Tecumseh High School means something different to everyone.

Here at T.H.S. each person has his or her own view of what it's really like to be a student. For some, it's friends and for others, it's sports. But no matter what the meaning, the time spent here will be remembered for the rest of our lives.

"School means a time to socialize with friends and to get together to get a job done," exclaimed Senior Josette McWilliams.

Junior Jennifer Rinehart,

however, has a slightly different view. "High school is a time to find yourself. Like where you want to go and where you've been."

Looking back at the high school days from the time of being a freshman to the final senior year, the atmosphere will always remain vivid in the memories of friends, staff, and sports.

"School means learning lessons and making friends that will hopefully last a lifetime," Senior Heather Downing commented.

Some of the most memorable times that happened during the year were at the many basketball games and pep rallies. The Varsity Basketball team had a heartbreaking SEC loss, but were able to achieve the Class B District title.

HOMECOMING ROYALTY

A Day To Remember

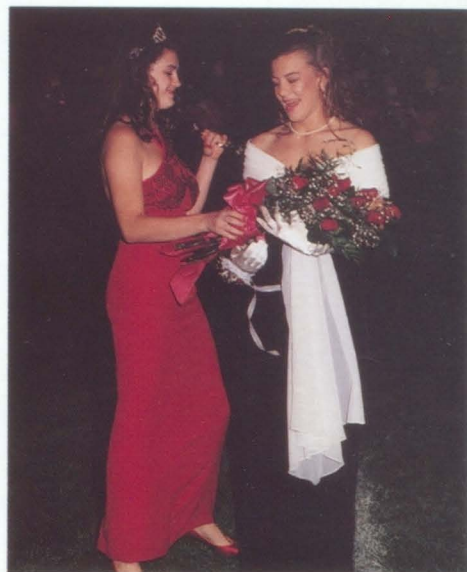

Everyone anxiously waited in anticipation as halftime rolled around. After a week of fun and games, it was time for the Homecoming King and Queen to be crowned. Everyone watched as the floats and Court were driven around the field. Finally, the big moment had come. The crowd was silent, and then the names were announced. Suddenly, there was a burst of screams and whistles. Mark Steiner and Josette McWilliams had won!

"Being crowned Homecoming Queen was very exciting," exclaimed Josette. "It is something I will always remember."

The rest of the Homecoming Court are as follows: Seniors Brad Allen, Melodie Bone, Scott Stafford, Julie Beland, Al Schmidt, and Jen Patrick; Juniors Bryan Ely and Tamar Mishigian; Sophomores Jamie Bennett and Chad Whelan; and Freshmen Stephanie Catros and Todd Julia.

"I was satisfied just being classified as a representative. Win or lose, I've already won," explained Mark Steiner. "I think when people open themselves and show the real them, they appreciate it a lot more than you think. Don't be afraid to express yourself."

Last year's Homecoming Queen, Jaime Curry, handed Josette McWilliams a bouquet of flowers as she was being crowned.

HOMECOMING

A Week of Fun and Games

Homecoming Week at THS is always something the students get excited about. All week the students worked on their class floats at the bus barn. The juniors came in first with their Aladdin float; the Freshman/Sophomore float with the rotating Tazmanian Devil came in second, and the Seniors came in third with their "Trash 'em" themed float.

The week was full of activities. Every day there was something different. Monday was Hat/College Sweatshirt Day, Tuesday was Opposite Sex Day, Wednesday was Hick Day, Thursday was Dress Like Your Favorite Teacher Day, and Friday was Class Colors Day. Evenings were filled with the games. Monday was the 3-on-3 Basketball game. Tuesday there was supposed to be a volleyball tournament but, unfortunately, it had to be cancelled due to lack of players. Wednesday was the Powder Puff Football Game. The seniors ended up winning after beating the freshman in their first game and the juniors in their second. The juniors dominated most of the days scoring the most spirit points, and winning for the entire week. The seniors came in second and had as much class spirit as ever. "I was happy that our class seemed to shed a lot more positive energy at this year's Homecoming," commented Senior Amanda Thompson.

During "Opposite Sex" day, Principal Ben Thomas stops to chat with Senior Kellee Kish for a few minutes. Many people chose to participate in that day and it produced some hilarious results.

The juniors came in first place with their Aladdin float, the theme being "Indian Football - It's Magic". People from each class worked on the floats after school all during that week. The floats then took part in the Homecoming Parade and later were displayed during halftime of the Homecoming game.

PEP RALLIES

Moments Filled with Spirit

The screams and the applause from the gymnasium were heard throughout the whole school. What was this loud and exciting event? Games? Practice? No, it was neither. The loud rumbling came from ...Pep Rallies! "I totally love them, the school packs everyone in the gym and everyone just SCREAMS their BRAINS out," quoted Sophomore Karl Huff.

Many of the pep rallies were hosted by Seniors Mark Steiner and Matthew Lander. They added comical parodies to get the crowd pumped up. "Pep Rallies...What to say, they're great and it gives everyone spirit," said Senior Alisa Pounds. There were many other events to help raise school spirit, such as, watching the Varsity football and basketball teams come out of the locker room and run around the gym to the annual pep rally song, "Welcome to the Jungle." Also playing the new football theme song by Little Texas, "Kick A Little." Another event that caused sore throats was a yelling competition featuring the participation of all classes, which the seniors won practically every time.

