to raise money to put out an annual to the Junior class.

Woodrow Hunt wills his ability at bluffing to Bob Hanna.

The following will their shoes: Francis Langthorn to Dale Colson; Bruce Bradley to Clayton Greenwald.

Edward Reeves leaves his over-abundance of knowledge to Harold Moon. May he make good use of it, and like Ed, graduate ahead of time.

Fred Mattis, Orley Campbell, George Pinkerman, Lottie Lewis, and Nerissa Fosdick are leaving their past eager attentiveness in classes to on-coming Freshmen.

Mildred Maynard leaves her wonderful school spirit to anyone who can use it to as good an advantage as she did.

Esther Howe wills her pull with the faculty to any lucky Freshman.

My word! Here's something interesting. Doris Van Doren bequeaths her privilege of going with big football stars to Mary Smith, who already has a good "start" (of course you know we all mean Bill).

Gale Hooten gives his right to wander around the building at all times to any eligible young Sophomore.

George Pinkerman is giving his unlimited amount of smiles and dimples to Eugene Pangle.

Edge Temple leaves his permanent wave to anyone who desires it.

To anyone who may qualify, we bequeath Min Colson's record of skipping a whole year without giving the same excuse for absence twice. We should like to nominate Bill Haight and Johnny Anderson.

We bequeath Ruth Evans' gift of gab to Elizabeth Kidman.

The Seniors will their entire ambition to John Starkey.

The distinction of having the greatest number of boy friends formerly held by Sybil Guy, is assigned to Glenola Whelan with admonition to handle them with more gentleness than Sybil has done in the past.

We bequeath Harold Pfeifer's title of handsomest cave man to Earl Mack.

Orley Campbell leaves his ability to argue with Miss Brothwell to anyone who takes Commercial Law.

The Senior Class hereby gives and bequeathes to the Junior Class all remaining property, both real and personal, wherever it may be found, including a large sum of money in the Tecumseh State Bank.

Subscribed to and witnessed in the presence of each other:

Class Song
RUTH EVANS AND GARTH HALL
Memories of our year as Freshmen,
Tonight seem very clear
Even though not always pleasure
The end we do not fear
Each of us had trials to conquer
Our ideals high and true,
To strive to win though view be hazed
Success our only clue

Though tonight our ways parting,
From the silver and the blue,
Our thoughts again returning
To the school days we once knew
We will love the sweet pea ever,
For it's fragrance and it's hue
While the Indian stands defender,
Of the Silver and the Blue.

Class Poem
GERTRUDE MONTGOMERY
The light of the old day flickered.
Passed into darkness, returned, then wavered away.
A sense of quietude possessed us,
How long must we wait for returning day?
Was it fear of the unknown before us, that made us tremble, the trials of life which lay waiting, waiting in the shadows?
Or was it the thrill of some great ambition
into which we longed to put our soul?
A sense of wonder possessed us,
Could it be far to our goal?
The dark wavered, and, as lighter and lighter it grew,
In colors of rose and gold,
A long, broad highway before us lay,
Leading wherever we choose to go.
Behold! to the class of thirty-one
It was the dawn of a new day!
Valedictory

NED ROSACRANS

"Not at the top, but climbing." This phrase, selected as the class motto, we have been formulating for the past decade, though little did we realize the fact. When we were in the elementary grades we were at the lowest extremity of the ladder, just beginning our respective careers. Since that time, year after year has passed and we find ourselves today at the crossroads of life and midway up the ladder. Our single and only climax is at hand and in the very near future we must make decisions concerning our choice of vocations.

At each rung of the ladder, all through our school life, we have found the constant encouragement of our parents and it is to them that we owe a debt of gratitude for their diligence in leading us up, ever striving to correct our faults so as to force us to climb straight up and not at an angle. And there are other factors which have determined our paths. We shall not forget the efforts of the teachers of T. H. S.; for their cooperation has been tireless and everlasting. All of us recall instances when only dark days appeared in the offing and the outlook was anything but bright. Who remedied these defects? Your first reply might be "friends" but after a little deliberation, you would answer that one of the faculty had cleared you of troubles and inspired you to continue, ever pointing to a high ideal.

