Students went to pep rallies, sporting events, and dances, just hung out with friends in the halls between classes or at lunch, a major event of the day. Pep rallies could always be counted on to add some excitement in anticipation of the game. They captured the spirit that we had here at our school. Attending sporting events was always a fun thing to do because you got to socialize and cheer, standing behind the team, whether they won or not. (So be it!) After the game, many students attended the dances, where they celebrated and unwound, with the very loud music from the DJ. Students could also show their stuff, doing the "hip hop rap," "the running man," or the "cabbage patch" out on the dance floor. At home, students just liked to relax with friends and be themselves. A lot of times, when friends got together they went to a movie, listened to music or got videos.

Choosing best friends, guest friends, pest friends help you find

Friends Forever

There are three kinds of friends in the world: best friends, guest friends, and pest friends. The best friendships are with true friends. True friendship is like good health, the value of it is seldom appreciated until it's lost. Guest friends are people that are friends for a reason. They may be friendly because of a mutual problem or have a common interest. Pest friends usually only want a favor and are not sincere.

Freshman Kelly Rapin said, "Everybody needs a friend, whether it's to cry on, or someone to tell all our problems to." A real friend is the one that shares all the happy and fun times with us, the sad and bad times, someone that respects us for who and what we are. They wouldn't want to change us and we wouldn't want to change them. Friendships are also dependent on avoiding the unforgivable.

When we have a true friend, we have that friend for life. We want to make mutual plans for the future. Freshman

Brandi Feldkamp and her friend said, "We are going to Arizona State where we are going to work at the Gap, meet twin guys, have a huge, beautiful wedding and be on soap opera's together."

Friends supported us. They were loyal and would always stick-up for us. We could tell them anything, and shared everything with them, including our clothes. We depended on them to help if we had a problem that we couldn't solve by ourselves. "There are no strangers, only friends we have not met," senior Robert Mayes said. What would we have done without them? Freshman Lorri Johnson said, "My friends are the greatest, we depend on each other, and we help each other out. Friends are a big part of my life."

Some people had a large circle of friends while others had a few cherished close friends. We loved our friends for many reasons, but as Sophomore Katy McKeever said, "The best rule of friendship is to keep your heart a little softer than your head."

DANCING TO THE MUSIC

Dances were for everyone from freshmen to seniors, dancers, people watchers, socializers, movers and music lovers. Dances could provide unforgettable moments such as the search for shoes at the "Sock Hop" when everybody wanted to go home at the same time. "What I like about dances is you get to sweat, and get freaky!" offered Freshman Jay Hayford. Senior Robert Mayes on the other hand believed that "The best time to go to dances is when you are a Senior, because you know every body, and can have a better time."

"I love it when the music makes you really dance," said Melodie Bone. Music at the dances, scheduled after athletic events, was provided by D.J.s. The dance package usually included huge, powerful speakers and some special light effects. With the exception of the Homecoming Dance, sponsored by the Student Council, dances were held in the cafeteria. Casual attire was appropriate, although for formal dances, such as the Christmas Dance, many students wore rented tuxedos or cocktail dresses.

Dances were excellent fund raisers for school organizations, clubs and classes because they were able to make money to support student activities while they were having a great time. They also gained valuable experience in dealing with business contracts, handling money, developing publicity and other dance responsibilities such as decorating and clean up. Dances were so popular that there were more requests for dances than there were available dates. As a result, several groups such as Art Club and French Club co-sponsored the "Hip Hop Hoe Down."

A free car, a week of activities and a fun packed assembly added to the fun of Homecoming

It wasn't just the pep rally itself that got everyone into the spirit of Homecoming. The entire week before, planned by Student Counsel with theme days, led up to the final excitement. The fashion adventure began with Bandana day, followed by Country Western, then Come as you are, Hippy Day and Class Color Day.

The students looked forward to getting out of school early for the pep rally and parade. They packed into the football stands, and demonstrated their school spirit with vigorous cheering and participation in the games.

In one contest using whipped cream, the girls sprayed their partners, trying to empty the can as quickly as possible into the mouth of the contestants. This resulted in a tie for all classes. A strenuous bench race was taken by the seniors, but the juniors roared as they became the victors in the tug of war event.

Adding to the fun of the pep rally, was the plot against the captains. While blindfolded, they were asked to guess which of the queen candidates had given them a kiss, but actually the real kissing bandits were their very own mothers. Who would have guessed that their own sons wouldn't have known their mother's lips?

An enthusiastic Nancy Fisher urged all the participants to do their best for their class and their school. "Everyone was definitely excited," she said.

After the games came the parade. Students took their places with the class floats as the parade made its way through town, past the spectators, parents, junior high and elementary students. Everyone cheered for the school, the athletes, and of course the football team. Sophomore Jennifer Howell said, "Homecoming was a success!"

The game was played later that evening. The team worked hard, but Milan gave them a tough defeat.

Finally the long awaited night of October 9th arrived. The football crowd anxiously anticipated the results of the election, as each candidate was escorted onto the football field. The everyone hushed to hear the announcement over the scratchy P.A. system. The king to be, Marty Hathcock, and also a football player, was crowned later at the dance. Marty was very suprised that he won, "I couldn't believe that they chose me!"

The nomination of the Homecoming king and queen was an event that drew an exceptional amount of student attention. Seniors wern't the only ones who took part in this by electing a court. Each class also elected a pair of students to represent them.

Winter came, as it always has, and hand in hand with winter was the ever popular TICWSS celebration, which was organized by the Student Council. TICWSS, which stands for Tecumseh Indians Celebrate Winter Sport Season, was held the third week of February.

Starting off the week, the students joined in the frenzy by wearing all different types of hats. On Tuesday, the students "came as they were", sporting their elegant pajamas, or even fuzzy, over-sized slippers. Next came flannel day. Brandy Kasmierziak thought that, "Everyone looked laid back and relaxed in their plaids."

On Thursday, people showed up in regular clothing, the catch? It was backwards. Finally, there was toga day, with only a few brave people wearing their flowered, striped, or just plain "bed sheets".

During half time, the TICWSS court entered the gymnasium wearing elegant dresses and suits. The freshman representatives were William Graham and Jennifer Campbell. The sophomore representatives were Bree Russell and Alan Schmidt. Ann Brooks and Aaron Wise made up the junior representatives. The senior court consisted of, Stacy Tindall, Danielle Jordan, Janelle Griffin, Aimee Bone, Randy Rhon, Brad Korte, Jason Adkisson, and Mark Lighthall.

A Night to Remember

VICTORIAN CHRISTMAS

The holiday season started with the annual Christmas Dance. It was a festive and memorable evening. The cafeteria was transformed into a Victorian ballroom, sponsored by the Senior class of 1993.

The theme, a Victorian Christmas, was carried out with elegance. The tables were lit up with candles while advent candles also were placed on the banquet table with a white lace table cloth. Everyone was dressed up and looking formal. Girls' dresses ranged from short strapless to long and elegant. The guys wore a variety of things such as suits and ties or sweaters.

To some, half of the fun of the dance was the anticipation and preparation for it, such as getting your hair done, going out to dinner, and getting pictures taken at your friends' houses. Junior Carrie Andre remarked "I enjoyed getting ready for the dance almost as much as the dance itself." There were funny, silly memories too, and great times. Jennifer Warren remarked, "The funniest thing at the dance was when Kenny Jaynes put a big white bow on his head and started jumping up and down. He reminded me of the Easter Bunny." Janella Meads remarked "I thought the dance was really fun. I had a great time."

"I hope this festive occasion helped get everyone tuned in to the Christmas Season," added Paula Bowman, senior class advisor, and "All who attended had a wonderful time."

Renaissance

Rewards For Student Achievement

What's more exciting than a Hudson's credit card? Why, Tecumseh Renaissance cards of course! In January 1991, through the efforts of former Assistant Principal Greg Huff, the Renaissance Program was established here at T.H.S. Through this program, students receive rewards for their academic achievements. "I believe the Renaissance Program is a great way to get students involved. It motivates them to bring up their grades," commented sophomore Jennifer Holdridge.

With the help of local businesses and merchants, the Renaissance Program is able to recognize students efforts. Gold, black, and orange cards are given to students offering various discounts.

This year gold cards were issued to 53 students who maintained a 4.0 average, and black cards were given to students averaging a 3.0 or better. Approximately 295 students qualified for the black cards. These cards admitted students to dances and athletic events at a discount. The gold card holders only, received reserved parking, reimbursements for the ACT exam, and yearbook discounts. Orange cards were given to students who improved their previous semester grades and/or had perfect attendance.

One of the regular events sponsored by the Renaissance Program was the Student of the Month selection. These awards given to students, chosen by their teachers, because of excellence in each of the twelve departments. Their names were displayed in a showcase honoring their specific achievements.

In addition to the honor, the humanitarian award had some cash value. A $10.00 gift certificate from McDonald's was awarded to a student, nominated by a teacher, for an humanitarian deed or service.

Success cards entitled students to a free soft drink at McDonalds. These cards were awarded for any outstanding event in a students daily performance. "I like success cards because I always go to McDonalds, and it's a money saver," remarked sophomore Troy Williams.

Drawings for prizes were held for those who had perfect attendance or excellent grade point averages during the two semesters. Most exciting was the drawing in which a car was given away by Cliff Pontiac.

With this program at Tecumseh High School, many students efforts improved tremendously. The faculty, students, and business participants had good things to say about the Renaissance program.

"I was surprised about winning the car. I never thought it would happen."

JUNIOR - SENIOR PROM

The prom was considered by many students as one of the biggest social events of the school year. The theme of the '93 prom, "Wonderful Tonight" was carried out in the hallway and with table decorations to create an elegant setting for the guests.

The sponsoring Junior class picked the theme and held many fund raisers for the prom. Those fundraisers included a bottle drive and an Easter cookie bake sale. "We worked very hard on the prom this year and it was great to see that everything turned out so well," said Junior Andrea Sears.

The prom goers received gifts and favors from the Junior class, a traditional glassware, a key chain, as well as fresh roses which decorated the tables. Prom tickets included a lavish buffet dinner. Guests' seating arrangements were by prearranged reservations marked by specially printed name cards

The highlight of the evening for Kelli

Handy and Monte Shearer was being crowned King and Queen. "It was an unexpected, but appreciated honor. It not only made the night but the year," said our Queen when asked how she felt about the occasion. Monte added, "It was very surprising to receive this honor. Sharing it with Kelli really puts a nice ending to our Senior year."

