In Memoriam

Helen Kimball Rosacrans
1916-1933

As cloister bells from towers o’er high
Give tones that linger far and nigh,
I seem to see a face, to hear
A step, a voice so soft and clear.
How pleasant for us to recall
Sweet memories, so dear to all.

—Minnie I. Russell
And it came to pass in the year of 1930, a mighty throng of 82 candidates, entered as Freshmen into the first inning of our great educational baseball game of dear old T. H. S. In choosing our leaders for this year, we elected Donald Filter, president; Helen Rosacrans, vice-president; Maxine Welch, secretary-treasurer; and Twila Pentecost, Student-council representative. On the home-stretch we chose Miss Phelps as our coach and adviser. The final triumphant score of the first inning took place when the last strike made the run to Sand Lake for the class picnic.

With time out for rain, from June until September, 1931, we soon began our second inning as Sophomores. It was at the beginning of this year that we found we had other outstanding baseball players. Therefore an election took place with the following results: William Hanna, president; Charles McLaughlin, vice-president; Jean Crittenden, secretary-treasurer; and Helen Rosacrans as representative to Student-council and Miss Eaton as coach and adviser. We believe that everyone is better acquainted with Miss Eaton as Mrs. Ed. Reeves. Hits of that inning were our well-prepared debates in English classes and numerous social affairs. We were greatly honored this year by serving at the Junior-Senior Reception. This inning ended with two strikes and three balls, the fourth ball walking us into our Junior year.

Months passed and it was time to use double-duty energy, as responsibility fell upon each individual shoulder rather than just a few. So in the year of 1932, we elected our new baseball team with Helen Rosacrans, president; Eugene Crane, vice-president; Donald Filter, secretary-treasurer. As Student-council representative we chose Phyllis Palmer and as coach and adviser, Miss Trebilcock. This year our team suffered severe bereavement by the loss of one of our most beloved players, Helen Rosacrans, who had so faithfully and thoughtfully served her team. As time passes her memory ever remains in the hearts of her classmates. Eugene Crane become president and Ronald Filter was elected to take his place.

The Junior Play, “Little Miss Tatters.” was presented May 5th
Our Junior-Senior Reception was held May 10th.
Also under the supervision of the Junior class the May Party was given on May 12th.

Our class sponsored the first public school dance on November 11th.
In September, 1933, we returned to school with eager hearts to take the name of Seniors. The number of players was reduced this year, leaving 58 to prepare for graduation. Our officers this year are: Eugene Crane, president; Fred Kopke, vice-president; Bernice Kempf, secretary-treasurer and Raynor Van Valkenburg as Student-council representative. Our faithful Junior Adviser, Miss Trebilcock was chosen again this year for coach.

On March 16th, the first great event of the Senior year was the play, “The Heart Exchange.” Under the excellent supervision of Mrs. Service and Mr. Dustin.

In conclusion, we the Seniors of 1934, would express our faith in the ability of the class to make home runs, for out of a class of 82, 58 have reached the goal set four years ago.
CLASS WILL
By FERN LUCE, IVAN HUNT

We, the Seniors of one thousand, nine hundred and thirty-four, sound in body and in mind (supposedly) hereby bequeath all our duties as Seniors to that ignorant and rebellious group of students commonly called the Juniors.

In this last document we in preparation for the future of ourselves and those to follow us in the never-ending trail of learning here solemnly swear and affirm this to be our last and only statement:

We bequeath—

Art. I, Sec 1
To the Faculty we give our sincere appreciation for their diligent tutoring and leadership during the past four years of our school life.

Art. I, Sec. 2
To the Juniors we give the dignified and honored position of being the Seniors of next year, may you take this seriously and do as well as we—if possible.

