FOREWORD

This book represents the last and most important project of the Senior Class of 1936.

Every year the Senior Class strives to make their Annual a more interesting and original one than the year before. Something to look back on with pride.

This book contains, between its covers, memories of the happiest and most carefree years of our lives, which makes it one of our most treasured possessions.

VALEDICTORY

Friends and Classmates:

I wonder if you all know what the term "valedictory" means? It is formed from the Latin words "vale dico", meaning, "say farewell." Tonight marks the parting of the ways for the Class of '36. Of those who started in school together there are just a few of us left, and now that our high school days are over, we, too, meet again as a group. And so, mingled with our happiness at having reached our goal, there is the sadness of parting.

Now that we have finished high school and can look back in perspective, we can truthfully say that, in spite of our many difficulties, we have enjoyed every year of it. We are fully aware of the fact that it is our parents and teachers who have made possible our graduation. I speak on behalf of the entire class when I say that I most heartily thank you—our parent, teachers and friends—for their kind help to us during our school life.

And now what of the future? We are about to launch our ship, it is entirely up to us where we anchor. Perhaps some one in this class will go out into the world and make a name for himself. Of course we know that everyone can not do this. Some of us must be content to just stand by. As Milton says: "He also serves who only stands and waits." But no matter how humble our place in the world, I hope that whatever we do, we will do well.

Dear classmates: Remember the motto which you have chosen—"Today we launch, where shall we anchor?" Before you anchor, ask yourselves if you might not find a better place farther on. Never be content with anything but the highest of which you are capable. Never have to say regretfully, "I'm sorry I didn't push on farther and anchor on more distant shores."

And now I am sure that my classmates will join with me in saying a fond farewell to T. H. S., to our teachers and friends, with the hope that we may meet again some time in the future.

Ernestine Conklin

SALUTATORY

Friends:

Tonight I bring you greetings from the Graduating Class of 1936, the 18th class that has been graduated from this Tecumseh High School.

We greet you tonight for the last time as undergraduates. Tonight we have our commencement exercises.

For 12 years now we have been striving to reach this goal—Commencement. Why is it called Commencement? Are we not finishing? No, this is just the beginning. For 12 years we have been getting ready not to finish, but rather to get out into the world and begin—commence.

Thoreau, one of our American writers, once wrote this: "Hitch your wagon to a star." Tonight each one of us is going to choose our "star" to which we will hitch our wagon, and then we will be on our way. By no means will that way be smooth. Oh no! the pathway will often times be very rough and tedious, leading through dense, dark forests. Many of us may be tempted to take one of the by-paths, only to reach the end and turn back to the safer way. Years may be spent going in the wrong direction, but still "Experience is the best teacher."

Many of these experiences will be bitter to us, who have been Sheltered by our parents and guided by our teachers, but those that are bitter, we will make certain to steer away from another time.

There is one thing that we all should remember during our whole lives, that is, that we should always strive to do things for the human interest and not think of just ourselves alone. No one ever accomplishes anything that they can be proud of if they think of just their own selfish interests, and for what are we going to work?—a goal that will make a name for ourselves. Not only do we wish others to have a cause to be proud of us, but we must do our work so that we are proud of ourselves. And that can only be accomplished by having an interest in all human welfare.

I trust that I have expressed clearly enough the meaning that this night has for us all. Most of you know what this night means in each one's heart by experiencing it yourselves.

I extend a greeting to everyone, tonight, in behalf of the Class of 1936.

Dolores Gray

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS . . .

Classmates, the time of parting has come. Looking back over these wholesome years of high school we cannot but regret that they are over. The activities we entered into so joyously are indelibly written upon our souls. They seemed like dreams, yet they are not. Ideal they were, as we recall these intangible memories. Each life has been vastly influenced by these years. It has come our turn to enter that perpetual stream of life so amusingly viewed, during our brief existence.

Do not let your culture cease upon the graduation from high school. You will sincerely regret it if you do. The worth while jobs require many tools. Seek the top for it is never as conjected as it is at the bottom. Live so that you will not regret having lived.