Watching friends being introduced or performing at the pep rallies was great for many students, but most of all the student body showed real spirit when the Varsity teams were presented.

Matt Lander and Mark Steiner, both seniors, took charge of this year's pep rallies. Both had a great time inventing games, this one including whipped cream, which Coach Oxley is setting up.

The 1994-95 Varsity basketball team did a quiet high five to raise their spirits before the Milan game. The spirit that was shown at the pep rally led the basketball team to a winning victory.

Senior Mark Steiner "plays dead" after running through a Milan sign held by cheerleaders Melodie Bone and Kele Schmidt. Before he ran through the sign, he and fellow classmate, Senior Matthew Lander, beat the sign to a pulp with baseball bats. Matt stayed on his feet, while Mark tripped and fell.

WHITE CHRISTMAS

A Blizzard of Fun

The Christmas Dance this year was a huge success. "I had a great time," said Sophomore Amy Van Zandt. The Senior class put on this year's dance on December the third; the theme was "White Christmas."

"I really enjoyed the Christmas Dance," commented Sophomore Melissa Godfrey. "It was a great experience. Everyone looked great." This echoed the thoughts of most of the other T.H.S. students who attended the dance this year. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves either dancing or just sitting around talking to their friends.

"It was a lot of fun seeing everyone dressed up. We had a really good time," replied Junior Amy Cox. The price to have fun this year was $18 per couple. Precious Portraits by Connie was there to capture the memorable moments of dates and even groups of friends. The dance was open to all grades, 9-12, and students even had a chance to bring dates from other schools.

Sophomore Cyndee Brueckner and Freshman Courtney Glenn, who both said they enjoyed the dance, take a break from their dates to talk and dance with their friends.

TICWSS

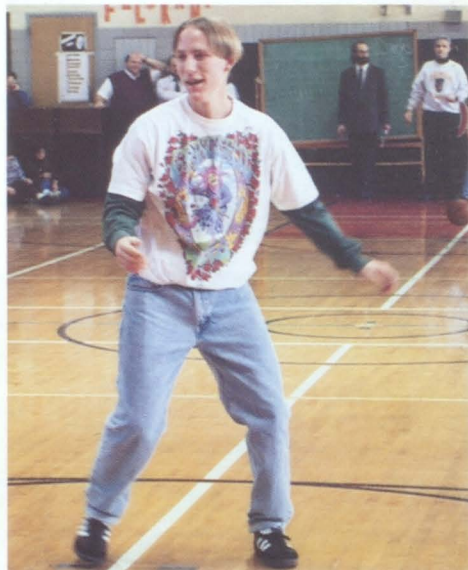

Commemorating Winter

Tecumseh Indians Celebrate Winter Sports Season was the week of February 28th- March 3rd. This week was a very exciting one for T.H.S. It started with people showing their school spirit by wearing orange and black on Monday; Tuesday was supposed to be crazy hair and hat day, but due to cancellation of school, hat/crazy hair day was moved to Wednesday and Thursday. Everyone came to school on Wednesday, which was camouflage day, showing off their army clothes. Thursday, students got to show off their favorite tie-dye clothing; and Friday was toga day! During the week students had a chance to play in the 3 on 3 basketball tournament.

The TICWSS court representatives for the Senior class were Alisa Pounds, Tony Bush, Barb Dykas, David McDonnough, Kristin Creech, Daniel Casteel, Angela Stanifer, and Richard Schlenderer. Reps for the Junior class were Larry Reau, Rick Wood and Sara Saksewski. For the Sophomore class the reps were Shawn Dlabal and Hillari Gawron. Freshman reps were Gregory Abbott and Michelle Garcia. The King and Queen, who were Tony Bush and Kristin Creech, were crowned at half time of the basketball game.

The week ended with the basketball game over Dexter which led us to a very close loss with the score of 35 to 34.

TRENDS

Setting the New Style

Cords, flannels, thermal underwear, Stussy, Mossimo, baby T's, concert T's, and baggy jeans. What do all these things have in common? These are some of the trends here at Tecumseh High School. On any given day you can see a great range of apparel from grunge to dressy.

When asked why they dress the way they do Senior Cindy Legenc replied, "It's comfy! I just wear what I want to. I like to be my own self and I try not to follow other people and their ways."

On the other hand, Junior

Mark Seyfried said, "I try to be my own person. I like to express myself with the clothes I wear."

You can see the difference in attitudes at the high school by the way the students depict themselves with the types of clothing they wear. A lot of the clothing can express the mood a person is in on any given day.

Some people think their clothing helps express the mood they are in. Senior Alicia Mobley said, "I dress the way I feel. Like in the morning if I feel like I want to be comfortable then I usually dress in a sweatshirt and jeans."

Just remember the way people see you for the first time usually leaves a pretty big impression. Dress the way you usually feel and people won't judge you wrong. So when you see someone walking down the hall in a not so attractive get-up, just think to yourself maybe they feel like being a little odd today.