Art. II, Sec. 1
I. To the Student body.
   I. Bob Horn leaves to Donald Benedict his Superiority complex.
   II. Edward Brazee presents his track ability to Clyde Burleson. May you use it to great advantage, "Cud."
   III. To Gibbs Barber, Kenneth French wills a portion of his six feet two inches.
   IV. Twila Pentecost leaves her gum chewing ability to Sally Heilman. Don’t let Mr. Dustin catch you, Sally.
   V. To Johnnie Boldon is willed those scarlet blushes of Richard Boyd, although he doesn’t need them.
   VI. Raymond McConnell leaves to Maurice Evans that record breaking number of 9th hours.
   VII. Lee Richardson leaves his ability to “put on the dog” to his brother Roy. We hope it doesn’t run in the family.
   VIII. To Frank Harris is left the ability to “break that line.” Gene Grane wants you to do as good a job as he.
   IX. Don Filter leaves his love for one girl to James Buck, we hope you will settle down, Jim.
   X. Fred Kopke leaves his loquacious talent to James Tonneberger. We hold no hopes for you now, James.
   XI. To Merval Mattis is left those big feet of Maurice Greenwald’s. You would be quite a man if you hadn’t all gone to feet and ears, Merval.
   XII. Margaret Williamson leaves to Loren Avery a portion of her ability in mathematics. She thinks you can use it.
   XIII. George Elliott wills his Irish temper to Henry Hamilton—although he doesn’t need it.
   XIV. Glen Mumaw leaves to “Curley” Cole those quiet ways of his—don’t you think he needs them?
   XV. Marian Gregg leaves her wonderful Home Ec. ability to all those girls who cannot cook. She must sympathize with the boys of the world.

We, the Senior Class, hereby appoint Miss Dorothy Trebilcock to execute this last will and statement, and on the last sheet do hereby affix our signature and seal.

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1934
FERN LUCE,
IVAN HUNT,

CLASS PROPHECY
By HAZEL BOYCE, EDWARD BRAZEE

Scene: Witch seated at the boiling pot stirring

Edward—What do you foresee for the graduating class of ’34 of the Tecumseh High school?
Witch—I shall stir three times and from the pot shall arise many strange things. Here’s Eugene Crane, your class president. He has been crowned with a laurel wreath at the Olympic Games. Ah—here is Fern Luce—she has become one of the most successful novelists. In the vapor I see Henry Kempf. He is now President of one of the leading air mail lines.

Edward—What do you foresee for Warren Puffer?
Witch—I shall stir deep for Warren Puffer. Wait! I see him as a famous millionaire toothpick king. He seems to be backing a Broadway hit produced by Herbert Morden, starring Bud McLaughlin, famous crooner and also Billy Hanna, comedian. Included in the chorus are Jennie Hoag, Vera Ternes, Evelyn Matney, and Marion Prentiss.

Edward—It seems strange that none of our good looking class are in the movies?
Witch—Two were successful—Lee Richardson is the favorite cowboy actor and Raymond McConnell is screen’s greatest lover. Behold—appears Ronald Filter—now owner of the “Brees” chain stores. Richard Boyd is proprietor of a beauty shop in New York. His assistants are Irene Packard, Ivaletta Murphy, and Marguerite Smith. George Elliott who is a real estate agent in Florida, has sold a business block to Donelda Stone and Frances Wilson for starting a pet shop.

Edward—Do you suppose there is anything in the future for Gene Pangle?
Witch—Ah, yes, Eugene is now a famous chemistry professor at Harvard. Margaret Williamson is traveling abroad studying social conditions. She seems to have a partner, Twila Pentecost. Robert Horn is now manager of the Mechanical Arts Department of the automobile factory owned by Ivan Hunt.

Edward—I have often wondered about one—Dale Colson.
Witch—Yes, Dale is a life saver at Long Island.

Along in the same vision I see Bernice Kempf—she is a very successful housewife in the Newberg suburbs.

Edward—Is there anything you can see for Ellen La Bounty?
Witch—I shall stir deep—Three times shall I stir before Ellen’s future can be seen. Yes—I see—Ellen is president of the Women’s Anti-Saloon league. Roberta Collins and Dorothy Allen are teachers of foreign languages at Tecumseh University recently founded by Messrs. Poucher and Rutherford. Bud Leighton’s inherited fortune is deposited at the Tecumseh State Savings Bank where Fred Kopke is President of the Board of Directors.