It has been said that the world is growing worse, but I profoundly believe the opposite. There is merely a failure on the part of the good people to calmly stand in the leer of ridicule and say what they know is right.

We have been together daily for a common purpose. Eccentricities were ours as with every group, but I know that there is not one person among you who would not march across the wilderness unflinchingly, as did your sturdy ancestors.

The years I have spent with you will not be forgotten. We have been friends and so shall we always be, no matter how we may be materially disunited.

Being president of your class has been an honor I feel will stimulate me spiritually in my deepest adversity.

Goodbye friends and classmates. May we meet again. It is said.

John Thompson

..... HISTORY

In September 1932 about sixty-eight intelligent youths entered Tecumseh High School. We, who were then Freshmen, were rather doubtful of our required duties at first, but as the year progressed we became more accustomed to our surroundings and were fairly launched on our High School career. To carry us through our struggle we chose Mervall Mattis, president, Franklin Holloway, vice president, Gibbs Barber, secretary, Robert Manchester, treasurer, and Jack Hanna to represent us in the Student Council. Miss Clark kindly consented to be our advisor.

We began our Sophomore year with a smaller number of classmates. At this time we followed the precedent of our upper classmen and began to make life miserable for the "Freshies". As time went on we felt the need of leaders, therefore we elected Maurice Evans, president, Maxine Leighton, vice president, Virginia Pennington, secretary, Norma Thielan, treasurer, and Mervall Mattis, Student Council representative. This year Mrs. Service was elected as our advisor. Several class parties were also enjoyed.

1934 - Juniors!!! We have lost some of our foolishness and are now almost supreme, ready to start a new year with John Boldon, president, Maxine Leighton, vice president, Margaret Wehr, secretary, John Thompson, treasurer, Charlotte Hunt, Student Council representative, with Miss Woodhams as our advisor. Following the customs of the Junior classes, we selected our class rings. Near the close of this year our class gave a play "The Ginger Girl". This was our first attempt in dramatic art and was a great success. After this our attention was immediately turned to what we had been looking forward to since we were Freshmen - the Junior-Senior Reception. The setting was a charming Japanese tea room which was made very effective with rock gardens and lanterns. Dancing was the diversion of the evening and was well attended.

To close the Junior year we were entertained by the Seniors with a picnic at Devils Lake.

Alas! we are dignified Seniors. Lest we forget our guiding hands for this year the heroes are John Thompson, president, Dolores Gray, vice president, June Heath, secretary, Ernestine Conklin, treasurer, and Charlotte Hunt, Student Council representative, with Miss Allen as our advisor.

Our Senior Class play this year, "Closed Lips", was played successfully before two delighted audiences. We believe this was one of our greatest contributions in our high school career.

As Seniors we were considered the honored guests at the Junior-Senior reception which was a complete success.

Our four years of high school have been a pleasure as well as a hard study, and we leave the school some forty-eight intelligent, sophisticated seniors. As one of our heroic forefathers has so nobly said, we in like manner deeply regret having only one life to dedicate to this institution, but we cannot help but feel that we will be greatly missed, especially by the faculty, we also hope that the Juniors will in due time be competent to fill our places.

CLASS WILL . .

ATTORNEYS - Charlotte Hunt and Merval Mattis

ARTICLE I - Section 1

After most tedious and almost ineffective searching and researching on the part of the Senior Class for a good team man upon whom they might place the heavy responsibility of disposing in a satisfactory way their vast possessions and accumulated wealth, they finally decided to trust this herculean task to attorneys Hunt and Mattis.

They have requested this document to be read in the Tecumseh High School on June 10, 1936. This being in the Township of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee, and State of Michigan.

We, the Class of '36 of T. H. S., the most important class ever has been or ever will be graduated from this great institution, being of strong heart, of sound mind, and disposing memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this our last will and testament, hereby revoking all wills by us made, and papers testamentary of whatsoever nature.