This year the prom location was the Sheraton Inn in Ann Arbor. "It was a nice change of scenery from Sauk Valley," commented Senior Nicole Curtis.

When people were not gambling, they could have enjoyed fortune tellers, relay games in the gym or the various kinds of refreshments. In addition, Junior Chris Gibsons offered, "The food at the 'after prom' was better than the food at the Prom."

Of course, this was not a real casino. Participants played for tickets to become eligible to be included in drawings for great prizes. The prizes were contributed by the area merchants or purchased with contributions. Some prizes that were given out were Cedar Point tickets, a radio, a T.V. and many more. The Art and Industrial Technology Departments exhibited student work that represented the culmination of the year. This gigantic statement of learning involved the work and combined efforts of over 500 students. Students enrolled in these classes had from two to six pieces in the show. Seniors last the "Class" is back in "Class Night"

It was May 27th, the last night together for the "Class of 1993". It was to be a special night of entertainment, excitement, bonding, sharing, laughing and crying.

For several years "Class Night" had progressively deteriorated into a negative event. Thus, a resulting controversy over whether "Class Night" would be a possibility this year. The seniors had to convince the administration that this would be a special night together. To make this night possible various committees were formed: awards, video (organized pictures and collected photos) and speakers. These speakers discussed with underclassmen appropriate behavior and attitude for the program. After the initial committee meetings, strategies were planned and the show was on. Throughout this planning process, the "Class Night" committee and class adviser, Paula Bowman met with the building and central administration. There were numerous meetings resulting in changes made by the administration. Finally all of the groups came to a consensus on appropriate content for the program.

The evening consisted of many well performed acts and skits. From bands and rockers to bodybuilders and satires on everyday classrooms. "Class Night" was extremely important to the 1993 seniors. Carrie Crumb commented that the best part of class night was, "Having it all come together after you have worked so hard on it." This special evening meant that it was the last time the whole class could come together prior to the more serious graduation.

To most that attended "Class Night", the performance and conduct was an improvement over the previous years. Superintendent Jerry Pound commented that the Seniors had, "... put 'Class' back in Class Night".

~~~~~ With concentration, breaking a baseball bat comes easy for Senior Chris Publiski. His "Power Team" comrades Keizo Takahashi and Jim Noble cheer on encouragement with Brandon Nolan contributing support.

They had walked the halls for the last time. They could look back on thirteen years of friendships, intellectual achievement, concern with grades, athletic games and involvement, dances, parties, excitement, boredom and all the great times they shared. They understood what it meant to be a part of it all. The years of high school growth, development and achievement had slipped past, closing one chapter, but opening new ones, as young adults who would move out in many directions. Many options had been offered to them. They had explored these views, and chosen their own goals. They know that the memories on these next pages will always be there, and hopefully the friendships will continue through years of college, work experience, family responsibilities, and all else that lies in store for them.

SO ~ FAR SO ~ GOOD

Definitely upper classmen, almost the class above the rest, the juniors always made a strong confident statement throughout the school, at pep rallies, in classes, lunch and in the halls. Finally, this year, they understood what it meant to be part of it all. They screamed their lungs out at the homecoming pep rally to be winners of the spirit contest. They planned this years prom, and the Junior girls played a "killer" game of football (even though the game was called "Powder Puff").

Juniors took stock of their achievements, and looked beyond the moment, or the next weekend, to think about college, careers, S.A.T.s, A.C.T.s, scholarships.

They took themselves more seriously and worked hard to keep a decent G.P.A. For most, this would be their most successful year at T.H.S., but next year would be the ultimate. They would be the Seniors.

Sophomores took a fresh look at their world with a more focused view point, and adjusted their vision to reflect a new attitude toward their goals. The challenges of being a sophomore required hard work and patience to deal with all the changes in their lives. Confidence would develop as students made more friends, and worked into new peer groups. They worried about being accepted by upper classmen and developing new relationships. The biggest advantage to being a sophomore was that they were no longer Freshmen. They had “learned territory,” learned to be part of the group. This also meant that their voices were heard more often as they took a larger role in school activities. Tougher classes required more discipline with better time management to accommodate a more active social life, and possibly, after school jobs.

The freshmen were presented with new and more demanding classes, a variety of different teachers, new lunch arrangements, a slew of after school activities, and of course, more freedoms. Inside the maze of rooms and hallways, they dealt with scheduling choices and responsibilities, pondering vital decisions that would impact on their future.

They took part in school activities with enthusiasm, energy, and good effort. Many projects would not have been completed without the "Mighty Freshmen." As it has always been and will always be, freshmen, being the newest members of the high school family, were often targets for teasing. However, those who stood back to take another look at this new generation, gradually accepted them with grudging admiration and respect as these students grew in stature and sophistication.

World news touched Tecumseh when the presidential campaign drove through downtown. Approximately 2000 people, including many senior and junior high students, gathered downtown early Wednesday, October 22, to greet Vice-President Dan Quayle. The crowd, including the THS band, centered on the East

Chicago-Ottawa intersection, where Quayle gave a short speech before leaving for Dundee and Monroe.

The G.O.P. caravan, having visited Hillsdale and Adrian, before coming to Tecumseh, traveled in three chartered busses. They were accompanied by a security force of secret service agents, State Police, and Sheriff's Deputies, with additional support from Tecumseh, and

Clinton Police officers for the vice-presidential visit.

This was one of the many events that made this school year memorable for everyone.

Where Were You . . . When

Everyone was talking about it everyday, all day. You'd hear about it for months on the news, in the papers, commercials on t.v. and radio. Everyone wondered who was going to win.

ELECTION . . . that word means something different for students at Tecumseh. For many seniors, it meant voting for the first time, working for the political party of their choice, going to a rally in East Lansing, or being a part of Dan Quayle's visit to Tecumseh.

Many seniors got the chance to vote in this year's election for the first time. They voted for the candidates that they thought would do the best job in the nation's top two offices. Voting for the first time is a big deal. Voicing your opinion through voting is a big privilege. Ryan Kambas, a senior at Tecumseh High, said "I waited in line for five minutes, pushed the buttons for the candidates of my choice, pulled the lever and the curtain opened."

Many seniors worked for the party of their choice for a project for Civinomics.

Some students worked on phone banks, where they called and surveyed people on the election. Others did walk-about which meant they just walked door-to-door and handed out literature about the party's candidates. Dani Marcinkiewicz worked for the Republican party and she said "I answered phones, did literature drops and stapled signs. I did it because I wanted to."

Around thirty students from Tecumseh went to a Bush/Quayle rally in East Lansing for the third debate between the three candidates George Bush, Bill Clinton and H. Ross Perot. Angie Chambers one of the fortunate students that was able to go said "It was the best experience I've ever had. It's hard to explain how interesting it was. It was something you just had to be at."

Finally, Tecumseh High School students and staff were involved in the 1992 presidential election and campaign than ever before. Did you exercise your rights as an American citizen and vote?

In the Presidential election of 1992, the Democratic wives, Tipper Gore and Hillary Clinton, were very active in the campaign. They both were tireless campaigners for the Clinton/Gore ticket.

In the Presidential campaign, George Bush and running mate Dan Quayle ran a good campaign but in the election people wanted change. With that change, they voted the Bush/Quayle administration out of office.

This year's election had its ups and downs for H. Ross Perot. He dropped out in mid July and re-entered the race five weeks before election day.

In the 1992 Presidential election, Bill Clinton stepped into the national spotlight slowly. He built up his fame and won the nomination at the Democratic Convention. He then went on to greater honors and won the 1992 Presidential election.

SO BE IT . . .

~~~~~ At the 1992 Democratic National convention in July in New York City, Bill Clinton and Al Gore won their party's nomination. They then went on to win the presidential election on November 4, 1992.

~~~~~ On October 21, 1992 former Vice President Dan Quayle came to Tecumseh for a whirlwind, ten minute stop.

~~~~~ Former Vice President Dan Quayle was on a bus tour through Michigan when he made a few short stops in Tecumseh and Adrian. Then went on to other Lenawee County towns.

Erik Ball

Tecumseh was fortunate to have the former Vice President of the United States make a quick campaign stop at the "ol' depot". Vice President Quayle moved through the crowd, shook hands and made a short speech about the election. He then left enroute to Monroe.

Unrest/Environment Key Issues

A country on the brink of social and environmental suicide.

It was a dark and gloomy night. Smoke and fear were in the air. Everyone waited, waited in silence. Waiting to see what might happen next. Anticipating what might become of their city. Yet when the smoke lifted and everything was examined, the Los Angeles riots were over, but the fight against racism went on.

The riots started when the verdict to the Rodney King beating was announced. The police that committed the beating were aquitted of any wrong doing by a jury. That is what triggered the protests. Yet, the protests turned into violence. Many people looted or set fires to buildings and even killed others.

The looting, killing and violence weren't just in the inner city where most people might expect it to be. It was all over the city of Los Angeles. It stretched from Wilshire Blvd. to Koreatown to Hollywood Blvd.

For three days, the violence continued. After it was all over, there were 52 people dead, 2,383 injured and 18,807 arrests. The estimated report of damages to the city was $785 million.

In order for the rioting to stop, the government had to bring in the National Guard and the military. They also had to instill a temporary curfew from dusk to dawn.

The riots have ended. The continuous violence has ended, but the crimes have not. The war against racism and equality still goes on even if it has not been reported.

~~~~~ For three long days in May, looters went through Los Angeles tearing it apart. It started as a protest against the verdict of the Rodney King beating, but it turned into three days of riots that devastated Los Angeles.

~~~~~ Air pollution is a major problem the world shares. The Environmental Protection Agency issued rules curbing industrial air pollution.

SO BE IT . . .

~~~~~ Hurricane Andrew carved through the Bahamas and then hit south Florida. On it's 54 hour rampage, it was the most expensive natural disaster ever. It left 180,000 homeless in Florida alone. Fifty-one deaths in the U. S. and estimated total $227 billion in property damages.