Edward—Fred always did like to manage big business—but tell me of Richard Williamson.
Witch—Richard Williamson has invented a new cream for removal of freckles. This was proven a success by his first patient—Kenneth French. Irene Kriekard and Phyllis Palmer who have always had a fascination for publicity and notorious distinction shall be contestants in the world-wide beauty contest.
Raynor Van Valkenburg, a great scientist, is traveling through the United States orating on the subject, "Where Does the Light Go When One Turns Off the Switch?"
Elwyn Green is the owner of a fruit farm south of Tecumseh.
Marion Grigg is proprietor of the "Cozy Cafe" and is very successful.
Marie Cole is a model for Paris' smartest style shop proprietored by Ruby Bachtal.

Edward—There is another of which tell me—William Condit.

Witch—Yes, William and Maurice Greenwald have become interested in politics and are now running for senators on the socialist ticket.
Effie Robison is a traveling saleswoman for the great Palmolive Soap Co. advertising the great school girl complexion soap.
Donald Filter is making good use of his athletics as coach of the University of Newberg.
Eldon Condit is writing a book on "How to be a Successful Bachelor."
Reva Fieght is making good use of her commercial course as a very competent stenographer.
Erwin Richardson is still at his old job making alibis and can give them as good as ever.

Witch and Edward—Vanish!

GIFTATORY

By MARIAN GRIGG, RAYNOR VAN VALKENBURG

Marian:
Raynor Van Valkenburg, imagine meeting you at the World's Fair! And what a lovely novelty shop you have. That reminds me, I must take some souvenirs home for our classmates. Can you help me?

Raynor:
Here is a desk that would be nice for our president, Gene Crane. All presidents need a desk and we hope he will be as successful a president of everything he undertakes as he has been of our class.

Marian:
This magic pad would be good for Edward Brazee. He won't waste as much paper drawing with this as he did in high school.

Raynor:
Here is something for Donald and Ronald Filter. A tie for each so we can distinguish one from the other.
Marian:
I have heard that Herbert Morden is always borrowing someone’s pencil. Here is one that will last a long time and will be easy to find.

Raynor:
If Eldon Condit stands on this sheet of paper, he may be as tall as the rest of us.

Marian:
Irene Packard may be able to use this stationery. She must be nearly out of it after writing so many notes in high school.

Raynor:
This fire truck makes me think of Bud McLaughlin. We’ll give him this so he can continue his career as a fireman.

Marian:
Here is just the thing for Margaret Williamson, a printing set. She ought to know how to use it after her experience as Editor-in-Chief of the Annual.

Raynor:
That box of candy makes me think of Frances Wilson and the candy sales she used to conduct.

Marian:
Let’s give this gun to Ivan Hunt and hope he will be as good a marksman as he was in the Senior Play.

Raynor:
Henry Kempf likes airplanes so well I would like to give him one so he can soar to the height of his ambitions in aeronautics.

Marian:
Do you remember how Evelyn Matney used to blush so? This mask would be good for her so she can hide behind it when she has to blush.

Raynor:
This sponge would be good to absorb Hazel Boyce’s giggle.

Marian:
I think Harlan Boyce might appreciate this new car to replace his old one.

Raynor:
I heard that Bill Hanna likes to sing “Lovin Sam” thru a megaphone. Let’s give him this one so he can entertain all of us.

Marian:
I don’t think Robert Horn has had enough honor for his drawings so we’ll give him this loving cup.

Raynor:
This paper weight might be of some use to Maurice Greenwald. He can put it on his head to keep him from growing any taller.

Marian:
I think this derrick would please Phyllis Palmer because it might remind her of a certain “crane.”

Raynor:
Dorothy Allen says she is going to be a teacher. Maybe she can use this ruler in two or three different ways.

Marian:
I heard William Condit tried to grow a moustache a while ago and did not have much success with it. Maybe this bottle of hair tonic would help.
Raynor:
As Dale Colson is quite an athlete and letterman we’ll give him this mail box to keep his letters in.