ARTICLE II - Section 2

To the faculty we make the following bequests

(a) To the teaching staff of the year 1935-36 we request that a guardian be placed over the Freshmen to protect them from all harmful disasters and to remind them when it is time for the curfew, so that they will not needlessly burn the midnight oil, also to them the advice we shall give to prohibit Bill Wagner from consuming sweets every day for lunch.

(b) We hereby will and direct that all unpaid debts be paid by the Class of '37, in full, due to our departure.

(c) To the seventh and eighth grades we bequeath a desk on the stage, open to the first volunteer or to anyone who may be drafted.

(d) Dolores Gray bequeaths her ability to ride horses to Beth Smith.

(e) John Boldon leaves his football ability to Loran Campbell. Guard it well, Loran! You may have use for it in the near future.

(f) Margaret Wehr leaves her Adrian "standbys" to Betty Williamson and Janet Dickinson. Have hopes, girls, your luck may change some day.

(g) Norma Thielan leaves her quiet way to Mary Roff.

(h) Keith Carpenter leaves his long held position of "Father of Education" to Stanley Allen. We hope that Stanley will be as faithful to the cause as Keith was.

(i) Bob Coffey leaves his book on "Scientific Bluffing" to Norman Langthorne, who is also a keen student in the art.

(j) To the freshmen we give from three years up to reach the goal we have attained.

(k) To the Juniors we will and direct all belonging debts, just or unjust, of gratitude or revenge.

(l) Harold Hall leaves his superior driving ability to Kenneth Johnson.

(m) Maurice Evans leaves his high batting average to whomsoever may need it. Get it early, folks, and avoid the rush.

ARTICLE III - Section 1

We hereby nominate and appoint Miss Allen executrix of this, our last will and testament, and authorize and empower our said executrix to bargain, sell, convey, or mortgage our real estate without the necessity of first obtaining an order of the court therefore.

In witness whereof we set the hands and seal of the Class of '36, this the tenth day of June, 1936 A. D.

SENIOR CLASS OF 1936

Signed, sealed, published, and declared by the said Class of Tecumseh High School as and for their last will and testament in the presence of each other. We have hereunto subscribed our names and attesting witnesses that the said Class was at the time of unlawful age, of unsound mind, and of failing memory, and was free from compulsion and restraint.

... PROPHECY

By Esther Hall and Helena Langthorne

TIME: Early in the day.

SCENE: In the Superintendent's office at T. H. S. Esther Hall and Helena Langthorne are each applying for different teaching positions. The superintendent is out, and they are awaiting his return. As the scene opens Helena is on the stage reading a small booklet.

Esther: "Well of all things! If it isn't Helena Langthorne. What in the world are you doing here?"

Helena: "Why Esther imagine meeting you here! I was just waiting for Mr. Robert Dannells, the superintendent, to return, and who do you think his secretary is, it's Dolores Smith. I was just looking over my memo book to see how far I've gotten in tracing the activities of the Senior Class of 1936 just as a hobby. But I've only found about half of them."

Esther: "Perhaps I could help you for I've been quite interested in their where-abouts also, just to keep track of them for old times sake I guess, for a lot can happen in ten years. I came here to see about a position also, meantime let's see what we can do about finding some of them."

Helena: "You probably knew that Clyde Burleson is head of the Mathematics Department here, and they say he's a second Mr. Gamble, and that Ernestine Conklin is teacher in the new pre-primary school just built in Tecumseh."

Esther: "You know Frances Feight is dean of women in Tipton College. It's surprising the number of our class that's teaching here now, for you know that Marjorie Wintersteen is now the music teacher and director of dramatics at T. H. S. now, also Norma Theilan teaches Home Economics and is noted for her lectures given on meats, well, I guess she should be well informed!"

Helen: "Well you know that Robert Coffey is thought to be recovering from a long siege of sleeping sickness. June Heath is telephone operator over in Adrian and her line is always a good one, too."

Esther: "Helen Dustin and Harold Hall have been married for a year now, they seem to be getting along swell as they have only separated four times."