~~~~~ Recycling is another major issue in America. A vast supply of products and other trash reusable are a result of the recycling movement.

~~~~~ Clear cutting was one way that enviromentalists wanted to use to eliminate timber in 1992 and 1993. Enviromental groups want to protect the woods and the species that live in the sanctum of the woods.

What was new in

'92

1992 was a very busy year. The Summer Olympics took place in Barcelona Spain, the music group En Vogue released a hot new album titled "Funky Divas," rock artist Axl Rose was arrested for injuring fans and police officers, Kris Kross started a new fad and the Red Hot Chili Peppers made a new album titled "Blood Sugar Sex Magik" which topped the charts.

The 1992 Summer Olympics games were a very good opportunity for the American athletes to prove that they could compete with any other country in the world. There was a record number of 10,000 athletes that competed at the 1992 Olympics games. These athletes professional and amateurs from over 180 countries came to win a medal for their country.

Terry Ellis, Dawn Robinson, Cindy Herron and Maxine Jones, the members of En Vogue, a stylish hip-hop singing group are not set on one certain type of singing. They sing everything from rhythm and blues to rap to rock. With their sound and style, sometimes they are referred to as the "Supremes of the 1990's." Although no single girl's voice grabs center stage, each has her own rich, layered voice.

Axl Rose of Guns N' Roses was arrested during one of his concerts after he leaped into the crowd to take a video camera from a fan. The group had a tendency or a "reputation" to get a little "rowdy" or over excited at their concerts. Forty concert-goers and twenty-five police officers were injured during Axl's fury.

Two teenage rappers are turning the fashion industries "upside down". Kris Kross a new rap group made their views known to everyone this year on how they wear their clothes. Kris Kross members, Kris Smith and Kris Kelly, both 13, wear their clothes back-to-front. Their first big single was "Jump," next came "Warm It Up" another big success for the teenage duo.

The Red Hot Chili Peppers produced their second album since the 1988 death of founding guitarist Hillel Slovack and the subsequent departure of drummer Jack Irons. The current members formed six months after Slovack's death. The album features the songs "Under The Bridge" and "Give It Away." This album is a quieter, more thoughtful side of the Chili Peppers but it still has the sonic funk.

This year has proved to be very busy for the United States.

The Red Hot Chili Peppers anxiously accept their award from the MTV Music Video Awards. Their newest album "Blood Sugar Sex Magik" hit the top of the charts as soon as it was released. The Red Hot Chili Peppers have no pre-conceived notions; "We just do whatever comes out," said drummer Chad Smith.

The backward duo of Kris Smith and Kris Kelly, better known as Kris Kross, stole the hearts of thousands screaming teenage fans.

~~~~~ The 1992 Summer Olympics were held in Barcelona, Spain. The year proved to be a good year for the United States. Even though we were not able to take a place in all events, they were able to take home a total of 108 medals. Diver Mary Ellen Clark helped by winning a bronze in the 10 meter platform.

The clubs were an important element in the fabric of life at THS. Every day after school, one or more clubs met to solve problems, raise funds, or plan activities, such as dances and field trips, or other activities to enjoy themselves. Clubs provided unique opportunities for growth, development of special interests, and socialization. They provided ways for students to get together outside of classroom activities in a less formal setting, to meet people you might not otherwise meet, or a chance to cultivate a special talent. Most clubs were sponsored by a teacher/advisor with elected officers. Some had national affiliation such as N.H.S. and the new N.A.H.S.

One of the newest clubs was the Earth Club, while the Art Club was one of the oldest. Clubs tried to meet the needs of all students who wanted to belong to an organization.

S. A. D. D.

SAVING LIVES OF TEENS

Red ribbons were used as important symbols in the Students Against Driving Drunk campaign to combat mishaps on our roads due to illegal under-age drinking. The ribbons were tied on cars to create awareness of the death and destruction caused by young people drinking. To prepare for this, advisor Mrs. Judy Kastel had a pizza party for the members as they cut ribbons. They also created a "Chain of Life" with students' signatures on pieces of ribbon making the links of a chain which were hung in the cafeteria. The goal, of course, was to keep the chain intact.

S.A.D.D. initially began in 1989 due to the efforts of Mrs. Judy Kastel "I started a S.A.D.D. chapter at T.H.S because we needed to make students aware of the seriousness of drinking illegally and equally important, driving carelessly. We are realistic enough to know that under-age alcohol consumption is a big reality here in Tecumseh."

S.A.D.D. was most active during the holidays, prom time and major Junior or Senior parties, since this is when most fatalities occurred among teenagers. The After Prom party was their last activity, winding down the school year.

Aimee Bone discussed details of the ribbon chain with Nicole Smith, Phung Cao, Matthew Landers and Janie Walker.

Peer Listeners met at the school library in December. At the monthly meeting, they discussed Teen Pregnancy with a speaker from Child and Family Services.

The thirty-five people who handled the big job of being peer listeners were students trying to make a difference in the lives of other high school students. They were there in case someone needed to talk to a person their own age about a problem.

Peer Listeners names were posted in all classrooms so that everyone would know who they could talk to. These conversations could be arranged after school, during lunch or almost any time.

The Peer Listeners acquired essential attentive listening skills at their required training. These hard working students made an extra effort with the new kids to make them feel more at home.

The South Central Michigan Substance Abuse Prevention Program, which began the Peer Listening program here in 1983, sent Barb Van Hooten as a representative and mediator at the meetings. The advisors to the Peer Listening group are Mrs. Mary Fall and Mrs. Pam Pardee.

"These Peer Listeners and their advisors are to be remembered for their services to our school," said Janella Meads. Some Peers listened to several students a week.

Listening attentively, Mrs. Pardee, Brandi Wotring and Amber Majeske take notes at a meeting. Peer Listening training helped members understand themselves as well as help others.

Meggan Aiuto, Laura Bishop, Joellen Nickolson and Ryan Saling discuss TICWSS week events. Instead of class decorations in the halls, this year each class put up banners and signs on the walls of the gym. The meetings were held throughout the building with this meeting held in the band room.

STUDENT COUNCIL Leaders of Tomorrow

"The Student Council was the government at Tecumseh High," indicated Mr. Phillips, the student council advisor. "The main purpose of the Student Council was to be the voice of the student body, and to develop leadership qualities in the participating representatives."

The elected representatives had to be trustworthy listeners with good communication skills. The responsibility of a representative was to relay the ideas and concerns of the student body to the faculty. In order to do this well, the representatives had to have confidence in themselves, as well as in their ideas.

The representatives were elected by their first hour classes. However, the officers, President, Meggan Aiuto; Vice President, Laura Bishop; Secretary, Joellen Nicholson and Treasurer, Ryan Saling were voted on at the end of the previous year. The Student Council's major efforts were to sponsor a successful Homecoming and TICWSS week with programs, dances and activities for the students.

In the opinion of most students, the council had a beneficial effects on the school year. It made a more positive environment for all. "Student Council did many things for the students. Without it, these things would not have been done," said Meggan Aiuto.

TICWSS topics were discussed during a third hour meeting by Council Representatives Thomas Richardson, Zachary Stuckey and Jason Zorn. Their main objective was to plan an exciting week for all students.

N.H.S. members decided on a schedule for tutoring other students after school. Almost all members participated in the tutoring.

N.H.S. was a select group of academically advanced students who were not only committed to improving themselves but to helping others. Those students in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades with a cumulative grade point average of 3.3 or better may have been invited to join in the spring. Other criteria for membership were having the approval of five high school teachers. Members must have been able to meet and maintain the high standards of leadership, service and character.

Each member was expected and required to participate in five hours of service. Three of these hours were to be fulfilled by helping students in the library after school who were having trouble with their homework. This year twenty-four new members were inducted making the club sixty-eight members strong. The members participated in a Christmas party and an Easter party. Both were co-sponsored by the N.H.S.

Members of the National Honor Society not only had above average grades, but they took pride in their academic achievements, and tried to help others be as successful as they were.

~~~~~ Senior Rhonda Janick helped with the efforts for Homecoming by working on one of the downtown windows. The students were motivated by a competition to see who could create the best window design.

ART CLUB

DESIGNING, CREATING, AND PAINTING

Most of the people who went downtown the week of Homecoming couldn't help but notice the color that had been added to their city blocks. Windows of the downtown merchants were painted with messages and bright colors to inspire the community to join in the festivities of Homecoming. The Art Club spent Saturday before Homecoming painting original designs based on characters in cereal commercials. The windows were judged on neatness, originality and clarity. The winners were announced at the Homecoming game half-time ceremony.

The art club, directed by Mrs. Ann Merrill, and the officers, President Kristin Housekeeper, Vice president

Miranda Reid, Treasurer Debbie Schmidt, and Secretary Sara Schlenderer gave art students a chance to participate in activities to promote the arts and have some fun.

Members decorated more than 50 Halloween pumpkins with acrylics for distribution to area nursing homes.

The major fund raiser for the club was the "Hip Hop Hoe Down", a D.J. dance that they co-sponsored with the French club on Oct. 23. Decorations involved a life-sized ghost relaxing in a chair. Funds raised were used to help support projects and activities in the art department.

The club also supported the Annual Student Exhibition held in the gym.

~~~~~ The Art Club gave students a chance to work with different media. Freshmen Kim Wagner prepared clay for use on the potter's wheel.

The breakfast initiation was held in the art room, before school, on Thursday, March 6. Because the theme for initiation was color, red carnations were presented to new members. Symbolism of color was a part of the ceremony.

Special scholarships were awarded to N.A.H.S. mem-

This show included pieces of work by N.A.H.S. art students and other advanced students. A reception was held for the students, friends, families and people in the community on Sunday afternoon, April 25. Several groups of musicians played for the gallery goers. # Spanish Club

Experience a new culture

The Spanish club is an organization of students, that are interested in learning about the Spanish culture.

The Spanish Club was lead by President Joy Mauricio, Vice President Chad Majeske, Secretary Ericka Slusher and Advisor Senor Jose Mejia. Senor Mejia thinks this club is good for students because it gives students a first hand learning experience with food and culture.

The Spanish Club was involved in many activities, for example, early in the school year the club held a fund-raising car wash. The money that the club earned helped the students pay for a trip to Mexico. Students looked forward to the trip to Mexico with Sr. Mejia which included a stay with a Mexican family for seven to fourteen days.

It was easy to join the Spanish Club. The only requirement was that you had to be in a Spanish class and ready to participate in planned activities, such as the car wash, and to help with an annual sponsored dance. The Spanish Club also helped the French Club make a float for the Exchange Students.

In the Spring, the club went to The Sunny Side Cafe in Adrian to try some Mexican food. As quoted by member Melissa Irelan, "Spanish Club was an interesting and fun experience. We didn't get together all that much, but when we did we had a good time."

Spanish Club advisor Jose Mejia and Geoff English check the inventory of sold items from the "fund-raiser". The profits from student sales were used for club activities and cultural field trips.

Bonjour! Ca va bien? That was just a small sample of the world of French. It means "Hi, how are you?" The French Club's purpose was to enhance French students lives with French culture.