Marian:
This memory book might be nice for Irene Kriekard to record all her heart breaking and romantic experiences during her Senior year.

Raynor:
This calendar is for Marie Cole. There are enough dates there for a whole year.

Marian:
I would certainly hate to see Richard Boyd get old so here is a bottle of water from the Fountain of Youth.

Raynor:
Warren Puffer wants a new car so let’s give him this literature on them and he may make his choice.

Marian:
Ruby Bachtal may get a few ideas out of the Good Housekeeping Magazine that she can use in the future.

Raynor:
As a stenographer, Marguerite Smith could use this powder puff to captivate bond salesmen.

Marian:
Vera Ternes has asked for a good looking boy friend and this picture is the nearest we can come to it.

Raynor:
Carbon paper will be of great service to Fred Kopke in getting his work done. All he has to do is put it under someone else’s paper and lo! he has his lessons.

Marian:
There are three people in our class that deserve medals for their looks. Ellen La Bounty is the best looking blonde, Erwin Richardson the best looking brunette and Bud Leighton, the best looking red-head.

Raynor:
Raymond McConnell keeps quite late hours so maybe this alarm clock will tell him when to go home, if his girl is bashful.

Marian:
There is an old saying, “The way to a man’s heart is thru’ his stomach”—maybe Roberta Collins could use this cook book.

Raynor:
I don’t believe Elwyn Green has decided yet what profession he will take up so here is a college book which may help him.

Marian:
Perhaps Marian Prentiss could use these house plans.

Raynor:
Richard Williamson is so tall that he obstructs the view of others. Here’s a little chair for him to sit on so some one else can see for awhile.

Marian:
It would ease Twila Pentecost’s mind if we gave her permits to get back to class after she skips school.
Raynor:
And that reminds me. I think a list of excuses would help Virginia Smith in skipping school, also. She won't have to bother to think one up.

Marian:
Here's a package of cabbage seeds for Arthur Fritz so he can get ahead.

Raynor:
Here is some spectacles for Glen Mumaw so he can see his way out of the depression.

Marian:
This map will help Bernice find her way around the Atlantic and Pacific.

Raynor:
George Elliott has always been the biggest kicker in our class so we'll give him this mule to do his kicking for him.

Marian:
If we give Gene Pangle a Lollypop, it may keep him quiet for awhile.

Raynor:
This would come in handy for Ivaletta; a rat trap so she can catch a husband.

Marian:
Maxine Welch hitch-hikes to Adrian quite a bit. Maybe a car would help her out.

Raynor:
Here is a whistle for Burton Poucher to use to call his dog whose name is "Pluto."

Marian:
I am going to give Effie Robison a “may” flower. She will know what it stands for.

Raynor:
We have been very patient with Jennie Hoag making so much noise with her heels, but others may not be, so here is a pair of rubber heels for her.

Marian:
This freckle cream is just what Kenneth French needs. He has so many freckles we can hardly see his face.

Raynor:
I don't know of anything else to take to Reva Feight so I'll give her some jewelry as a remembrance from the class of '34.

Marian:
Donelda Stone has always been so quiet we'll give her a bell so she can make a lot of noise for a change.

Raynor:
Kenneth Rutherford has been ill quite a bit during high school so here is an onion that will make him strong.

Marian:
I think Lee Richardson would make a good sheriff so I'll take this badge to him.

Raynor:
This medal is going to Fern Luce for her good behavior and studies during high school.

Marian:
I think I have something for everyone now. Thanks for helping me.
ECHOES OF 1934

VALEDICTORY

Parents, teachers, classmates and friends:

The time toward which we have been looking for the past twelve years has come. We have met the tasks set before us and have tried to perform them diligently. We know now that we can no longer place responsibility upon others, but that responsibility is entirely upon our shoulders. Our school record is left behind, but our life record is yet to be made. Make it what we may, once it is written, it can never be changed.

We have chosen as our class motto: "Life is what we make it," and as we pass out of this school as graduates, and go forth through life, this motto become a reality, not a rule.