Helena: "Yeah! Alma Hoag put on the ball and chain and became a Dannells, too. And what do you think, Wilda Craig, Maxine Leighton, Charlotte Hunt, and Bertine Filter are the four popular old maids, and are running the Wabash Hotel at Cone."

Esther: "I guess Dolores Gray and Opal Kerr have kept their promises of being old maids, too, and are successful office girls. Dale Abersole is the Champion Live Stock raiser of Newburg."

Helena: "Gibbs Barber is a Gigolo Dancer in Hollywood, and Bob Bartlett is now the Reverend Bartlett at the Shrine of the Little Posies."

Esther: "Dolly Wagner is a bathing beauty in Miami, Florida, and has just won the title of 'Miss America'. Clare Ransom has the honor of being the world's champion typist. He types 160 words a minute."

Helena: "Say our class has lots of famous people in it, Bob Wolters is the cartoonist for all the leading magazines, and editor of the funny papers."

Esther: "Maxine Holmes is the manager's wife of the Tecumseh five and ten cent store. Oh yes! and Betty Rhodes is the belle of the Montana cowgirls."

Helena: "Edward Blaska is president of the 'Blaska Building Company' and is said to be the greatest contract builder in Detroit. Vivian Abbott is a great radio success as a comedian, and is said to be compared to Gracie Allen."

Esther: "And did you know that Keith Carpenter is following in Hitler's footsteps, and is predicted to be the dictator of the United States? Gladys French is a great woman leader of the day and is famous for her political speeches."

Helena: "Speaking of Gladys, it reminds me of Phyllis French, she's directing an Institution for Overcoming Shyness. Merval Mattis is doing well with undertaking as a profession, it is said he would be a millionaire if he wasn't so noisy during the funeral services."

Esther: "George DeRousie is president of the DeRousie Motor Co., and perfecter of the new DeRousie Car. Virginia Wilson is society leader in the large city of Dundee, funny she should pick Dundee, isn't it?"

Helena: "John Thompson is a very stable young man, in more ways than one. He has accomplished raising the new 'stream-line' saddle horses. Alma Starkey is the most popular girl in Broadway, famous for her red fingernail polish and exclusive dates."

Esther: "Geraldine Stoner is quite a 'hitch-hike lady', she has traveled far and had many exciting experiences. Lenore DePuy is a lyric radio singer, her theme song being 'How Dry I Am.' Maurice Evans is still a popular customer of the gas stations between Clinton and Toledo. Poor boy! will he ever make up his mind?"

Helena: "Mary Morden, Geraldine Brown, and Virginia Pennington are popularly known as the 'Gadabout Trio', their success being determined from the Feenamint amateur hour. Anna Schoenholtz tried to make good by starting a chewing gum factory, but I'm sorry to say that she chewed up all her profits and is now instructor of a tap dancing class."

Esther: "Nellie Burleson has at last discovered something to control her giggling. Lucille Foot is still keeping track of the Blissfied boys from inquisitive Tecumseh girls."

Helena: "Margaret Wehr is still the heart breaker she used to be. At present she is being sued for a breach of promise suit by Clark Gable. John Bo'don's motto still seems to be, 'A step in time saves nine.' At his wedding in Toledo the bride was in hysterics because he wasn't there till the wedding started, and on the dot Johnnie entered panting with very rosy cheeks and his assuring smile."

Esther: "Dick Sherman is now the proprietor of the Manitou Pavilion at Devils Lake, Dick should feel at home there."

Helene: "Oh! Oh! here comes the superintendent, well it seemed good to see you again and have a good long talk about our classmates and good luck to you."

CLASS POEM

Lenore DePuy

This is the end of the story,
The chapter is written at last,
We Seniors emerge in high glory,
High School is a thing of the past.
Four years we have labored together,
Years brim full of pleasure and fun,
School problems and struggles are weathered,
Life's problems are only begun.
We'll steel our course for some strange land,
And when we've reached the shore,
We'll haul our ships upon the strand
Content to roam no more.
And now, farewell, but not goodbye,
For parting ways are here,
Yet memory holds the blessed joy
Of school days past, YET DEAR.