This enrichment took the form of eating, traveling and entertainment. Making French food and enjoying it was a very popular activity. "Eating is our favorite pastime," said Mrs. Wilson. Students had the opportunity of going to French related plays, and taking a three week long tour of France during the summer with Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Jerabek.

There were about fifty members. Officers: President Sara Catros, Vice President Mandy Clark, Secretary Corey Jenkins and Treasurer Kelly Ryan assisted Mrs. Jan Wilson and Mrs. Susan Jerabek.

They were also involved in Homecoming, building a float with the Spanish Club for the Exchange Students. In October they co-sponsored a dance with the Art Club.

Varsity Club

The choice among athletes

Varsity Club is an extra curricular activity designed to give something back to the people of the community. The Varsity Club was very involved in the planning and preparation for many activities around the community as well as working at athletic events to earn money to help support their program.

Varsity Club activities included helping a variety of groups in the community. For example, at Christmas time, members gave a party at a local nursing home. Members and party-goers enjoyed eating and Christmas caroling with the senior citizens. Each member presented a gift to an assigned senior citizen.

In the Spring, an Easter Egg hunt was organized by the club to entertain the young children of Tecumseh. The party was held in the High School gym.

The Varsity Club was a service organization which took on projects to benefit the community. Members of the club had all participated in sports at the varsity level. The Varsity Club consisted of approximately 60 students.

F.C.A. stood for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, a club for the participants in sports at THS.

This club was geared to helping students develop school spirit and leadership. Mr. Jim Curth, the F.C.A. advisor, felt that to be a leader you must show initiative, the ability to work well with others, to be able to delegate authority and to share responsibility.

Club members worked toward those goals during the school year. F.C.A. was involved with many community-related activities including roadside cleanup, a Christmas party for the elderly and an Easter party for community children.

To support the club, Athletic Director Gail Shinall paid members to collect the admission at Junior High and Freshmen sporting events. Active members who participated in a majority of F.C.A.'s activities, received a discount on F.C.A. clothing, such as sweatshirts and t-shirts.

Athletes worked to present a solid example of sportsmanship and citizenship to the rest of the student body.

Quiz Bowl Quest for Victory

CONCENTRATION & EFFORT, REAP REWARDS

The Quiz Bowl team was a group of students who competed in an academic game. They relied on their intuition, wits and knowledge of facts, profound and trivial, that they had acquired through studying, reading and being curious. Being an academic high achiever and having quick reflexes were two very important and key skills needed to succeed in their quest to victory.

According to Gordy Kruger, "It's just like Jeopardy, except there's no Alex Trebek, big board, categories or money. On second thought only the buzzers are the same . . . kinda."

They traveled to compete with students from other schools, much like the basketball or volleyball teams. While students in other sports shaped and conditioned their bodies for their sport, the students in Quiz Bowl were exercising and shaping their minds for tomorrow. As a result, they were interested in almost everything and accepted the challenge of each new Quiz Bowl match.

Geniuses? No, members of Equations didn't have to be math geniuses, but they did have to be quick thinkers, had to be able to look at a situation from all sides and to be able to develop creative mathematical solutions. "You have to learn to explore every possibility for a solution no matter how simple because otherwise someone would catch you on it and you would lose," explained Jenny Knight.

Members of the team competed and practiced like a basketball team but socialized like a club. Many members began to participate while still in the Junior High, while others joined after they arrived in the High School.

Competitions were against the other county schools and teams of their peers. These were held once a month throughout the school year at the L.I.S.D. As a result, members got to know a lot of interesting people from other schools. "We were thought of as being a very spirited team," said one member.

Equations was a game invented at the University of Michigan using cubes with numbers and signs to form equations. The object was to fool opponents into thinking that a problem was impossible or required only a single left-over cube.

FORENSICS

Creative Dramatics

This was only the second year that Tecumseh High School participated in the Lenawee County Forensics League. Forensic students competed and acted in many events, such as multiple, duo, humorous and dramatic interpretation. They also included a reading of poetry, persuasive speaking, story telling and impromptu. The students were allowed to enter in two events. The key to why students pushed themselves to perfect their performances may be in David Steiner's thought, "I like acting and performing, making people laugh. The rush of watching the audience enjoying themselves is overwhelming."

The end of the season was celebrated with an annual pot luck. At the pot luck, each person that participates won a medal for J.V or Varsity level and also received any plaques during the season.

"The students in Forensics are a very creative group of people, that like to have fun. We have an especially talented group who should win awards in several events," commented advisor Karen Messerly.

where a sport is a club

In their second year, the soccer club competed in ten games from August until the end of October. Of those games played, they were overpowered four times, although they didn't fail to come back to humiliate five other teams on their schedule. They were evenly matched against one team which resulted in a tie. "It was more of a learning experience for next year so we can play better," said member Andy Krezmien.

"We had a rough begining, but then the team pulled together pretty well. We could easily go undefeated next year," said captain Brady Horn. "It was a very good season and the first chance the THS soccer team had to go into post season play and did very well," said coach Jose Mejia. "The season waswell. We had a good record and it was a lot of fun because all of my good friends play soccer also," said Zack Stuckey.

Many of the members of the club were very disappointed that soccer was not a varsity sport. "It would be more competitive if it were a varsity sport," agreed members Nick Hunter and Steve Menyhart.

Varsity players take time before a game to observe their J.V. team in action against Monroe. Both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams won that day.

Although soccer is alledged to be the most popular sport in the world with nearly twenty million people involved, it was relatively new to Tecumseh. Our teams had just completed their second year in the sport. With only 33 players (19 JV, 14 Varsity), the girls J.V. soccer team had a remarkable season and an impressive record.

The Varsity team however had more of a struggle. "Even though we didn't have a winning season, we played well and worked as a team," said Courtney Stapleton. The team only had two days outside practice prior to their first game against Pickney. However, most of the girls had played last year and attended soccer camp during the summer. "Everyone improved alot this year and we had a very successful season," said goalie Amanda Pardee. "We had a lot of new players and I feel great that everyone is getting involved. It's always good to see people interested in the soccer program" said Yvonne Pape.

Environmental Awareness at THS

Environmental Awareness and Recycling at Tecumseh High were what Earth Club stood for. Many students enjoyed being in the Earth Club because they learned the responsibilities of maintaining a clean environment and they hoped High School students could make an environmental difference. Advisor Eric Ferwerda stated, "Our goals are to increase the awareness of environmental issues through education at Tecumseh and the community, to make Tecumseh a more environmentally friendly place."

The projects of Earth Club were the clean up of Evans Creek running through the Tecumseh High School campus and running the recycled paper program. They also helped the Nature Conservancy to maintain the Fen, a wetlands area just south of Tecumseh.

"We hope to accomplish in the future is having the people of the community to help keep our city clean," says President Raelyn Majeske. The other officers were Vice President Nicole Weitzel, Secretary Genevieve Knight, Treasurer Christina Shear and Public Relations Alice Towey.

A speaker from the University of Michigan, Damon Kirin explained to the Earth Club how his environmental group functions.

There were many opportunities for students to explore their interests and develop their intellects. The abundance of academic and elective offerings, to pursue study, was overwhelming. It took effort and discipline to keep a high grade point average. New concepts were not always easily understood or accepted by students, and of course, exams could cause stress in anyone. Many hours in the library and computer lab were a part of everyone's school program. School days offered several computer classes for students who wanted to take advantage of them. There was also selection of new course offerings. Academic requirements could sometimes be restrictive, but a choice of electives offered "hands on" experiences and alternative learning style opportunities. All these choices made the four years of school very rewarding.

Next year in the Art Department, there will be a new and exciting change. No, we're not getting new paintbrushes, we're getting a new teacher from Finland. But what happens to Mrs. Merrill? She is going to Finland to fill in his position as a Junior High School art teacher. Juha Kopio will be filling in for her as one of our art teachers. They will be doing this for a year.

They're not just exchanging jobs but they are also exchanging homes for the year. She'll be leaving for Finland in July with a friend to get accustomed to the Finnish culture. Her husband, Owen, will join her later in the year. Mr. Kopio may come to Tecumseh as early as June to help teach Mrs. Merrill the Finnish language.

She will not only be able to go to Finland, but she will also be able to travel throughout Europe. She will bring back with her the culture of the Finnish people and the new experiences she gained. This will be new and exciting for her, but she will be greatly missed at T.H.S. especially by her former art students.

Parting Principal

Lacny retires after 18 yrs of service

Among all of the new and exciting changes that took place at T.H.S. this last year, our principal for eighteen years Clarence Lacny has decided to retire. Mr. Lacny said that he moved to Tecumseh because he heard that the community and the people were friendly.

After spending so much time in the school system, he would like to get involved in business or industry. After his retirement, one of the things he is looking forward to is traveling and spending the day on the golf course.

Mr. Lacny has not decided where he is going to live after his retirement. But, he would like to write a book, about his years being a principal. This book, he would like to call, "The Day in the Life of a High School Principal."

During his tenure, Mr. Lacny has become a member of many professional organizations. Mr. Lacny has been president of Lenawee Co. Secondary School Principals, and the Phi Del Ta Kappa.

Many new innovations, educational concepts and theories have taken place during Mr. Lacny's years in the administration. Some of which are the School Improvement Program, Senior Honors Program, Departmental Awards, and the Renaissance Program.

The one thing he will miss the most is the students. He also thinks that the school will become great in the years to come. Mr. Lacny feels that the new superintendent is going to make improvements and changes in the school district. One thing he would like to tell the students is "Go for it, because it may not stay out there forever".

With the retirement of Mr. Lacny, the school will go through an era of changes. Those changes will bring us new leadership, development and improvement.

Bringing You The Past

To complete the 1992-93 yearbook, it took plenty of hard work and dedication. The yearbook class was complex because there is so much to be accomplished and not much time to complete it.

"Being the editor has been a good experience for me, but it is a lot of work. I think this class is for someone who can be serious and work hard, but also at their own pace," senior Jennifer Graham commented.

Sophomore Kevin Gentry has a slightly different opinion about the class, "This year was a great experience, and I'm sure I'll profit from the knowledge that I have gained. I'm sure it will help me in the future."

This is the first year of teaching the yearbook class for co-advisors Mrs. Ann Merrill and Mr. Ron Frenzen. "Most students do not understand how difficult it is to assemble a record for the entire year. It is a tremendous undertaking and responsibility. We had a dedicated staff and an experienced editor that helped complete the book," commented Frenzen.