Strutting in their casual threads, Junior Rick Wood and Senior Jess Stretch headed to class. They both sported long quafs, along with concert shirts.

DANCES

A Chance to be Free

From hand stamping to decorations to great music, students got to display their energy through showing their moves, at the high school dances.

When asked what he liked the best about Tecumseh High School dances, Freshman Dan Naugle answered, "Socializing with friends."

Among all the informal dances, there were two special formal dances, the Homecoming Dance and the Christmas Dance.

The Homecoming Dance was held right after the Homecoming game. The Student Council, who sponsored it, provided the student body with pop, cookies, and punch.

The Christmas Dance was held on December 3, from 9:00p.m. to 12:00a.m. It had the greatest success with over half of the student body attending.

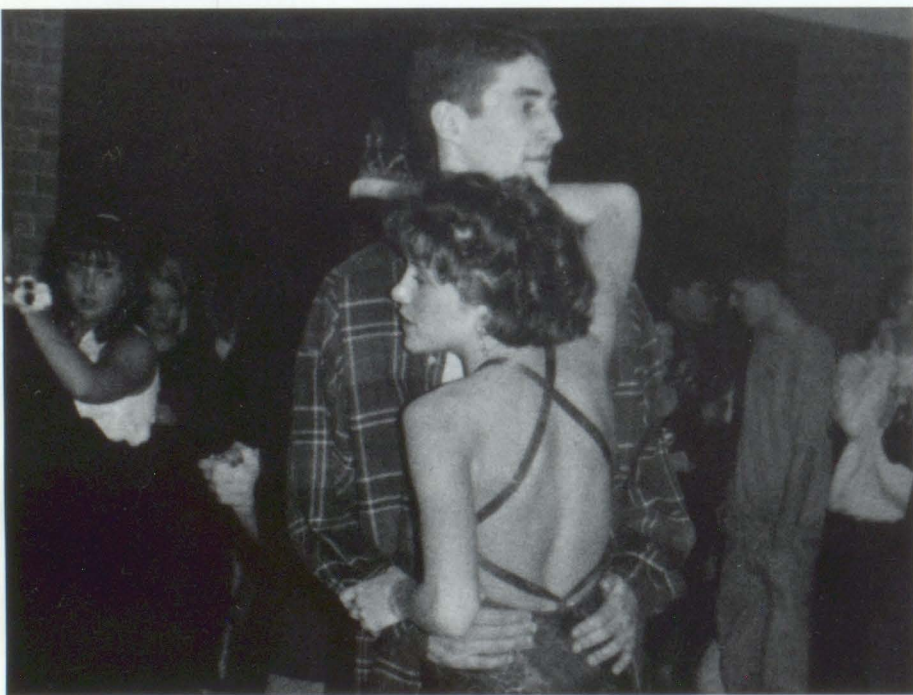

One of the few complaints about the dances was mentioned by Sophomore Amy VanZandt. "Not that many people go and not that many people dance."

Even though the dances may not be successful with some of the student body, there were other students who enjoyed the dances and thought they were a huge hit.

ALMOST PARADISE

A Night to Remember

"Almost Paradise" was the theme for this year's prom. The Class of 1996, supervised by Mrs. Bowman, held this year's prom at Sauk Valley on Saturday, April 29th. Music was by Class Act from Toledo and pictures were taken by Jack's Place of Portraits. Tickets for this evening of fun and dancing were $35 or $30 with a Renaissance card. The prom was held from 8:30 p.m. to midnight.

Junior Amy Hamilton explained, "I think the prom went very well. We had a lot of good ideas in planning it. There was a lot of time spent decorating. I'm glad so many people went."

As the night came to an end, the crowning of King and Queen grew closer. The three nominated couples were Erica Goodrow and Jeremy Bennett, Jennifer Patrick and Peter White, and Sarah Brunetz and Dave McDonnough. Everyone cheered as Sarah and Dave were crowned as the 1995 Prom King and Queen.

The two explained, "Being Prom King and Queen was a great surprise and a wonderful way to end our senior year."

Senior Molly Hicks exclaimed, "The highlight of prom was when Sarah and Dave were crowned. They make a great couple. I'm glad they won."

AFTER PROM

Keeping Students Safe

This year's After Prom party was held from 12:00 a.m. to 4:00 a.m. in the cafeteria and gymnasium. Anyone who was a junior or senior could go, even if they didn't go to prom. Many people went to this year's party, hoping to have a good time.

There was a lot to do at the After Prom party this year. There was human bowling, in which someone sat in a sphere with a helmet on and was "bowled" down a lane towards six pins made of foam.

"It was really fun. I laughed the entire time I was being rolled around," declared Senior Tony Bush.

Other fun events were the starwalk and poker. The starwalk and human bowling were set up in the gymnasium, while the poker tables and food were in the cafeteria. Many parents were more than happy to help out this year as poker dealers or doing whatever else was needed.