CLASS SONG

By Geraldine Brown
To the tune of "Belgian Rose"

(Verse)

High school days will soon be at end,
And the time for work will begin,
Parents, teachers and friends of good faith,
Helped us through a difficult place,
All our Classmates gathered here,
Many we won't see in years,
Our hopes will be your hopes,
And these last words we bring.

(Chorus)

Tecumseh High,
To you our praises ring,
For every hour of study we've had,
We'll have many years in which to be glad,
In us a hope you've fixed
This class of '36.
Orchid and silver floating high in the sky,
Our footsteps are heading for a bigger prize
Our days of play are through,
And success we owe to you.

FOOTBALL

There were seven scheduled games in football this year, however, only six were played. Blissfield having cancelled their contest on account of the death of one of their players.

The team won two games, tied one, and lost three.

A majority of the boys are back next season.

BASKETBALL

There were fourteen scheduled games for the Varsity team. Seven were won and seven lost. We won from Hudson two, Saline one, Lincoln one, Dundee one, Clinton one, Deerfield one. Losing to Milan one, Roosevelt one, Chelsea one, U. of M. High of Ann Arbor one, Bellville one, and Blissfield two.

A majority of the boys are back next season.

TRACK

There was very little done in track last year, therefore we have to start from the bottom this year. Due to the inexperience of the boys this season we do not expect much from them, but we can expect more next year.

BASEBALL

The baseball team has met with just mediocre success. The weather this spring has been very unfavorable as far as baseball is concerned.

Most of the boys are back next season, and we are hoping for a better season.

The boys lost through graduation are Hall, Ransom, Evan, DeRousie and Wolters.

JOKES . . .

Bob Lowe: "Roger, can I borrow your pen?"
 Roger: "Sure thing."
 Bob: "Got a sheet of paper I can use?"
 Roger: "Reckon so."
 Bob: "Going past the mail box when you go out?"
 Roger: "Uh-huh."
 Bob: "Wait a minute till I finish this letter, will ya?"
 Roger: "All right."
 Bob: "Want to lend me a stamp?"
 Roger: "Yeh."
 Bob: "Much obliged. Whats your girl's address?"

* * *

Arithmetic

He was teaching her arithmetic, he said it was his mission,
 He kissed her once, he kissed her twice and said, "Now that's addition."
 When there followed smack by smack, in silent meditation,
 He kissed her, and she kissed him and said, "That's multiplication."
 She kissed him once, she kissed him twice in pleasing satisfaction.
 Then he began to kiss her back and said, "Now that's subtraction."
 Then Dad appeared upon the scene, with pre-dominating decision.
 And up and kicked him half a block and said, "That's long division."

* * *

Customer at Pete's: "Rassel me up a soda without any flavor."

Norman L.: "What flavor would you like it without? We have cherry raspberry, and pineapple."

Customer: "Make it without cherry."

Norman: "Sorry sir, but would you just as soon have it without raspberry, we're all out of cherry."

* * *

Mr. Brown (Hollering down from upstairs): "Say Gerry, hasn't that fellow of yours got a self-starter? It's after one o'clock."

Gerry (disgusted): "He doesn't need one with a crank like you around."

* * *

She was only a garbage collector's daughter, but she was not to be sniffed at.

* * *

Harold H.: "Your Dad says that airplanes will soon take the place of cars."

Helen D.: "Nuts, who would like to park in a damp old cloud."

Stranger: "Say, sonny, can you tell me which road to take to Clinton?"

Lee R.: "I don't care which road you take, they dont' belong to me."

* * *

Virginia P. couldn't get a man so she bought a monkey and is waiting for evolution to take its course.

* * *

Mr. Kerkhof: "Who was the smallest man in history?"

Doc D.: "The Roman soldier who went to sleep on his watch."