It is likely that we may forget some of the formulas of mathematics, or the translation of some of our Latin or French, but the lesson of give and take, and that of taking what is good of one thing, and rejecting that which is bad of another thing, will be impressed on our minds more strongly with every situation which arises.

The problem of world good will is seriously handicapped by the intrigue of selfish interests who would make profit by playing upon the fears and doubts of others. One thing we have learned worth while in our school life is to meet each other on equal terms and to work together for the good of all. Our education has progressed upon the theory that we are being prepared to live in a democracy where each person is responsible for the welfare of all. We, the class of 1934, face a period of marvelous possibility and opportunity, the foundation for which has been laid in our twelve years of school work.

The time has come for us to take our place in the world as men and women; we are no longer school boys and school girls. As we go through life, many hardships and problems arise, but with the same energy and zeal that we have used to overcome our school problems, we will overcome life's many obstacles.

In New York City on the broad summit of University Heights stands the Hall of Fame—a perpetual memorial to distinguished citizens of the United States. Thirty-nine years ago, on this historic spot was laid the corner stone of a national shrine, where are inscribed the names and deeds of great Americans, the list of whom will be completed within the next sixty-seven years. Aside from the educational aspect, the Hall of Fame serves as the recognition of a grateful nation to those of its citizens who have especially contributed to its intellectual growth and increased its glory.

Man is the architect of his soul. If he builds his life with such enduring qualities as honesty, sympathy, industry, reliability and loyalty, what a noble structure he can erect. "No picture ever painted, no poem ever perfected, no temple ever built is comparable for strength and beauty to the full-orbed soul, matured through a widely-trained reason and a sober judgment—mellow in heart and conscious, prevailed throughout with the spirit of Jesus Christ, the soul's master and model."

Every man must live a lifetime with himself, the fact is as inevitable as life and death. You are the only one who knows your past and can secure your future. You alone can injure your character; no other person can do it for you, and if you have allowed yourself to be cheated out of your self-respect, what remains? "For what shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his soul?"

"Life is what we make it" is the motto of the class of 1934. In years to come, may you, who have always shown interest in our welfare, find that through our characters we have proved ourselves worthy of that confidence of trust that you have placed in us.

SALUTATORY
By MARGARET WILLIAMSON

Friends and Classmates:

We are gathered here tonight to say “farewell;” this evening marks the end of our high school days, and the beginning of a new era in our life. We are like a building in the process of construction. The frame is up but the interior decorating is just begun. Our work in high school is a basis for the rest of our lives, just as the building is dependent upon its foundation for support and strength. We must endeavor to construct our lives carefully, in order to gain the maximum from life. To make the finished product one of lasting beauty and endurance, the mason must use the very finest bricks and stones and cement, and the carpenter, the strongest and most durable wood. This, we students who are graduating tonight must strive to see that only the purest and best materials are put into our minds, if we are to continue to live successfully. In these days of economic unsettlement, the most intelligent and capable applicant when there is a vacancy to be filled, when jobs are scarce, it is the man who is best fitted to do the work who secures a position. Employers expect the most from their men, and consequently they pick Training and character are factors of success, and it lies within the power of every person to develop both. Let us put forth every effort to make our lives as happy and useful as possible.

In conclusion I wish to thank the teachers, our parents, and friends for their help and advice to the seniors. It has been appreciated, and we owe you our sincerest gratitude. As this is probably the last time our class will ever be assembled together, I welcome the opportunity to wish you success and “farewell.”

CLASS SONG
By PHYLLIS PALMER

Air: "Moonlight and Roses"

Our High School days are ended
And footsteps must be wended
In byways far and near.
Our hearts will then remember
The days of golden splendor
Among our classmates,
Our dear old classmates.

Refrain:
Tecumseh High School
May ever thy memory cling,
Proudly we'll cheer thee
Our homage and tribute we bring,
Old Rose and Silver
Float high in the breezes as we sing,
Our praises to thee
Forever will ring.