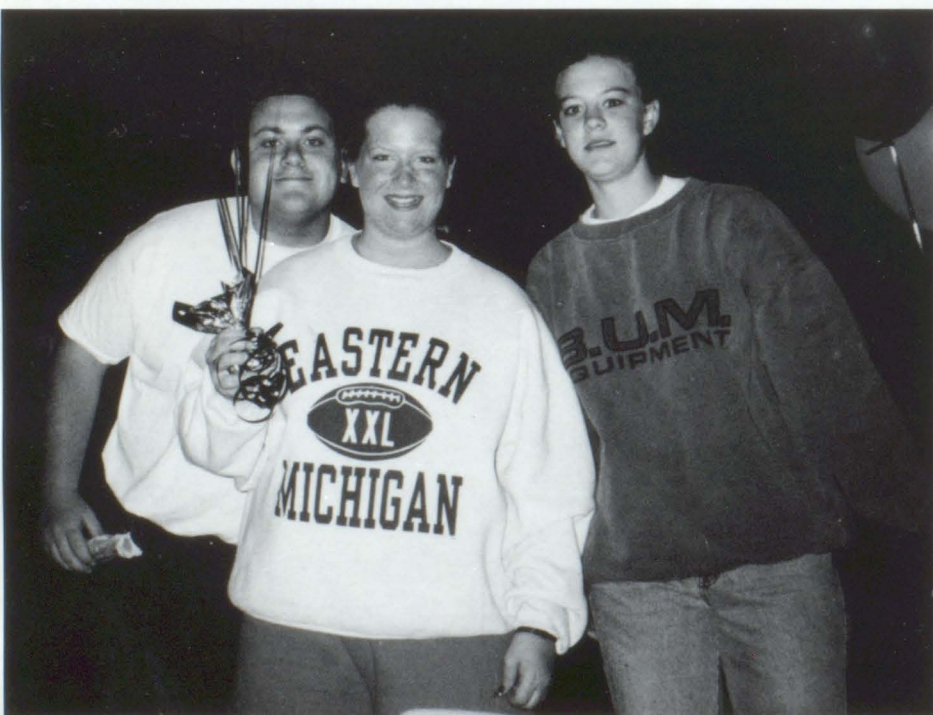

"I had a lot of fun," explained Junior Holly Wriska, "The blackjack tables were my favorite. The dealer at the table I played was funny; he kept cheating!!"

Senior Alisa Pounds commented, "I had a great time. I wish it was a little longer; it all went by so fast."

ART SHOW / CELEBRATION OF WRITING

Creativity, Imagination, and Originality

This year was the 34th annual Art Show held at T.H.S. Displays were exhibited on the 10th and 11th (Thursday and Friday) of May. The show consisted of drawings, paintings, drafting houses, alabasters, ceramics, and water paintings. Many classes participated and all were taught by Mr. Ron Frenzen, Mrs. Ann Merrill, Mr. Charles Gross and Mr. Robert Ondrovick.

"The talent in this school really caught my attention," commented Sophomore Doron Eisenscher a first year student at T.H.S. "I didn't realize the amount of time and hard work that is put into a good piece of art

The Celebration of Writing was held the next week, which was led by Ms. Dinah Wakeford. The work that was submitted in this year's Celebration of Writing displayed a great deal of hard work and dedication on the part of the students. Many students' projects were written to recognize loved ones, or to restore memories shared with their friends.

When asked what he thought of the exhibits, Senior Marshall Olieman replied, "It was very enlightening, and an educational experience reaching into the mind of my fellow students."

As he walks through the Art Show, Junior Joe Moore stops and looks at the 3-D hallway drawings done by numerous art students.

CHOICES WEEK

Getting Students to Understand

The second annual Choices Week was sponsored by the Substance Abuse Prevention Committee and was held the week of March 18th. "The idea of Choices Week came about more than two years ago," explained Mr. Connors, the Student Assistant Manager.

Classes that were available to THS students to participate in were: AIDS/Red Cross, and Poetry, which involved a few students who read poetry of their own and of others. Two police officers came to answer any questions students had to ask.

"I thought the Grim Reaper was very effective. O.J. Anderson was really funny. The message at the end was very emotional," commented Junior Brooke Caterina.

Senior Christina Shearer explained, "I went to the 'If I Knew Then'...program. It was very sad hearing a former student talk about how he couldn't remember much of his high school days because of his drinking really touched me."

These people were chosen from the audience to perform a short skit which turned out to be a joke on them. "I felt like an idiot just being out there," commented Senior Kevin Gentry.

Sophomore Tom Bush finds himself as one of those chosen to play along on Thursday. This program was put on to show people the reality of the number of people killed by drinking and driving.

RETIRING TEACHERS

Missed But Not Forgotten

This year Tecumseh High School had six teachers and a library secretary retiring: Mr. Gross, Mr. Conners, Mr. Crittenden, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. Roberts, and Miss Kelso.

Mr. Gross topped the list with thirty nine years of Industrial Technology and Drafting. Miss Kelso has taught mathematics at Tecumseh High for twenty-nine years. She also was the advisor for Quiz Bowl. When asked why she decided to go into the teaching field, she said: "I enjoyed school and mathematics, and I wanted to pass that along to young people."