Some specific items that the class members learned were good communication skills when selling ads and yearbooks and also different composition techniques and styles when writing stories and captions.

The class was run in a very professional way. In many ways it was like a business. In the future, students who wish to be on the yearbook staff must meet certain criteria in order to be chosen to be in the class.

Deadlines Press Tribune Staff

Journalism was a class that published the school newspaper. The students reported on events that took place during the school year.

The THS Tribune reported to the reader scores of sporting events, horoscopes and anything else exciting or interesting that was going on. After Homecoming, the Tribune did features on events such as the floats from the parade and who won as Homecoming king and queen, Marty Hathcock and Meggan Aiuto. There were articles on individuals, such as Justin Fielder, Emily Adkisson and Aaron Wise. There were also feature articles on topics like teen-age pregnancy and drugs. During Christmas, the Tribune allowed students to print Christmas messages to each other.

People who haven't been in a journalism class might think it was an easy class, but that was not what people in the class said. They said it was the exact opposite. "The class was productive, but yet laid back." Junior Nicole Pipgras also commented, "It is a lot of hard work that takes a lot of effort."

Journalism required responsibility, hard work and creativity. According to Erica Hanna, "the four main goals in the class were to plan a layout, write a story, sell and design ads and to sell the Tribune." If the students were on the photography staff, they were expected to take good quality pictures.

In Journalism, students got the experience of working with other people, and a good feeling when the paper was published and read by all the other students. That was when journalism students realize what an important, but yet exciting class they were in. They produced about seven or eight editions a year. Businesses from around Tecumseh, Adrian and even some from Clinton put ads in the Tribune. Erica Hanna commented, "The Tribune was a great way to express your opinions and feelings, the editorial and feature pages are my favorite. I love to write about controversial topics like abortion, drugs and especially the legalizing of marijuana!"

~~~~~ Brenda Roesler, Carrie Bowman and Shelly Elkins all busily work on the layout for the paper. They all worked very hard on the paper and they enjoyed it.

The Tecumseh High School Band

"I think that the feeling and emotion put into our music is what makes the band so wonderful. It's always been one of the best bands I've ever heard, but with the help of the students' enthusiasm and emotion, I think this year's band was unbelievable!"

Tony Bush

As the leaves fell and the colors of autumn began to show, the Tecumseh High School Marching Band members were hard at work planning out their routines. The dedicated students, the strict but whimsical conductor and the implacable Flag Corp made up the delightful halftime crowd pleaser known as the Shooting Stars.

"The Marching Band will be even more awesome next year because of their percussion line and strong hard working visual line. Look for great things to happen during next year's concerts and look forward to an unbelievable Collage Concert," commented Flag Corp supervisor Brynn Tiede.

With the curtain still closed, the woodwind section moisten their reeds as they awaited the eager crowd. The Tecumseh High School Symphonic and Concert Bands both proved that they were among the best bands Tecumseh has ever seen. The bands presented a beautiful performance at the 8th Annual Collage Concert and received numerous awards and scholarships throughout the year.

At their annual band competition, they did phenomenally well. Receiving very high scores and a hurricane of encouraging compliments, Mr. Rice walked away with a smile.

Unfortunately, the band is losing many graduating seniors. These talented individuals will hopefully take their gift of music to wherever they may go. The Tecumseh High School Music Department wishes all the graduates well, and welcome the incoming freshmen to join in the fun that the Tecumseh High School Band has to offer.

"For as long as I have music. As long as there's a song for me to sing. I can find my way, I can see a brighter day." These lyrics are from one of the many songs that the Tecumseh High School Choir performed during their many concerts throughout the school year.

Mrs. Hunt, vocal director, was overwhelmed with the students ability and enthusiasm. The Choir has grown from about 16 students in 1990 to 34 students this year. The community and other audience members that attended the performances were flabbergasted when the choir performed such songs as: "Fugue for Tinhorns", "Let's Begin Again", "Beauty & the Beast" and "Glorificamus Te." The Choir proved to accomplish all of their goals and, through thick and thin, pleased audiences of all sizes.

During the 8th Annual Collage Concert, many students revealed their individual talents. Senior, Laura Bishop sang "On My Own", Senior Carrie Crumb sang "Wind Beneath My Wings", Freshman, Kristie Tiede sang "Wishing You Were Somehow Here Again", and the duet of Freshman Michelle Hillner and Junior Erik Ball performed "A Whole New World" from the current hit movie, "Aladdin".

The Choir also received very high scores during their annual choir competition in Jackson. The judges had many inspiring and complimentary comments for the Choir.

"I just want the kids to know that to be a member of the Choir is a lot of work, but the enjoyment comes from the accomplishments you make," commented Mrs. Hunt.

A Class For You

Cross-Age Tutoring is not just any class, it's a chance to view the classroom from a different perspective. It is an opportunity for the high school students to experience hands-on teaching and be with children of all ages. "It is a very unique opportunity," explains Matt Hammond.

The cross-age tutors worked with every level from eighth grade to Developmental Kindergarten. The high school students also have an occasion to work with special needs students.

Cross-age tutors helped the teachers and the kids by giving the teachers ideas and helping in the classroom by doing various projects. Most tutors did bulletin boards, paintings, pictures or assignments where the teacher needed help. Toni Towne commented, "My kids were really great to work with, and I liked learning something with them each and every day."

Cross-age tutoring was more than going to classrooms and helping kids with their homework. You really have to work hard with these kids. "It's a lot of fun, especially when you obtain that feeling of accomplishment after you finish helping one of the kids," comments Nicki Curtis.

There were certain requirements that each cross-age tutor must complete. There were journal entries for every week, and four major projects due each nine weeks. Every three to four weeks the tutors met for a seminar class. The seminars were meant to discuss about situations that the tutors may have faced or possible problems that may occur in the classroom. It also gave the students a forum to talk about their projects and to relate the humorous happenings in the classroom. The requirements for the Cross-Age Tutoring program were an application evaluation, good references, and a positive attitude.

Cross-age tutoring was one of the most unique classes at Tecumseh High School. If you love being with children or just like helping others, then Cross-Age Tutoring is for you.

Astonishment was the feeling that one has to overcome when entering the art room or simply glancing in while walking by. There is the shoe collection, the moose head, the Wizard from the Oz, the t-shirt collection from the plays at the Civic and the other various objects that have been collected over the years by Mr. Ron Frenzen, Mrs. Ann Merrill and former art students.

Art students began their art careers in a basic first year foundation class, Art and Design. It was a full year class that must be taken before enrolling in advanced specific areas of art. Art and Design taught basic form, design and shading techniques. This class also dabbled a little in water color, clay sculpture, paper marbelizing and calligraphy.

Once Art and Design has been completed, there were a wide variety of art courses such as Painting I and II, Ceramics I and II, Crafts I and II, Sculpture, Jewelry, Drawing I and II and Advanced Placement Studio Art which a student could select as an elective.

Students who Mr. Frenzen and Mrs. Merrill feel were truly talented in the art field and were in the twelfth grade may be placed in Advanced Placement. In this class, these students did college level work and could receive college credit.

All of the hard work in these classes was well worth it, because in the spring the artists got their moment of fame for a whole week by showing their art in the annual Student Exhibition.

From Their Country To Ours...

Students from all over the world came to Tecumseh High School. Students arrived from nine different countries. When the students arrived, they were greeted by their host families at the airport.

The students went on many trips this year with the YFU (Youth For Understanding). They went to a number of orientation meetings. Some of these meetings were attended by the host family as well.

Some of the students left the United States on July seventeenth to return their countries. For a lot of the students, it was hard to leave their friends and host families. But then they were reunited with their friends and families in their home countries. A few of the students went back to school when they got to their home countries.

Exchange students were active in extracurricular activities, sports and clubs this year. The students that were in soccer: Juan Angulo, Stefan Carlsson, Lothar Klein and Ole Stisen. Cross Country: Tue Toft and Nuria Auton. Swimming/ Diving: Stefan Carlsson, Tue Toft and Cedric Peschaud. Track: Stefan Carlsson, Tue Toft, Lothar Klein, Ole Stisen, Barbara Delitala, Luciana Lossio, Annalies van der Veen and Fernanda Lardosa. Equestrian Team: Luciana Lossio and Stephanie Krause.