* * *

Dolly W.: "There's one thing I want to know."

Mr. Gamble: "Yes, what is it?"

Dolly W.: "Who waters the bulbs for the electric light plant?"

* * *

Beth S.: "There's a lot of electricity in my hair."

Dub. S.: "No wonder, it's connected to a dry cell."

* * *

Mrs. Laidlaw: "You've been to the dentist, I see, does it matter on which side you chew your food?"

David: "No, mother, it tastes just as bad on one side as on the other."

* * *

Mrs. Wilson: "Come here, Bobby, I have good news for you."

Bobby: "Yes, I know, father is home again."

Mrs. W.: "Yes, how did you know?"

Bobby: "My bank won't rattle any more."

Mr. Lister (reading): "And then came the dragons belching forth."

Herb. Cleveland: "Did he excuse himself?"

* * *

Mrs. Gamble: "There's a strange hair on your coat lapel, you worm."

Mr. Gamble: "Now darling, that's a hair from our dog, it isn't a woman's hair, honestly."

Mrs. Gamble: "I know it, that's what strange about it."

* * *

Then there's the proud father who wanted his son to become a carpenter, so he sent him to a boarding school.

* * *

Barbara Thielan, when asked if she played golf, replied: "Oh, dear, no! I don't even know how to hold the caddie."

* * *

Give a husband enough rope—and he'll want to skip.

SOCIETY . . .

Junior and Senior Picnic

The seniors entertained the juniors at a picnic at Devil's Lake on June 13, 1935. A picnic lunch was served by the seniors, after which swimming, skating, and dancing were enjoyed.

Christmas Party

A delightful Christmas party, sponsored by the seniors, was given in the gymnasium on December 20, 1935.

Each of the six upper classes was responsible for a Christmas tree. The gymnasium was decorated with many colored strips of cellophane which hung from the ceiling, and large bells with tinsel through them were also added to the decoration. The orchestra stand was decorated with evergreen boughs and Christmas trimmings.

The grand march was led by the senior president. The music was furnished by Fish's orchestra.

Junior and Senior Reception

The Juniors entertained the seniors at a delightful reception on May 22, 1935, in the gymnasium, which was decorated with pastel streamers from the balcony, and Japanese lanterns which were used for lighting the gymnasium. The orchestra platform was arranged as a rock garden.

After the dinner the following program was given:

Toastmistress	Helen Langthorne
Welcome	John Boldon
Response	Donald Benedict
Solo	Miss Woodhams
Speech	Mr. Brazee
Piano Solo.....	Geraldine Brown

After the program, dancing was enjoyed by all. Fish's orchestra furnishing the music.

Pepperettes

The Pepperettes, a group of twenty-five girls under the supervision of Miss Helen Leighton, was organized to perform at basketball games for the purpose of arousing school spirit. Orange blouses and black skirts, emphasizing the high school colors, were worn by the Pepperettes.

FORMER STUDENT RETURNS

Merval Mattis, the famous undertaker, returns to Tecumseh, a great man after graduating here twenty-five years ago.

Mr. Mattis is noted for the burial of the most presidents in the history of the United States.

His undertaking parlor is located in the downtown business district of Chicago, in case any of the readers would like to visit him in the future.

For the benefit of the readers I will relate how Mr. Mattis gained his high social position, I suppose I should call it that, in life. He was known around several hospitals in Chicago as an "ambulance chaser." Because of his excellent work at the hospital he gained their confidence also business. Later on he saved enough to start in business on a larger scale, not having to depend on the hospitals. The moral, my dear readers, is "The good die young."

WINS NATIONAL PRIZE

Miss Pauline Daisher of Tecumseh, Michigan, won the National Hog Calling Contest, held at Sowville, Arkansas, yesterday.

The judges said she was the most remarkable Hog Caller that they had ever heard. Hogs came from a distance of five miles at the sound of her yodel, and a stray cow was also among the herd. In short, it was a matter of hogs here, hogs there, and hogs everywhere.