Mr. Conners has taught for twenty-eight years. He also has been the wrestling coach. He just recently moved to the Student Assistance Program, and is the advisor for Winners Circle. He said, "I knew that I wanted to work with young people as a teacher and coach." Mrs. Merrill has taught in the Art Department for twenty-five years and she has also been an advisor for Art Club along with Mr. Frenzen. She says, "I loved art and sharing art with others." Mrs. Allen has worked in the Media Center for the past two years. They will be remembered for their contribution to Tecumseh Public Schools.

Mr. And Mrs. Gonser are enjoying dinner at the reception held for retiring teachers at the high school cafeteria. Mr. Gonser retired after teaching at the Middle School.

Back: Larry Crittenden, JoAnn Wickham, Patrick Conners, Charlene Willams, Georgia Covell, Maria Gill, Helen Bendes, Donna Service, Charles Gross. Missing Mary Allen.

Mrs. Wigner, Miss Kelso, and Mrs. Norris are some of the guests at the banquet. The banquet was held for all the teachers retiring this year in the school district. Any Tecumseh teacher was invited to come and celebrate.

CROSS-AGE TUTORING

TEACHING A NEW GENERATION

The love of children is the basis of the cross-age tutoring program. This course gives high school juniors and seniors the chance to be an aide in an elementary or junior high classroom. Second year cross-age tutors always receive first choice of which grade they want to tutor.

Every school day, a high school student will go to a chosen elementary classroom for one hour to help the teacher and students. Grade levels to choose from range from preschool to middle school. Special education is also available.

Cross-age tutors earn their grade by completing projects involving their students. One of the major projects that most cross-age tutors participate in is cross-age exchange day. On this special day, tutors are allowed to bring either one or two students from their cross-age classroom to the high school for a day of fun and education.

This program provides an excellent educational experience for both the youngsters and the tutors, and it also provides a lot of fun.

Assisting in a Future Career

VO-TECH

Vo-Tech gives students from around the county an opportunity to meet new people and take more classes that probably are not available at their home schools. These classes will help them throughout their lives and will help prepare them for the future.

Junior Rick Wood said, "It's interesting to me and I enjoy the hands on experience."

Junior Michelle Thompson said, "I took this class because I like working with computers and would like to work in an office after graduation."

Vo-Tech is sometimes like on the job training. Mike Barnes, a junior in Building Trades, is participating in building a house. "I took this class because I want to build houses in the future," said Barnes.

Junior Chris Barrett said, "I took Drafting because of the career opportunities."

Junior Cindy Frost is scanning a picture on the computer to put on a t-shirt for graphic design.

Beginning of a New Era

IQP-9

The Integrated Quality Pilot - Ninth Grade, was a program started this year using the latest technology for student-centered activities. Not only did the students learn new things, but the staff had to be retrained in certain areas such as Total Quality Management, Shared Decision-Making, and Multi-Media Technology.

"IQP-9 is fun because I get to work with other people and give my opinions. It gives us more responsibility," said Megan Schutzler, one of the 39 students enrolled in the class.

"I want to be in a group like this next year," said Justin Moore. There are plans to include tenth graders next year, so more students are better prepared for the community when they graduate.

Below, Chad Gittus and John Kotts are working together at a computer. IQP-9 focused on teamwork and quality learning.

From their country to ours

Foreign Exchange

The foreign exchange program gives students the opportunity to visit other countries to learn about their cultures. "In my country everybody thinks America is very cool and interesting," admits Kati Baur. This year we were fortunate enough to have eleven foreign exchange students. They were Ivan Acevedo from Columbia; Kati Baur, Germany; Camilla DeGaetano, Italy; Melanie Kauffmann, France; Lene Nedrejord, Norway; Ayako Ogawa, Japan; Catarina Pereira, Brazil; Jan Reinbold, Germany; Daniel Romero, Mexico; Fernando Tonda, Mexico; and Andrea Wick, Switzerland.

The foreign exchange program provides quite an experience. We hope that each of them enjoyed their stay in Tecumseh.

"I like it here because sports are so important and there is more school spirit than at my school."

-Melanie Kauffmann

BAND AND CHOIR

Music for the Ages

Band and Choir are two exciting courses that were available at THS. They offered students a chance to express themselves musically, as well as expand their horizons.

Band gives students the opportunity to discover hidden talents. They are allowed to show their newfound talents in many concerts, festivals, and competitions. Examples of these would be when the band went to a festival in Saline, in addition to the traditional MSBOA Festival. The band also went to Lansing on April 19 and performed on the Capitol steps.

"Band is a course which doesn't get the credit it deserves. Mr. Rice is one of the best teachers I've ever had," commented Freshman Melissa Hyder about her first year in the high school band.

"I think choir is fun and Mr. Rice is a great teacher. I wish they'd have it next year," said Trisha Lawrence, a freshman in the THS choir. The choir also shows students' abilities in performances. They gave performances open to the public at the Civic Auditorium. Next year the choir program will be upgraded to make it the best here at THS. Students who wish to participate in choir will have to audition.

Both Band and Choir are taught by Mr. Jimmie Rice. Students enjoy having him as a teacher and the community enjoys listening to his students. Their concerts are enjoyed by the general public, as well as students.

Mr. Jimmie Rice is the teacher of both Band and Choir. Here he is advising the choir to do their best.

-James Harper

-John Lapham

One of the many performances given by band was the annual concert for the holiday season. This performance, along with many others, took place at the Civic Auditorium.