In reality, we are not graduating! We are but climbing another rung of that ladder of life, after having hurdled one of the first great obstacles confronting us. These last four years necessitated a large step and we all took it with flying colors. Let us regard the matter merely as paying a deserving compliment to our parents, teachers, and friends and an inspiration to ourselves.

Even though everlasting memories of high school days will oft return, we must also point to the future. Let us regard our graduation as a pause on the ladder, the time when we look backward to the things we have accomplished, and to the future for what we shall do. When difficulties and hardships confront us, we shall be prepared to meet them, for we realize that success lies at the top of the ladder and we have our preliminary training which permits us to look the world straight in the face. We can consider this understood preparation as our most cherished desire. Let us always strive higher at each success bearing in mind the memorable words of Browning who claims, "A man's reach should exceed his grasp—or what's a heaven for?"

Classmates: As we meet here tonight for the last time as an assembled group, let us go out from the portals of this school bearing out and fulfilling our class motto, "Not at the top, but climbing."

President's Farewell

LESTER A. HANDY

Dear Classmates:

We have won! For twelve long but pleasant years, we have striven to climb to the top of the educational ladder. For twelve years we have worked as a unit—as a machine. We have shared our pleasures and pains together; we have been comrades of the blood. Tonight we stand as the symbol of success—at the threshold of the world. We are at the first landing, the first resting place—the first point within sight of our hearts' desire. And now at one of the happiest moments in our lives we must separate—go on our way alone—end all our play—our joy together. May you not hesitate nor falter, now that you have reached this point, but, sighting your goal, head for it like a homing pigeon with all the fight, the drive, the courage that body and soul can give. And remember this, "A winner never quits and a quitter never wins."

My friends, having been your president during the past year has been a pleasure and never ending source of pride to me. Your consideration and assistance has been of the greatest help and has been received with the kindest appreciation. Therefore, as my last official act, allow me to wish you all every success, every happiness, and the greatest future this world can offer. I have spoken from my heart and hope my advice is good. What more can I do or say than bid you all—farewell!

The 1930-1931 Calendar

SEPTEMBER—
2 Some scramble! Freshies all excited while we dignified Seniors were calm. Oh well! they'll acquire it.
7 Coach Wilson commenced putting the football boys through their daily dozen.
17 Walter Morden started the year out right by keeping Miss Beck company for thirty minutes after school. He is that way.
19-20 Teacher's Institute! What a break for us and the teachers can have a chance at lectures giving them a chance to be pupils for a couple of days while we enjoyed the "Fair."
27 Big game with Dundee. All ours! 8 to 6.

OCTOBER—
8 Pepperettes served a Chop Suey supper to help pay for new suits purchased this year. Chop sticks were the only lacking articles!
14 Miss Beck showed the pictures that she took while in France last summer. Very interesting.
17 Big bonfire at Athletic Park. Everyone had a grand time and "Ag" accommodated us by leading a few yells. Big pep meeting of the year.
22 Teacher's Institute at Lansing.
30 The Freshmen had their first party tonight and it was quite a peaceable affair. Where were all our peppy Seniors?
31 Mother and Son Banquet in gymnasium. Pepperettes served in new suits. Gave Max Smith a chance to star in capacity of Orator.

NOVEMBER—
5 Rotary visited school today and marveled at Mr. Dustin's prize assembly the sixth hour. Why not? It's mostly Seniors and as far as we know they all acted dignified.
11 Shame on you, Helen Rosacrans, we thought you were good but Miss Beck likes company.
19 Teachers Club met tonight and had a feed which they prepared themselves. As a result we suffered the next day!
20 Leidlaw's gave supper for single teachers tonight. We're wondering how Miss Trebilecock happens in at the married teachers supper, but queer things do happen.
30 Ed Reeves showed up at nine o'clock again today.