The students have a lot of new and cherished memories of their year's stay in the United States. Each student will have their own special memories. Tue Toft said, "His special memory was his week long trip to New York City because it was so big compared to my country." Whereas Barbara Delitala commented, "That her favorite memory was walking around with her friends and discovering new things in Tecumseh." Ole Stisen added, "That he will never forget his experiences at school, when my sculpture piece was picked as one of the top 18 in the state and competing in the soccer games."

"America is a totally different country than Italy with different people and a different way of living."
-Barbara Delitala

"I like school here in America but it's different. In Denmark, we don't have the same hours everyday."
-Ole Stisen

"I like my American family (the Adams) very much. We had a good time together. I will miss them when I go home."
-Tue Toft

"I miss the disco's, the different kind of food and the warm winter."
-Fernanda Lardosa

AWARDS NIGHT

on the voyage of discovery

The "Voyage of Discovery" invitations had been mailed. Proud parents had received them announcing their son's or daughter's selection as a departmental award recipient and circled the date on the home calendar. Finally the evening of the 18th Annual Awards Night had arrived. As tradition would have it, the students still did not know which award they were to be given.

When Mr. Vic Stevens conceived the Awards Night idea 18 years ago, it was his committee's intention not to inform the students of their specific awards. When the students arrived at the Civic Auditorium, they were then informed of their individual awards and the process for the evening's program began.

Mr. Ray Schmidt, the Master of Ceremonies stated, "that it was important to recognize our students." Over thirteen percent of the student body were recognized with awards for outstanding work. The departmental awards were based on academic progress, citizenship and classroom behavior. Schmidt added, "We have awarded outstanding performances in athletics for many years. Academic achievement recognition is the main reason we are here, to say 'you did a good job'."

After the presentations, Mr. Schmidt addressed the audience about the voyage of education and the journey of discovery. Mr. Schmidt stated, "that the voyage continues throughout life no matter how old or damaged your sails." Schmidt concluded his message by wishing the students, "calm seas in their quest for knowledge."

At the Senior Awards Night, Deb Schmidt is presented her University of Michigan scholarship. Making the presentation was Superintendent, Mr. Jerry Pound while Mr. Lacny looked on.

The Indian athletes put in long hours of practice for one purpose, victory. They also faced defeat, and learned to become more dedicated to win the next game. From inexperienced freshmen to powerful varsity players, they were all vulnerable to discouragement, lack of confidence, or complacency. Every day coaches tried to lift the spirits of their players, to inspire them to practice harder, run faster or work longer, to make them hungry for a win.

They always needed support from the fans too, whether it was just small applause or as loud as an outrageous gorilla hoot with uncontrolled screaming. Playing sports developed the concept of being a team member, of dedicating themselves to working for the team, the coach and the school, whether they were stars or bench jockeys. Being a part of the team was actually more significant than who won or lost. Aside from the statistics in the score box, all the student athletes were winners.

"We came in expecting to win, and we knew that if we put them down early we could beat them."

Kevin Ryan

The Tecumseh Varsity Football team fought through a frustrating season to finish with a four win and five loss record. The Varsity squad had a tough year with a series of close ballgames with Tecumseh on the losing end. "We seem to come close enough to win, but in the end of the games we run out of steam," said junior receiver Dan James.

Tecumseh started the season on a sour note with a heartbreaking loss to Hillsdale 19-18, but came back to win three in a row. Lincoln was Tecumseh's first victim. The Indians ran over the Railsplitters 45-12. Then the 19-13 overtime win over arch rival Saline boosted the Indian's spirits to go on to defeat Jackson N.W. The Indians dominated N.W. in every category en route to a 48-0 victory. "We came in expecting to win, and we knew that if we put them down early we could beat them," replied senior end Kevin Ryan.

The Indians then hit the rough part of their season head on, but failed to win a ballgame. The Indians came up short on all three games against Pinckney, Milan, and eventual S.E.C. Champ Chelsea. "We just flat out lost our momentum and our opponents took advantage of it," replied junior wide receiver Derek Johnson.

With two games to go Tecumseh defeated Dexter 28-14 before the long bus ride to Marshall. The Indians lost 49-0

Six Indians were honored this year, Jim Noble for defensive second team, and Ryan Kambas for offensive first team. Also honorable mention was given to Marty Hathcock, Sam Schmidt, and Matt Wilson. Brad Korte also received honors for his efforts.

Brad Korte received S.E.C. honors for offensive first team, and was also selected for defensive second team. One other honor for Korte was being named to the All-State team.

"The Northwest game was an emotional win, we pulled together and proved we could play as a team."

Nathan Hug

The Tecumseh Junior Varsity football team came into the year with hopes of an S.E.C. championship and maybe even an undefeated season. However, those dreams were soon dashed by losing their first three games.

The Indians were winless until traveling to Jackson Northwest. With the Mounties leading 6-0 at half-time, the record of 0-4 became more of a reality. Led by freshman quarterback Derrick Wolfe, the Indians scored 14 unanswered points. "The Northwest game was an emotional win, we pulled together and proved we could play as a team," stated sophomore co-captain Nathan Hug.

The Indians dropped two more games before playing league foe Chelsea in front of their home crowd. The tension began to build and the game was still scoreless with less than two minutes to play. On fourth and nine, Wolfe connected with splitend Kevin Gentry to set up first and goal on the Chelsea seven yard line. After two Nathan Hug three yard jolts up the middle, Rick Wood took the ball into the end zone off the excellent blocks of freshman Jason Mensing and Ryan Mathews. This proved to be the only score in a strongly played defensive struggle. "Team unity helped us to defeat Chelsea. We played together and showed we really wanted to win," replied Mathews.

The Indians finished the season losing the last two games and a grim 2-7 record. "Throughout the season, they overcame many obstacles and gradually improved. If they continue to improve and spend some time in the weight room they should contribute greatly to the varsity squad," stated coach Jay Osburn.

Amy Still

Tecumseh takes it to the hoop!

The Tecumseh High School Girls' Varsity Basketball team, led by Coach Ron Spagnoli, had an impressive season. Because of five returning seniors, some tough new juniors and one sophomore, the team dribbled their way to fifteen victories opposed to five losses. "At first, we really didn't handle the ball as a team. After the first couple of games, we pulled together and really started working as a team," replied Amy Still. The girls worked hard all summer long, attending basketball camps and improving their skills. Each member displayed their talent, but despite their impressive game play, they started slow with their first loss to Adrian.

"We should have played better and won more games. But we did a lot better as the year went on," stated Kel Lewis. Sportsmanship presented itself during and after each game.

Erin Schick says "I will really miss playing basketball and that the team was very fortunate to have a coach like Mr. Spagnoli. He's very understanding and easy to talk too. He's a great guy, second dad to all of us. I knew that this year wouldn't be easy after four of the starters graduated last year".

The team did really well this year tying for second with Dexter. Talking with both Sarah Hollenback and Mollie Musselman, they both commented that "We learned a lot this year, it was an enriching experience and we all hope for a more succesful season next year".

JV team develop physical game

The Girls' Junior Varsity Basketball team must think of a lot to mentally prepare for their game: boxing out, rebounding, defense and shooting. The tension built as the game time grew near, a few final preparations and a reminder from the coach about plays.

Once the ball was tossed upward for the jump all of the mental preparations were behind the players and the physical game begun. The bumping, sliding and crashing were part of this non-contact sport.

Coach Pomy remarked that the girls, "...had a good season and that they showed a lot of improvement in each of the players and as a team." Coach Pomy went on to state, "The competition was tough and we were cursed with numerous injuries."

This year Freshman Brenda Roesler was moved up to the Junior Varsity team. The move was a compliment to the athletic skills of Brenda and she was an asset to her new team.

In the tournament in which the team played, the lady Indians placed a respectful second place. Coach Pomy was encouraged by the finish and stated, "I thought we earned the championship. The girls played hard and should be very proud of themselves." Josette McWilliams added, "I felt our team had a lot of team spirit and always kept a positive attitude." The final results for the season was a record 11-9. The team finished second in the SEC with a 9-3 record.