Miss Daisher says that she will take the prize money of $5000 and start a music class. She will teach voice to promising pupils.

LOCAL BOY IS WELCOMED

Draine Porcher, daring young driver, received a tremendous welcome last night when he completed the first non-stop drive to California on a kiddy car.

Mr. Porcher, who undertook the feat because of an offer made to him by the Sliverless Kiddy Car Co., stated that he had not received a sliver through the whole journey, but that blisters were plentiful.

Mr. Porcher says that he expects to marry a local girl upon his arrival home, but omitted the name of the fortunate (?) lass.

STRANGE THINGS WILL HAPPEN

A very unfortunate accident occurred Thursday to Miss Nellie Burleson when she was locked in the steam bath with the steam turned on full force. No one heard Miss Burleson's cries until the next morning. Due to the fact that a steam bath is a reducing apparatus, Miss Burleson is now a mere shadow of her former self.

HUMANE SOCIETY ORGANIZED

John Thompson, former president of the senior class, has organized a Humane Society. Mr. Thompson says there is altogether too much killing of insects, and states that it has to stop.

Says Mr. Thompson: "Who does not enjoy the mosquitoes' buzz on a hot July night? And what would the dog do if he did not have a flea bite to scratch?"

Thompson has made a careful study of these and has a collection of over 200 stuffed insects.

LOCAL BOY HOPES TO ### MAKE GOOD WITH ZILCH'S

ZULUS FROM ZULULAND

Tecumseh's problem child at last has a chance to amount to something in this world.

Mrs. Cleveland's boy, Herbie, was marching down the road tooting on his Sears-Roebuck horn, when the mailman came along and gave him a letter. Not being able to read, he asked the mailman to read it to him.

The following is a copy of the letter:

ZILCH'S ZULUS FROM ZULULAND

Baseball Club

Mr. Herbert Cleveland,
Tecumseh, Mich.

Dear Sir:—

As manager of the Zilch's from Zululand Giants, I have been informed that you're sort of a cannibalistic or dumb-cluck ballplayer, therefore I am interested in getting you to sign a contract to play with our team this summer.

All you have to do is to acquire a little sun-tan and stay away from the barber shops.

As far as I know your actions will fit in very well with the other members of this Great Team.

A chance to tour the United States and earn $100.00 a week.

Yours truly,

M. W. (Red) Wilson,
505 World Building,
New York City, N. Y.

Little Herbie is said to have made this statement: "It ain't the first letter I ever got. I got a farmer's Almanac back in 1929."

Herb will leave for New York to mark his "X" on the contract just as soon as his milk check comes.

SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY MADE

A great step in the advancement of civilization was taken when Prof. Robert Screwloose Wolters announced today that he had found a way to produce unbreakable eggs.

In order to create such an egg, he claims to have fed his hens a mixture of iron filings and carpet tacks.

His only problem now, he says, is to find a way in which to break it. He expects to discover this in the next ten years.

Prog. Wolters, as you know, also has perfected the non-skid banana peel, and many other notable things.

Dear Rosa LaGreene—

I am a boy of 17 and I need your advice very badly.

I am very deeply in love with three lovely girls and I am sure that they love me. Now here is my problem—I want to get married but since I love them all equally well and could not give any of them up, I don't know what to do. Would you advise joining the Mormons so that I can marry all three?
Romeo

Why bother? You already belong to the tribe of morons.

IS MY HAIR THIN?

How many people have asked themselves this question, and then, with a shudder dismissed it from their mind, afraid to acknowledge the truth.

If you are one of these people, you may at last breathe a contented breath for Prof. R. N. Gamble has come to the rescue with the most astonishing hair restorer that was ever put on the market.

Prof. Gamble, who once had a lovely head of hair, noticed his thinning while teaching in Tecumseh High. He claims that this is due to tearing his hair in his Chemistry Class, and therefore recommends his "Grow Anywhere Tonic" to all young teachers.

This Tonic will be available at any of your local Hardware Stores at only $2.00 a bottle.