DECEMBER—
12 Home Economics play. And can George Pinkerman make love?
14 Basketball here at 7:00 with Britton. A good starter for our boys.
19 Blissfield Normal here. They beat us by two points.
20 Christmas Party. We decorated all day and how Orley Campbell does like to cut trees for farmers!
23 Christmas Cantata which consisted of 125 voices. Ned Rosacrans showed his ability as a vocalist and not so bad!
24 'Twas the night before Christmas—and here we are still in school.

JANUARY—
5 Back to the old grind.
9 We played our county seat rivals and lost 27 to 21.
16 Lost our first county game at Hudson. 10 to 6. Looks bad for title hopes.
21-22 Finals.
23 Nosed out Morenci here by two points.
30 A big day for the Indians. We beat Blissfield in a great battle, 10 to 9.

FEBRUARY—
6 Big game with Dundee and victory is all ours. 34 to 13.
7 Smitty and Min had another fight, but they've done pretty well this week.
9 The School Master's Club was held at Sand Creek.
16 Big game with St. Joe, which we took by a score of 25 to 13.
20 We met with the "Beet Weeder's" tonight and they beat us in a hard game, 20 to 21.
24 Senior try-outs for play.
27 We rimmed Hudson 25 to 16.
MARCH—
2 Seniors started practicing for “The Worm” to be presented on March 20.
9 Snowbound! 167 students out of school. They ought to close school but you know our superintendent!
10 Miss Beck and Miss Morlock were out today with the flu. Wonder who'll write their excuses?
16 Miss Brazee came to take Miss Beck’s position as she was forced to quit on account of a nervous breakdown.
19 “The Worm” was presented this afternoon for the benefit of students. What a bunch of boys in the assembly!
20 Play presented tonight and is Edge Temple a ‘said’ lawyer!
25 Annual Staff Meeting and we decided to give Camp Publishing Company work on Annual.
27 Last day before vacation and I guess by the actions that everyone thinks that this is a legal holiday.

APRIL—
6 No lessons! What a fine feeling, despite the spring fever.
9 Group pictures were taken today for Annual and a fire drill was another thrilling adventure for us all.
14 Everyone had the “Spring Fever” and fever for skipping school too haven’t they, Eddie?
17 Junior play, “Whimsy.”
21 Everyone is beginning to study a little more. Won’t be long before finals!
29 April showers are nearly over, and so is our school year.

MAY—
4 Dignified Seniors are having an exciting time hanging May Baskets.
10 Well, it won’t be long now.
17 Track meet at Ypsilanti.
27 Junior-Senior Reception and very fine—thanks to the Juniors!
29 The May Party, a big affair and oh! what fun.
31 Baccalaureate Sermon.

JUNE—
3 Class Day.
4 Commencement.
5 School closes.
6 Alumni Banquet.

The Debating Team

Top Row, Left to Right—Harold Daisher, Dorothy Trebilcock (Coach), Orville Gove.

First Row—Gertrude Montgomery, Ruth Holmes.

The question for debate this year was: "Resolved: That National Chain Grocery Stores Operating in the State of Michigan Are Detrimental to the People of the State." The team, composed of Harold Daisher, Gertrude Montgomery, Ruth Holmes, and Edward Brazee as alternate, took both sides of the question. Orville Gove served as time-keeper. The result of the season was:

Second Row—Charles Bigelow, Hershel Taylor, Robert Grigg, Dean Cook, Ralph Daniels, George Pinkerman, Maurice Feight.

One of the most active student organizations of the school is the Future Farmers' Club, a local chapter of the National Organization—the Future Farmers of America. Some of the club's activities have been sponsoring a Community Fair, sending some of the senior members to the Chicago Live Stock Exposition, and putting on a Father and Son Banquet for its members.
Junior-Senior Reception

The Juniors entertained the Seniors of 1930 at a delightful reception in the High School Gymnasium May 23, 1930.