A portion of the choir waits while Mr. Rice gives them instructions in what to do next. The choir this year was fairly small.

The band marched down the boulevard during the Homecoming Parade as people watched on from the sidewalk.

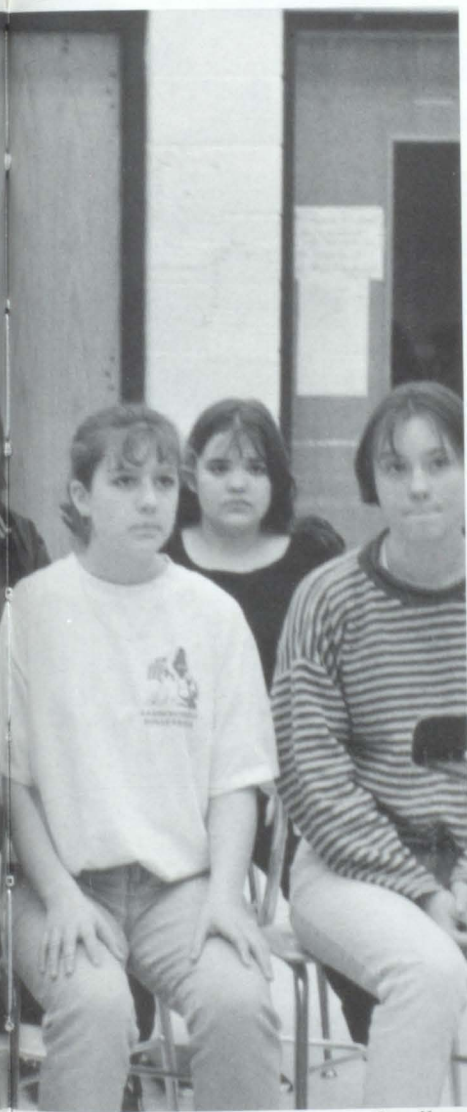

-Aimee Crumb

A section of the choir is singing their part during class. They were practicing for an upcoming concert for the spring season. Many of the students are happy that they will have a chance to participate in choir next year.

-James Harper

-Aimee Crumb

During the Homecoming parade, the band marched down the street, leading the way for the floats. Students were dismissed early to view the parade.

"There are no other courses like band. The knowledge and the experience you receive in it is unique. To excel depends on how much you practice your instrument, instead of studying the books. I certainly have enjoyed this unique experience during this year."

-Shelly Huang

Working Together to Make your Moments Memorable YEARBOOK

The theme for the yearbook this year was "Make Every Moment Count." This was especially popular with the senior yearbook staff members who, in the twilight of their high school careers, could relate to this message. However, the entire staff came to know the meaning of this theme as they faced the challenges associated with preparing the yearbook.

These students learned many valuable lessons and skills over the course of the year. Many of them attended the Jostens convention in Perrysburg, Ohio. They learned skills including layout design and photography. These skills, along with the guidance of Mrs. Messerly, Senior editor Erica Emery, and sophomore co-editor Nicole Porter, contributed many new ideas which were tried. A new method of advertising, Sponsor Ads, allowed an extra thirteen pages to be used for other layouts.

Yearbooks become keepsakes that owners can revisit from time to time to recall special moments in their high school careers. We hope you made every moment count.

Sophomore Nicole Porter is hard at work. Taking on the job of Co-editor was full of responsibilities, and she did a great job.

-John Lapham

-John Lapham

Freshman Sara Rosander is working hard recording money. The staff sold over 7,000 dollars in ads to local advertisers.

-John Lapham

Sophomore Nicole Porter is getting familiar with the new procedures the yearbook staff tried this year with the help of Jostens representative Mrs. Judy Allen. This year was the first year that Mrs. Allen was a representative for Tecumseh.

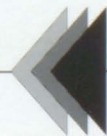

-John Lapham

Advisor Mrs. Messerly is explaining the responsibilities of being on the yearbook staff. It has been five years since Mrs. Messerly advised the yearbook. She came with many new ideas.

Sophomore Amy Pasternak and Senior Aimee Crumb are learning new terms and ideas used in this year's yearbook. The two contributed to the production of the yearbook in the sports sections and mini-magazine.

JOINING MOMENTS

Student Council and NHS

Striving to make a difference

Senior Kim Benjamin smiles for the camera with one of the students the NHS invited to the Spring Fling.

Some of the most dedicated students at THS are members of the Student Council and NHS. They pulled together to make our school the best it could be.

Members of the student council were voted on to represent their first hour classes. Their job was to inform their class of what decisions were being made. They were also supposed to get ideas from the class to share with the rest of the council.

This year's student council helped to give the students their best year ever. They put together the Homecoming dance as well as organizing the class walls, the class skits at the Homecoming Assembly, and all the other events that took place during Homecoming week. The council also provided TICWSS week. They arranged for all the dress-up days, the king/queen elections, and the events between the classes. They did a great job on all that they tried.