The days we've spent to-gether,
We'll love and cherish ever,
The class of '34.
Now that our ways are parting,
And our life's battle starting
We'll look back always,
To good old school days.

CLASS POEM
By DOROTHY ALLEN

Our work in High School is finished
And we stand at Life's gateway now;
Yet, ere we enter its portals
Let us each one consent to a vow.

A vow that will ever be steadfast,
Genuine, worthy and true—
Let us strive to remember our school days
And classmates so dear to us, too.

Our parents have done much to help us,
Have sacrificed much for us all;
So as we go forth in Life's battle
May nothing induce us to fall.

For Life is a beautiful garden
Filled with all that is lovely and gay,
So let us do all that is worthwhile
From morn to the close of day.

Farewell, dear classmates and teachers
Let us cherish the memories of old
And may we find as an aftermath
The cloud with a lining of gold.

SENIOR PLAY

The Senior Play, "The Heart Exchange," was given March 16, 1934. The entire play took place in the office of a matrimonial agency in New York. Arthur Princeton    Ronald Filter
Ralph Dartmore     Charles McLaughlin
Harriet Hockett    Margaret Williamson
Joseph Thurston    Raymond McConnell
Marta Kellogg      Bernice Kempf
Louise Millard     Phyllis Palmer
Thomasina Penn     Marion Grigg

George Walters     William Hanna
"Socke" Quigley    Lee Richardson
Matilda Goggenslocker    Ellen La Bounty

The play was under the direction of Mrs. Service and Mr. Dustin.
SPEECH

Very keen interest has been shown in speech work this year. More students participated in debate, oratory, declamation and extempore speaking than in any other year in the history of the school. Tecumseh is a member of the Michigan Forensic League and sent Mary Brainard, Donald Benedict and Betty Linger into competition in Debate, while Donald Benedict won third place in the sub-district contest in Oratory, with Vivian Isaacson winning first place in the same contest in Declamation. She will go to the District contest May 4th. All the above people are under-graduates so the future looks very bright.

The 1933 Baseball season was one of the most successful seasons that Tecumseh High School has had in a number of years, winning a county championship besides winning from Adrian a class "A" school.

Harris and Benedict proved to be the main stays on the mound. Captain Hamilton did most of the catching.

Poley played at third, Don Filter at short, Kopke at second, and Crane at first. McLaughlin, Marsh, and Brown in the out field.

Lynn Harris did a very capable job of managing the team the later part of the season during the absence of Coach Melbourne Wilson because of illness.

With the team composed of the following: Bryan, Meads, Hastings, Williamson, Buck, McLaughlin, Crane, Morden, Damon, Hanna, Brazee and Sneary, all of whom were members of last year's squad, and also a few newcomers, we should have a good chance to win the county championship this year.

Coach Wilson in Sociology: "What three parts are womenkind divided into?"
Burton Poucher: "The intelligent, the beautiful, and the majority."

Ron Filter: "Let's get our wives together tonight and have a big evening."
Don Filter: "O.K., but where shall we leave them?"

Rum Runner: "Them's the chief's orders. Slow your truck down to eight miles an hour and let the stuff age."

Miss Trebilcock: "What does a foreigner have to do to become a citizen of the United States?"
Dale Colson: "Well—I'm not sure about that of the United States."
Miss Trebilcock: "What of Europe or Asia then?"
Dewey: "I don't know. I've only studied that of Adrian."

Miss Russell: "Donald Benedict, take that candy out of your mouth, right now!"
Don: "Sure Miss Russell I'll be through with it in a minute."

Gene Crane to Dick Sherman: "What would be the first thing you'd think of if you saw a drunk man coming down the street?"
Dick: "I'd think, "Where did he get it?"

Senior at W. S. T. C.: "Where did you hail from?"
Phyllis Palmer: "Britton, why?"
Senior: "One of these hick towns where everyone goes down to meet the train, eh?"
Phyllis: "What train?"

Why are there so many mountains in Switzerland? Switzerland is so small they have to heap the dirt up.