The gymnasium was prettily decorated in the combined colors of the two classes, rose, blue and white. The orchestra stand was designed to represent a May basket.

The banquet was served by the Sophomores after which the following program was presented:

Toastmaster ....................................................Ned Rosserans
Address of Welcome ........................................Miss Cooper
Presentation of May Basket to Seniors Charlotte Russell
Acceptance ..................................................Berford Barber
Vocal Solo ....................................................Miss Morlock
“Don't Die on Third” ........................................Mr. Wilson
Specialty Numbers ........................................Joan Hanna, Clara Shandley

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Senior-Junior Picnic

The Seniors entertained the Juniors of 1930 at a picnic on the lawn of the Willow Grove Hotel at Wampers Lake on June 12, 1930.

A picnic supper was served by the Seniors after which Miss Beck took motion pictures of the group. Also boating and swimming were enjoyed by the two classes. This was the last time the two classes would be together so the most was made of the occasion.

Annual Christmas Party

A delightful Christmas party was given by the Seniors Friday evening, December 20, 1930. The gymnasium was decorated in Christmas colors—streamers were draped from the center of the gymnasium to the sides and lighted Christmas trees were placed in various places around the gymnasium.

The Grand March was led by Esther Howe and Gale Hooten, after which Robert Rhinehart of Toledo tap danced.

Perry's orchestra was engaged for the occasion.

Refreshments were served by Vivian McClure, Ruth Platt and Iva Cummings. The students enjoyed dancing from 8 to 12.

Music Department

The Glee Clubs presented a Christmas Cantata, “On to Bethlehem.” They have also given different programs this year for the P. T. A., Rotary and Monday Clubs. On April 8th the Girls' Glee Club entered a Music Festival at Adrian. This year's operetta, “Lelawala,” was presented May 15.
Football

The Tecumseh High School football team had a successful season by winning three games, tying two, and losing four. The team loses the services of Captain Smith, Rosacrans, Hooten, Pinkerman, and Handy.

First Row—Jean Quinn Holmes (Coach), Elizabeth Sutton, Phyllis Edwards, Olive Pifer, Bessie Kozel, Bernice Matyka.

Girls' Sports

Much interest has been taken by the high school girls in sports this year, therefore making the activities very successful. Last fall the usual interclass hockey tournament was played—the Sophomores being the victors. Following was the volleyball tournament also won by the Sophomores. Probably the most exciting event was basketball, which for four consecutive years has been won by Senior girls. The scores were as follows:

Freshmen, 3; Sophomores, 7.
Juniors, 7; Seniors, 12.
Sophomores, 4; Seniors, 12.

There was also a large turn-out for baseball.

The girls themselves have refereed all their own games this year. This not only gives the girl in charge more experience in conducting a game but also tends to create their classmates. For participating in these major games (and also other sports such as swimming, hiking, skating, archery, and horseback riding) points were earned towards letters. The following Seniors have received girls' A. T. A.'s this year: better sportsmanship on the part of the players by learning to accept the decisions of Eilene Allen, Ruth Anderson, Olive Pifer, Arlie Haviland, Naomi Beland, Alice Filter and Gertrude Montgomery, while many under classmen were also awarded letters.
Max Smith: "Wise men are always in doubt; only idiots are sure of their cause."
Min Colson: "Are you sure of that?"
Max Smith: "Yes, absolutely sure."

Bill Britton: "What is the best way to make the hours go fast?"
Mary Smith: "Use the spur of the moment."

Harold Moon hasn't a head for figures according to Mr. Gamble, but he surely has an eye for them.

Mr. Gamble: "Say, Gale, what are you running for?"
Gale Hooten: "I'm going to stop a fight."
Mr. Gamble: "Who's fighting?"
Gale: "Just me and Esther."

Ed Reeves: "Every time I kiss you it makes me a better man."
Phyllis Jones: "Well, you don't need to try and get to heaven in one night."