The members of the National Honors Society, otherwise known as NHS, are among the hardest working students in the school. To become a member they had to have a cumulative G.P.A. of at least 3.3, approval from all of their high school teachers, and be approved by a 5 member faculty council. This year NHS brought many smiles to the old and young alike. They held a Christmas party at a nursing home, they sponsored a Spring Fling with the elementary kids, and they helped out at the Special Olympics. They also held luncheons with the senior citizens, raised money for the Humane Society and other charities, and the members were guides for open house, conferences, and graduation.

S.A.D.D. & Peer Listening

Helping moments

When learning about and coping with the problems of teenage life gets to be too much, where can you turn? S.A.D.D. and Peer Listening.

S.A.D.D. grew to be a very large group this year. The 127 students involved in this club were very active in showing their dedication to the group, which included going out into the parking lot and tying red ribbons on cars as a constant reminder of the dangers of mixing driving with alcohol.

"We were really excited about how many people came out for S.A.D.D. this year," said President Senior Melodie Bone. "There are different committees and we tried to have meetings every month."

Another club that involves and affects the student body is Peer Listening.

Peer Listening was a group of students that helped other teens deal with the problems of teenage life. They helped them see their different options to solve those problems.

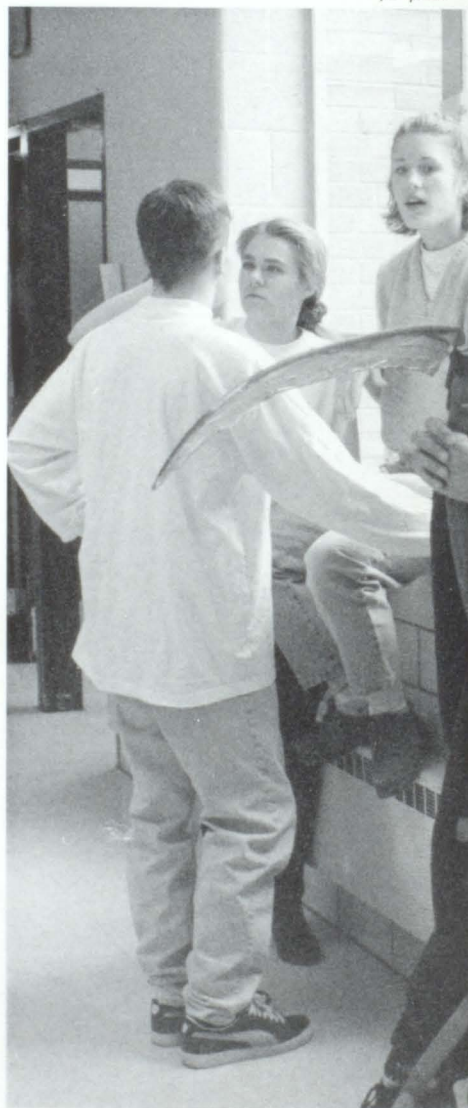

Every month, the Peer Listeners had inservice meetings to learn how to help cope with the problems of their peers. The program has helped T.H.S. students deal with many difficult situations, including the deaths of friends. Their advisor was Mrs. Selle.

These organizations were founded for the benefit of the student body and are greatly needed and appreciated.

A few S.A.D.D. members and Mrs. Kastel, the advisor, posed for a picture with speaker O.J. Anderson. He came to T.H.S. to speak on alcohol and its effects on families.

Art Club & N.A.H.S

Fun and Interesting Memories

Art Club and N.A.H.S did so many interesting activities this year that the amount of students involved was extremely high and exciting.

National Art Honor Society, an organization that is an extension of the Art Club, differs because of the "honor" part. You have to have a 3.0 grade point average to be in N.A.H.S. This year's advisors in Art Club and N.A.H.S were Mr. Frenzen and Mrs. Merrill. The President was Senior Ivy Yarkow, Vice-President was Sophomore Katy Adair, Secretary was Senior Anna Fielder, and the Treasurer was Senior Melodie Bone.

The Art Club was a very active group that brightened up the town by not only painting the downtown windows for homecoming, but selling candy to raise money, raking leaves at houses, having a garage sale for 50 families and other activities like a Bottle Drive to raise money for this year's New York trip. The most fun the Art Club probably had was taking the trip to New York, where the Art Club accomplished a lot. In New York, participants went to see the Statue of Liberty, Ellis Island, Medieval times, The Metropolitan Museum of Modern Art, The Momo Museum of Modern Art, and the Southstreet Sea Port. Another activity that was popular included the choice of two Broadway plays, Grease and The Phantom of the Opera.

This year's N.A.H.S and Art Club not only had a blast, but learned about the finer things dealing with art.

Seniors Ivy Yarkow, Melodie Bone, and Anna Fielder are giving a speech at the N.A.H.S banquet this year.

French & Spanish Clubs

A Window of Culture

French and Spanish Clubs add a little spice to life here at THS. They not only teach students a new culture, they open their eyes to a whole new world they might not realize is out there.

The advisors of the French Club were Mrs. Susan Jerabek and Mrs. Jan Wilson. They supervised field trips such as going to the Toledo Museum of Art and a luncheon at the Hathaway House in Blissfield. They were served from a traditional French menu. In it was a salad, onion soup, and beef bourguignon, among many other things.