In High School:
President of the Class
Captain of the football team
Captain of the basketball team
Captain of the baseball team
President of the Student Assembly
In College:—One of the Frosh.

Bill Damon: "Who was the best dressed general in the Civil War?"
Miss Trebilcock: "I don't know why?"
Bill: "I understand Lee was, because I read that Lee was dressed in his beautiful Confederate uniform and there stood Grant in his dirty old Union suit."

Waiter: "Yes'm—double portion boiled dinner, two dozen corn on the cob, french pastry, ice cream and pot tea. Anything else, lady?"
M. Morden: "Yes, you may put a screen around my table."

Marie Cole: "You may not believe it but I said "no" to seven different men this summer."
Marguerite Smith: "Oh, I don't doubt it, what were they selling?"

Charles McLaughlin: "I'm paid for what I know, not what I do."
Sally Heilman: "Oh, don't you want any wages at all?"

They call her—
Ruth Thielan—chronology, its just one date after another.
Hazel Boyce—Eversharp, she never runs out of lead.

An invention which added a new flavor to an old pastime.

Mr. Williamson (6 a. m.): "What do you mean, bringing my daughter in at this hour?"
Richard Boyd: "I have to be at work at 7:00 o'clock."
CLASS STATISTICS

By EDWARD LEIGHTON

Assembled before you tonight is a body of Seniors, remarkable for the qualities and characteristics they possess. There are 58 of us of which 26 are girls and 32 are boys.

As a matter of weight our class shows surprising facts. Our total weight is 3.4 tons or an average of 133 pounds. Richard Williamson is the heaviest boy, weighing 185 pounds while Marian Grigg claims the same honors for the girls. I found Herbert Morden to be the lightest boy, his weight being 109 pounds. Jennie Hoag was found to be the lightest girl, tipping the scales at 90 pounds.

Our total height is 299 feet or an average of 5 feet 2 inches. End to end we'd probably be 1 1/2 times as high as the Presbyterian church. Kenneth French is the undisputed champion in the matter of height, he soars to the lofty height of 6 feet 2 inches, six other people in the class are 6 feet or above. As for walking appendages, Maurice Greenwald requires a size 11 1/2 to cover his dainty feet. The tallest girl in the class is Marion Prentiss. At the other extreme, we find the title for the shortest boy in the class is held by Herbert Morden who peeks at us from the height of 5 feet 4 inches. Our tiniest girl is Marie Cole who is 5 feet 1 inch. Back to our feet, the smallest foot among the boys is a 6 which also goes to "Herbie" and the honor for the daintiest one among the girls must be divided among Margaret Williamson, Marie Cole, Twilda Pentecost, and Jennie Hoag. All wear size 4.

Our total age I found to be 975 years. This means we were born in 959 A.D., just at the time of the Dark Ages where civilization and culture were stopped. Judging by the actions of some of the boys at our class meeting, I think they believe they are still in that age. Although the expressions on our faces may indicate age, our average age is 17 years 5 months. In our class nursery we have triplets, all 16 years old, they are Phyllis Palmer, Elwyn Green and Eldon Condit.

The average hat size for men is 7, Bob Horn and Warren Puffer require a size 7 3/4 to cover their huge thinking machines. Constant worry has kept the head size of Richard Boyd down to a 6. The girls all claim petite sizes for their heads so we had no contest.

As to musical talents we have many and diverse. Many play the victrola and the radio. Billy Hanna plays the shoe horn in the hat band while Gene Crane is preparing for his heavenly trip by amusing himself at the harp.

Ambitions and pastimes of this class bring to light some interesting facts, which have hitherto been hidden. The majority of the girls want to be nurses and teachers. Bud McLaughlin wants a job with plenty of arm exercise. Ivan Hunt wants to amount to something and I truly believe he will succeed.

Among the hobbies may be found, dancing, eating, loafing, and studying.

 Eleven Seniors were placed on the Honor Roll. Six are boys, and five are girls. We have the unique honor of having three boys tie for the highest honors. Thus, friends, you have an insight into the past and the future of the glorious class of '34.