~~~~~ Signaling for a teammate to break to the open floor, Josette McWilliams holds the ball high. The Indian girl's team was very tough on the home court.

~~~~~ Although the pressure of the press is there, Brenda Roesler is prepared to pass the ball. The lady Indians completed a sweep of their Milan foes.

"We had a good season and we were very successful."

second year program builds skills with style

The Girls' Freshmen Basketball season was a year of transition from Junior High to the High School level. This is only the second year of the program and there were no other teams in the Southeast Conference. Because of the lack of other teams the young Indians played all class "A" teams.

The level of competition provided many problems for the girls but it helped them gain experience and develop their own basketball skills. "The team improved a lot during the course of the season," replied April Dinius. Coach Spotts added, "We had a good season and a lot of players improved their own style."

The season concluded with the Indians hosting their own tournament. Brighton, Airport and Jackson County Western were invited. Tecumseh did not win the tournament Coach Spotts responded, "The team did not finish where we wanted but they played their best game. It was a positive finish."

The Freshmen Girls' Basketball team finished with a 4-9 record.

~~~~~ Concentrating on the play, team members watch intently as the offense moves the ball. The visiting Monroe Jefferson team lost both games to the Indians. Throughout the season the freshmen faced an uphill battle against larger schools but their determination never failed

~~~~~ In the game against arch rival Adrian, Emily Adkisson prepares to throw the ball into her teammate. The class "A" school, Adrian dominated the young Indians in lopsided scores in both of their confrontations.

Run, Run and Run Again

Run, run and run again is how you might describe the training for the members of the Boys' Cross Country Team. Under the watchful eye of Coach Gary Fox, the team members trained daily throughout the preseason. Coach Fox in his third year of coaching at Tecumseh explained, "Overall, it was a good year."

Senior leadership and direction were needed for any successful team. Captain Jonathon Opel provided the guidance that was needed for the younger members of the team. As Justin Compton explained, "As a freshman, our captain showed me how to run farther, then run faster... I just hope that I can continue to show his kind of leadership in the years to come."

Cross Country is a sport that takes a lot of devotion and concentration. "It's a lot of hard work but it's definitely worth the effort when you win," replied Opel.

Chris Publiski gave his point of view about how close the team was when he replied, "Cross Country is a sport of individuals that come together not just as a team but also as a family." Being close to the team members is probably what helped the team in their successful first meet against Springfield. The Tecumseh harriers won the meet 17 to 44.

Two of the team members stood out in their individual performance. They were Jonathon Opel who set the course record and Keizo Takahashi who was a state

"I feel that our team has a lot of potential and can do anything if we work at it."

Aimee Crumb

Hard work, concentration and dedication is what the Tecumseh High School Girl's Cross Country members are all about. It may look easy to you, but it's really not. Imagine running every day after you get out of school. Most of us wouldn't even think twice about running every day. "I love to run three miles. It gives you a lot of experience in long distance running. I really enjoy earning the medals from each race," replied Jennifer Rigglesman.

The Girls' Cross Country team has had a successful year even though Coach Jusick had to start with nearly an all new team. Carrie Crumb, Aimee Crumb and 1989 and 1992 State Champ Nicole Randolph were the only three members from the last year's team. When asked how she felt about the team, Aimee Crumb said, "I feel that our team has a lot of potential and can do anything if we work at it."

When asked, Nicole Randolph

compared the difference of being State Champ her freshmen and junior year, she said "It was a great feeling because I was so young and inexperienced everybody made a big deal about it because I was a freshman. My junior year was very important too because I had to prove to myself that I still had it."

In this year's Regionals, the Tecumseh Cross Country team finished fourth, Randolph individually finished eighth at State. Aimee Crumb and Erica Goodrow were named Honorable Mention by the Ann Arbor News.

Having a very successful year with five wins and only losing two meets against Saline and Chelsea, the team was very happy with this seasons results. All members showed outstanding effort this year and should be very proud of their team effort.

Golfers Swing at the Links

This year, the Indian golfers surprised everyone, including themselves. Skill, determination, and concentration were the common elements that held the team together.

Some of the members on the team thought the reason they were so good had a lot to do with the coaches. Team member JJ Winkler said, "I thought Bruce Fridd, our coach, was the main reason we were so good." On the other hand, Garrett Roe commented, "I really thought Coach Cunningham was the reason we were so good. He was a great motivator for us at all times."

Part of the team's success was their own self-improvement. All the of returning players improved their scores by at least 7 strokes each over last season. The over-all team average was 175.

Highlights and honors included Most Valuable Player: Matt Hammond, Best Record: Steve Newell and the Most Improved: Ryan Housekeeper. Matt Hammond has also placed as a Medalist eleven times.

The Varsity and the Junior Varsity played the same matches. They won five of their ten matches. The matches they were successful in were: two against Lincoln, one against Chelsea and two against Milan. They also tied against Chelsea in one match. Senior Co-Captain Megen Durkee commented, "The team didn't do as well as everybody expected, but the team came together when it was needed. There were a lot of good individual performances."

With the difficult regular season schedule the girls swimming team suffered losses to state ranked teams: #3 Milan, #4 Dexter, #8 Dundee, and #12 Chelsea, completing the season with 7 wins and 5 losses. Coach Larry Reed stated, "The team had some good improvements, also some good surprises with some people going faster than expected but also some people not going as fast as planned."

Coach Reed was also very pleased with the exceptionally talented diving. Tecumseh divers Marisa Proctor, Amy Darm, Renee Beardslee and Kristi Brablec qualified for the diving regionals at Warren Tower High School. As a result of some of the tough regional competition, Proctor finished 2nd, Darm placed 17th and Beardslee placed 18th. By finishing in the top 18 in their region, each diver qualified for the state meet at U of M. At the state meet, Proctor finished a very respectable 3rd place. "I am proud of the girls' work this year," replied Coach Reed.

"It's just you and the guy. There's no one to help you and no one else to blame."

Brandon Nolan

Tecumseh High School Junior Varsity and Varsity wrestlers completed their 1993 season. The season was full, containing both wins and loses. Many wrestlers improved throughout the season.

Wrestling is more of an individual competition and each match counts towards an individual goal as well as the team goal of winning the overall meet. One captain, Brandon Nolan, elaborated on this by saying, "It's just you and the guy. There's no one to help you and no one else to blame." Nolan also emphasized that wrestling is a tough sport, commenting, "In this sport, you have to work the hardest and only the strong can survive."

This year, the varsity wrestling team contained many younger people. There were three captains: Seniors Chad Dinius and Brandon Nolan, and Junior Zack Stuckey.

"Everyone worked hard and practiced," said Senior Chad Dinius. "Practice was hard but fun," Dinius also commented. Another Varsity wrestler, Sophomore Will Bishop remarked, "The toughest team would be Dexter. It was hard to get our team motivated to work hard, but we had to in order to wrestle." Sophomore, Junior Varsity wrestler, Kevin O'Quinn stated, "It is really hard to cut weight, that was the most demanding part of the whole season. I only cut four pounds and that was even hard. Overall, our team had a good season. There were those few that didn't work hard, and skipped practices and were less than successful, but the people that stayed for practice and really used all their effort succeeded." Most of the wrestlers showed good sportsmanship and dedication.

"Lumen Christi is a very tough team, but we played tougher."

Brian Puffer

The Varsity Basketball teams 1992-93 season was full of ups and downs. They pulled out some upsets, but lost some games they should have won.

The team's first test was against Jackson Lumen Christi. They passed with flying colors, winning 56-49. "Lumen Christi is a very tough team, but we played tougher," commented junior Brian Puffer. Riding high fresh off the victory over Lumen Christi, Tecumseh traveled to Lincoln with hopes of improving their record too 2-0. Their hopes were crushed when Lincoln outplayed and outscored Tecumseh 77-52.

After going 5-6 through the first half the season, Lincoln came up for the second meeting of the year. They came out shooting and crushed Lincoln 66-50 for a thrilling home crowd victory. "It felt great to beat them in front of the jungle after they beat us earlier in the season," said senior Chad Risner. Tecumseh carried their enthusiasm over toward Pinckney. Pinckney was in first place when they rolled into Tecumseh expecting an easy win. Little did they know that the Indians were ready to play. The game was close until the end, but Tecumseh pulled out the upset 63-60.

With two games to go, the Indians defeated Chelsea 65-58 to lead them into their final game. Tecumseh ended the season with a win over Dexter 57-50. The two wins gave the Indians momentum into Districts. Tecumseh drew Saline for the first round in Chelsea. The Indians came out fighting, but came up short 52-50.

The Indians had three players honored at the end of the season. Puffer was named to the All-S.E.C. Second team. While sophomore Brad Allen and senior Troy McCrate received honorable mention.

"When we played good it didn't seem to matter, because the other teams just played better."

Troy Williams

Junior Varsity boy's basketball was definitely not a pleasant sounding term in 1993. The Indians lost their first nine games. Only three of those games were even respectable. Two freshmen were moved up to the J.V. squad in hopes of improving their all around game but success came slowly. "When we played good it didn't seem to matter, because other teams just played better," stated sophomore Troy Williams.

On January 22nd, the J.V. squad notched their first win against Brooklyn Columbia Central, a team which beat them twice as freshmen. The Indians won impressively and were up by sixteen with two minutes left. They eventually won by six.

Next came county rival Adrian. The Indians played a strong first half and were even up by eight points in that half. The Indians then gave into a high paced shoot-out and were eventually shot-out.

"We played very well against Adrian until we gave into their type of game," exclaimed Indian point guard Derrick Hively. After the Adrian game, two more freshmen were moved up.

The Indians then played Ypsilanti Lincoln and were looking for their first S.E.C. win. Led by freshmen Brandon Schmidt and Derrick Wolfe, the Indians exploded to a 24-2 first quarter lead. They never looked back in route to a 16 point victory.

The victory over Lincoln was followed by another losing streak. TICWSS week seemed to be a enthusiastic time for the J.V. squad as they trounced visiting Milan by a seemingly narrow eight point margin.

"The team showed great determination and never gave up," stated coach Mike McDowell.

"If success is determined by hard work, we had a very successful season."

Coach Ray

This year's Freshmen basketball team overcame many obstacles. Before the season even started, they lost the two leading scorers of the past season. Stepping up to the task were Mike Ash and as he did in football Bryan Ely once again stepped forward.

After starting the season with an even four and four mark, both starting guards were moved up to play J.V. This gave Chris Barrie and Garret Roe the chance to step into the starting line-up.

"Instead of breaking us up, it seemed to pull us closer together and playing as team became more important," stated Freshman guard Chris Andrus.

By only losing three games in the S.E.C., the Indians placed first and captured individual possession of the S.E.C. title.

"When we played our best, I think we could beat a lot of J.V. teams," stated Freshman point guard JJ Winkler when asked his thoughts of the past season.

The Indians battled to stay above the .500 mark all season. With a loss to Adrian, the Indians dropped to 8-8.

The following week the Indians played at home against a determined Pinckney team. The game went to the wire and the Indians came up short with a disappointing 50-49 loss.

The final game of the season against league rival Chelsea was cancelled due to dangerous road conditions. The Indians never received their chance to even their record. "We were prepared to play Chelsea and it was a major disappointment when the game was cancelled," stated Bryan Ely.

"If success is determined by hard work, we had a very successful season," stated first year coach Brian Ray.

Teamwork and Dedication Spike Volleyball

Teamwork was the name of the game in Volleyball. The girls' Varsity Volleyball team was made up of a strong Junior class but also a very strong and equally large Senior class. The team has six returning letter winners made up of three Juniors and three Seniors.

The team finished the year as a result of a tough league schedule with powerhouse Saline and Dexter. Saline gave the spikers a hard fought match every time they played Tecumseh. "If we worked together as a team, we could beat anybody," replied senior Erin Schick. Dexter was Tecumseh's other main worry in the S.E.C. In the first meeting, Tecumseh beat Dexter, but suffered a disappointing loss the second time they played. The tough Dexter team also eliminated Tecumseh in the district finals. Tecumseh split the victory slot with Dexter but winning both games when they met with Milan and Lincoln. But also suffered two losses to Chelsea, Saline and Pinckney.

The team received many individual awards through the year at tournaments and invitational. The team struggled early in the year in tournament play but as the year went on they went up in tournaments. Senior Angela Feldkamp said, "We put our problems behind us and played our best in the end."

Receiving All-County honors were Towne, Steel and Schick. Madonna University All-Tournament team was given to Musselman and Schick. Also Schick and Handy received 2nd team all S.E.C while Feldkamp got Honorable Mention.

The J.V volleyball team, coached by Angie Shultz had a very successful season. This was her first year coaching. "It was a very enjoyable season and everyone had a lot of talent," replied Schultz. They ended the year with 9 wins and only 3 losses. The team captains were Brandi Hillard and Lindsay Yeager. "We all worked together as a team which really helped us," commented Nicole Hebert. Sparked by the enthusiasm of a new coach, the J.V ended their season coming in second place.