Miss Cooper: "Orley, give me the principal parts of the verb 'die.'"
Orley: "Die, dead, buried."
Miss Cooper: "Now give me the principal parts of 'love.'"
Orley: "Love, married, divorced."

Bruce Bradley: "Why are girls lips like a book?"
George Pinkerman: "I know, red only between meals."

A POEM DEDICATED TO PHYLLIS EDWARDS BY GUS WRIGHT
Phyllis had a wad of gum
It was as white as snow
And everywhere that Phyllis went
That gum was sure to go.
She took the gum to school one day
Which was against the rule
Miss Cooper took that gum away
And chewed it after school.

Miss Phelps: "What a pity it is that handsome men are always conceited."
Harold Moon: "Not always, little girl, I am not."
Bill Britton: "I'll get a revolver and blow my brains out."
Mary Smith: "How extravagant; get some snuff and sneeze."

Mr. Dustin: "How's this Edge Temple just stopped and told me that you were sick and couldn't come to class today."
Orley Campbell: "The poor fish, he shouldn't have told you until tomorrow."

Bob Hanna (at Pete's): "Say, there's a fly in my ice cream."
Pete: 'Serves him right, let him freeze!"

Tommy Hamilton: "Hello, how are you?"
Helen Pinkerman: "Just as good as you are."

Doris Van Doren: "Please help the Poor Working Girls' Home."
Gus Wright: "I'll be glad to. How far do they live?".

Doc Morden: "A fellow just told me I looked like you."
Bob Hanna: "Where is he? I'd like to knock his block off."
Doc: "I killed him."

Wilson Haight: "What is this 'icejam' they talk about?"
Lorraine Herring: "Oh! that's what the Eskimos eat on their bread."

Bruce Bradley: "Phyllis Jones paints and powders a great deal, doesn't she?"
George Pinkerman: "Yes, when you kiss her it's just like eating marshmal-lows."
Max Smith: “Didn’t I get my last shave at this shop?”
Barber: “I think not, sir. We have only been in business two years.”

Elizabeth Sutton: “What do you think of the Ouija Board?”
Mary Smith: “I’ve never stayed at that hotel.”

Esther Howe: ‘How is it that you stand lower in your studies in January than in December?’
Gale Hooten: “Oh, everything is marked down after the holidays.”

Miss Trebilcock: “Who was the greatest general in France?”
Jimmie Beardsley: “General Foch.”
Miss T.: “Now, who was a German general?”
Jim: “Lindenburg.”
Miss T.: “Very good. Who was the American general?”
Jim (thinking very hard): “General Motors.”

It was during the rush hour. The little man suddenly thought of pickpockets. Thrusting his hand into his pocket he found another hand ahead of him. “Get out you thief.”
“Get out yourself,” said the other.
“Say,” interrupted a third, “if you two guys will get your hands out of my pocket I’ll get off here.”

Miss Brothwell noticed Elmer Russell having a terrible struggle to fasten his coat, so she went to his assistance. As she struggled with the fastening, she said, “Did your mother hook this coat for you?”
“No,” replied Elmer, “she bought it.”

Ned Rosacrans: “I was with Glenola in the library last night when the lights went out.”
Max Smith: “What did you do?”
Ned: “Nothing.”
Max: ‘What’s the matter, couldn’t you find her?”

ETIQUETTE

Academic
1. If you are sleepy carry a pillow to class.
2. When in class ask all your questions between the two bells; you may not have a lesson the next day.
3. Hold up your hand and snap your fingers if the teacher stumbles over a question you know.
4. Always laugh loudly when the teacher makes a wise crack; these things do help.
5. Write your name on the desk. It will be valuable when you become president.
6. Your time in study hall may be usefully employed by writing letters.
7. All worthwhile students should do everything in their power to turn recitations into full sessions.
8. No well bred student snores during classes as this will destroy the repose of the other scholars.

Social
1. When at the dining table never ask for anything you can safely reach.
2. Keep your elbows on the table and talk with your mouth full.
3. Never pass a girl on the street without making at least one bright remark.