After a tough conditioning schedule, the spikers were ready to take to the courts. Dedication played a key factor in their success. At the tournament in Clinton, the girls were playing very impressively but they lost to Vandercook Lake and that put them second place in the tournament. "The team has done really well this year. We have had our ups and downs" said freshman Kelly Bunch.

"After losing our first four meets I think we showed a lot of character when we bounced back and destroyed Northwest."

Jason Mensing

After an undefeated season a year ago, this year's Boys Varsity Track team had a lot of high standards to live up to. With only five returning seniors, the task became measurably harder.

Early season losses to Class A power Adrian, state ranked Jackson Lumen Christi and Ypsilanti Lincoln dashed any hopes of a repeat season. The Indians then lost a close meet against league rival Saline, a meet which came down to the final two events. They then bounced back strong against non-league opponent Jackson Northwest.

"After losing our first four meets, I think we showed a lot of character when we bounced back and destroyed Northwest," stated Freshman shotputter Jason Mensing.

Next the Tribe came up against undefeated Pinckney. In a meet shortened by rain and an eventual tornado, the Indians dropped to a disappointing 1-5. The Indians then ran over visiting Milan by a score of 102-35.

The Indians were then looking for their second win in a row as they traveled to Chelsea. In a very close meet the Indians slid by the Bulldogs and bettered their record to 3-5. Junior Todd Bryan supplied the highlight of the meet. As he came down the backstretch of his 400 meter dash, he was in great position to break the school record. With only 30 yards left, his shoe flew off and landed in the infield. Bryan held off his opponents and placed first.

The season closed in a less than satisfying note as the Indians lost to visiting Dexter and then placed sixth at the S.E.C. league meet. "We came on strong at the end of the season and ran to our greatest potential," said coach Osburn.

"We should have beaten Lincoln, we got over confident and didn't run our best."

Carrie Swift

With only four returning seniors from last year, the 1992-93 season would seem to be a rebuilding year for Coach Shelly Jusick's Girls' Track team. Things weren't so. The girls started the season strong with wins over Adrian and Jackson Lumen Christi.

Senior captains Ginnie Fairbanks and Nicole Randolph led the team into their first league meet against Ypsilanti Lincoln. In the closest meet of the year, the Indians fell to the visiting Railsplitters by a narrow two point margin. "We should have beaten Lincoln. We got over confident and didn't run our best," stated Freshman Carrie Swift.

The Indians then bounced back and defeated league foes Saline and Pinckney and also trounced non-league opponent Jackson Northwest. The girls demolished Milan before running into undefeated Chelsea. The Bulldogs kept their record perfect and handed the Indians their first and only big loss.

Next came Dexter another dominant team in the league. The Tribe gave it all they had but came up short with a disappointing seven point loss.

The Indians also participated in two invitationals and won them both. They placed second at regionals and fourth at the S.E.C. league meet. The team had an extraordinary number of girls reach the state meet where Sophomore Angie Stanifer along with Randolph placed individually and joined with Seniors Angela Feldkamp and Janelle Griffin to place third in the 800 meter relay. Stanifer, Randolph, Feldkamp, along with Swift also placed third in the 1600 meter relay. The 1600 meter relay team destroyed the school record by nearly three seconds, recording a 4:05.

"We had a good team this year, but our record didn't show it."

Indians start strong, win own tournament, then cool to finish season

The Varsity Baseball team started the season with powerful hitting, strong defense and a new head coach. They were really looking like serious S.E.C. title contenders.

Early in the season, the team's record was 11-2. The Indians clubbed such opponents as Onsted, Jackson Northwest, Saline and even scored 20 runs against Lincoln.

The Indians finished the year with a 15-17-2 record. "We had a good team this year, but our record didn't show it," commented Junior second baseman Dave Steiner. The tribe lost one run heartbreakers to teams such as Milan, Chelsea and Dexter. "We had some close games that we almost won. We just couldn't get the clutch hit when we needed it," replied Steiner.

One of the bright spots in the Indian's season was winning the Tecumseh Invitational Tournament. The Indians hosted the tournament for New Boston Huron, Big Rapids and Jackson Northwest. Tecumseh defeated New Boston Huron in the first game of the tournament 15-14. The Tecumseh hardballers went on to play Jackson Northwest in the finals. Tecumseh made short work of the Mounties dominating them 13-4. "It felt good to win our own tournament. It's more special to win in front of your friends and family than it is to win in front of complete strangers," commented Junior outfielder Derek Johnson.

pitch, hit and run to success

There was two men on base, as the number four batter stepped into the batter's box. The pressure was on. The home team needed one more strike to win the game. A look of concern showed itself in the batter's expression. The pitcher glanced at second, then nodded in agreement to the catcher. Here's the pitch. The batter hit a line drive into centerfield. One of the outfielders made an awesome catch. The Indians won! The Indians won!

This was a very good description of the 1993 Junior Varsity Baseball Team. Loaded with powerful hitters, speedy outfielders and unbelievable pitchers, this team hit their way to a 16 and 9 record.

Although an occasional loss due to fatigue and temporary injuries presented itself, the students pulled together as a group and worked even harder to accomplish their goals.

"We had good batting and pretty good fielding, and even though we had a couple of struggles here and there, we did pretty good overall," commented sophomore Ben Turner.

"I think the pitching was outstanding, and the coach did a good job training us. But I think we could have done a little bit better than we did." agreed sophomore David Goble.

The team started off with seven straight victories, impressing crowds from Hillsdale, Saline and Onsted. And even though they were cut short of their excellent winning streak by Jackson Northwest, the team put the past behind them and continued to do well.

Scott Stafford replies, "We could have done a little bit better, but in the end we did pretty good."

It's Saturday morning, May 1st, just a week after Spring Break, and early in the morning it was still a bit cool. When other high school students were either sleeping or watching cartoons the Freshman Baseball team just boarded a bus for the long trip to the Jefferson Invitational Tournament. Thus was the start of the Freshmen Baseball season. With anticipation they hoped for the the best. Have they prepared properly, was everyone in the best position and will the weather hold?

By 9 PM the teams again loaded their buses for the trip home with their questions answered. After three straight victories, the Tecumseh diamond crew proved that they were the champions.

As the outfielders came in to congratulate their teammates, Coach Lewis gave the pitcher a pat on the back and offers words of encouragement. So it is every inning with the J.V. Softball team.

The coaching staff were familiar staff members: Mr. Greg Lewis, the hall monitor and Ms. Kathy Steuwe, the athletic

The purpose of a Junior Varsity program was to provide the Varsity with players that could be moved up and to gain experience in the techniques of the game. The J.V. team accomplished both. VARSITY CHEERLEADING

"The Varsity squad placed first for their cheer at camp over the summer."

Amy Clement

The Tecumseh High School Varsity Cheerleading squad cheered their way through another great year. The fall sports squad was led by seniors Amy Clement, Kathy Kleman and Aimee Bone along with four juniors Lindsay Marsh, Sarah Catros, Nissa Sanchez and Thuc Tran and sophomores Kelly Winkler and Melodie Bone.

The varsity squad spent one week of the summer at the University of Michigan for cheerleading camp to improve their abilities so they could bring the crowd into all the sporting events at the high school. "The varsity squad placed first for their cheer at camp over the summer," said senior Amy Clement. Kathy Kleman placed first for the individual competition. "I think that the camp helps because they teach the cheerleaders new dances, mounts and cheers," said coach Kim Ross.

Throughout the year, the squad had a variety of different fundraisers that were used toward new uniforms and extra things that the athletic department does not provide. This year the money was used for goodie bags for the football players before some of their important games.

squad makes between season changes

Most students and fans believe that cheerleading is easy and should not qualify as a sport. A tremendous amount of training and practicing go into the preseason followed by after school practices during the season.

Cheerleaders had to maintain their grades and were considered to be part of the athletic code. As any other athlete, they could be disciplined for grade problems or infractions of the athletic code.

Part of the preparation for the football season was the U of M Cheerleading Camp. This summer camp provided the opportunity for the squad to grow together as a team and see routines by other schools' squads. At the conclusion of the week at camp, a competition was held. "The biggest surprise of the camp was when we stayed up late the night before the final competition and still won the first place trophy," remarked Melissa Irelan.

Between the end of football and the beginning of basketball season, the squad went through many changes. Members moved to the Varsity level while others changed their minds about their commitment. "We were like a family at the beginning of the school year. After the football season, we grew apart," replied Michelle Hillner. The time between seasons offered a period of reorganization for the squad. They changed and improved their routines and attempted more challenging techniques.

At the Homecoming pep rally, the Freshmen cheerleaders prepare for one of their mounts. Susie Bearer was supported by fellow squad members Shelle Marcinkiewicz and Ulhonda Martin. Ulhonda's concentration was on Susie for her next cue to complete the routine.

Erik Ball

As a cheerleader, the Freshman year was filled with many new experiences. Since the Junior High did not have a cheerleading program, the transition to the High School team must take place during the summer vacation.

The traditional tryouts were held in late May with Coach Kim Ross making her selections at that time. Practicing began each day in mid-July followed by the week long University of Michigan Cheerleading Camp.

As part of their responsibilities, the Freshmen squad along with the other two squads ran the final summer dance. This has been a tradition for a long time and the monies earned was used to help with many of their projects. Throughout the year the Freshmen squad, decorated the gym and locker rooms and helped prepare for the pep rallies. Two major events, the pep rallies for Homecoming and TICWSS, were demanding and required all 3 squads to work together.

Working together was perhaps the most important aspect of the team, especially when they must function as a team for two-thirds of the school year. "Many members of the team did not get along at first but we worked it out and became close as a team," remarked Lucette Gomez.

... colophon BE IT SO ...

SO BE IT... was the final decision for the theme of the 1993 Tecumseh High School ANATH. This was the subject for debate for at least two weeks between the fourth and fifth hour Yearbook classes before the staff of fifty-eight finally came to a conclusion.

The book is 8 1/2 " by 11" with 200 pages. The standard cover was voted on by the staff. The idea for the endsheets and dividers came from contemporary publications and they were written by Freshman John Lapham. Copy was written in 10 point Goudy font and captions in 8 point Goudy bold. All sections except the senior section were designed on computer layouts using the Yearthtech program on Pagemaker 4.01. The books were printed by Jostens in Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Students paid $30 for the books before Christmas break and $35 after break. A $3 discount was given to fifty-four Renaissance gold card recipients. There were 600 books ordered, which was more than in any of the previous years (68.1% of the student body). Part of the money to support the printing of the book was raised by selling ads to local businesses. The staff sold a record amount of $9,250.00 in ads. Parents of seniors were offered the opportunity to wish their son or daughter best wishes by purchasing a "Senior Ad" which were sold for $30 each. All money was handled by business manager Diane Morton.

In February for Valentine's Day, Josette McWilliams served as the chairperson of 1st Annual "Balloon-O-Grams". Sales were in the cafeteria during the lunch hours. A message was attached to a pink, red or white helium filled balloon and delivered during sixth hour on Friday, February 12th. Overall, it was very successful, as close to $400 was raised. In May, Shelly Elkins was in charge of "end of the year" picture sales.

There are a number of people not directly involved with the yearbook who contributed to its completion. The staff would like to thank: advisers Mr. Ron Frenzen and Mrs. Ann Merrill, Kevin Trickey and Don Schmidt for providing professional photographs, Charles Saling for special photography orders, Mike Mitchell for helping out by repairing computers and discs, Marilee Norris for allowing the staff to use the computers in the lab and Judy Allen and Bill Lorenzen for being very patient representatives from Jostens.

A New Beginning

...life after graduation...

Walking the hallways for the last time, memories flood to their minds. The faces they have seen, the things that they have learned, the sounds of laughter, the smell of smoke drifting up from the girls' bathroom and the life that they were accustomed to were reduced to a memory. The people they have known and the life that they have loved has changed.

As the seniors thought back on all the good times at T. H. S., many things come to mind. The football games, basketball games, the Jungle, dances, the prom, homecoming week activities and all the other activities come to mind.

Senior Kristen Housekeeper expressed her thoughts about graduation, "I'm excited and I know I am going to miss my friends. I don't want the days of youth to leave."

They have worked four long years to graduate. When the seniors left the school, they left it with good thoughts and numerous accomplishments. They reached one major milestone in life, they graduated.

Accepting the "Samual Brooks Memorial Award" is Matt Willson. This award was presented in memory of Sam Brooks who was tragically killed in a car accident two weeks prior to his 1969 graduation. Matt was nominated and selected by the members of the Senior class. The $500.00 scholarship is an ongoing project from the "Class of 1969".