Spanish Club was advised by Senor Jose Mejia. Activities they were involved in included traveling to Ann Arbor with the French Club to look at Nativity Scenes from around the world. The Spanish Club also had the opportunity to watch Beauty and the Beast in Spanish.

"French Club is a great way to meet new friends who enjoy experiencing a different culture," said Sophomore Annie Galvin.

"We don't do many activities, but the activities we have are educational and worthwhile," said Sophomore Jennifer Smith about the Spanish Club. "They're a lot of fun, too."

Quiz Bowl and Equations

Improving the Mind

Quiz Bowl and Equations are academically challenging games. You don't need to be a genius to play them, but it helps. Like sports teams, both practice regularly after school.

The advisor of Equations is Mrs. Virginia Majeske. She teaches the group tricks for the game. Equations is a game and a club rolled into one. While playing the game, there is sometimes a chance for players to socialize with other people with the same interests.

Quiz Bowl is more like a sport than Equations. Besides practicing regularly, the team travels for competitions. Ms. Kathy Kelso is the advisor. She "coaches" the team so they are better prepared for tournaments.

"It was my first year on Quiz Bowl. Quiz Bowl in high school is a lot different than in junior high. It's harder, but it is also more fun," said Freshman Linda Greene after her first year on the Quiz Bowl team.

"Equations in high school is awesome because you can learn tricks that you can use in your math class," commented Freshman Amy Wells after she experienced Equations at the high school level for the first time.

Even though both the games are hard to understand at first, those who participate really enjoy the experience they get from them. Both Equations and Quiz Bowl are fun and educational. Everyone should have a chance to play these games that will improve the mind.

Forensics and Debate

EXPRESS YOURSELF

This year, the topic of discussion in Debate Club was changing the immigration policy of the United States. Active members of this club were Seniors Julie Beland and Dave Seidel. Although this was the first year for both of them, they did a great job of representing Tecumseh.

Forensics focuses on the art of interpretation. Members of the club interpret their selections before a judge and the winners receive ribbons for the top three places. Good interpretation requires total physical, vocal, and emotional involvement of the selection being presented. Some of the different events are multiple players, duo, impromptu, humorous, poetry, story telling, persuasive, and dramatic, along with a new event this year, radio broadcasting. Each member is limited to two events.

During the school year, Forensics members compete in three scrimmages and a tournament. The tournament was held on May 1st this year. An awards banquet was held on May 16th, where plaques were awarded to worthy players.

Among the winners in the scrimmages were: Senior Mark Steiner, placing first in the poetry competition, Sophomore Angela Jacobsen, placing first in dramatic interpretation, and Senior Charissa Lindstrom, continued her career winning streak by placing first in the dramatic and dramatic duo categories. One of the biggest winners of the year was Junior J.R. Regal, who came in first in every impromptu competition, and third in radio broadcasting.

Seniors Charissa Lindstrom and Molly Hicks review their presentation for the tournament, while Sophomores Julia Fielder and Angela Jacobsen look on. Five different schools from the county participated in the tournament.

Senior Keith Jacobs and Junior J.R. Regal work hard and fast while preparing for their impromptu speeches. The subject of discussion was the bombing in Oklahoma City. Regal won first place in the competition and is known among his Forensic friends as the "King of Impromptu".

Junior Adam Bowman tries his best on his humorous interpretation at the Forensics tournament. Adam presented a skit originally done by comedian Jeff Foxworthy.

BPA and Winners Circle

Straight and Smart

Experience in handling professional situations is an important skill in preparing for the future. Business Professionals of America gives high school students a chance to gain this experience by working with peers and the community. This organization promotes competition, business awareness, and of course, fun.

Two of the fund raisers that were sponsored by BPA this year were Beach Night and Data Match. Beach Night consisted of music, food, and volleyball. Data Match was an electronic service that matched females to males with the same interests, and vice versa, for Valentine's Day.

"I really like the tournaments and working with other people," commented club historian, Junior Debbie Hoffman. "BPA really gives you a chance to meet new and interesting people."

Other officers in this club included President, Ryan Housekeeper; Vice President, Jen Patrick; Treasurer, Kellee Kish; Secretary, Beth Madziar; and Krista Lash served as Parliamentarian. Mrs. Shelley Jusick was the organization's advisor.

Another important club at Tecumseh High School is Winners Circle. This organization focuses on keeping students off drugs and alcohol. All athletes at T.H.S. are required to take six hours of training in drug and alcohol resistance, then it is their choice as to whether or not they want to continue in the program. Non-athletic students are also strongly encouraged to participate in Winners Circle, by advisor Mr. Pat Connors.

Both Winners Circle and Business Professionals of America offer education, experience, and fun to high school students.

EARTH AND HISPANIC CLUBS

HELPING EARTH AND PEERS

Have you ever wondered if there really is anything you can do for the benefit of our environment or those who live in it? If so, here are a couple of clubs for you. Earth Club and Hispanic Club encourage learning and meeting new people. They open our eyes to the world around us and allow us to better adapt to the environment we live in. Members of Earth Club did their part in helping the environment by participating in the act of recycling.

Members empty and replace the recycling bins found in every classroom with the support of their advisor, Mr. Eric Ferwerda. This group encourages environmental awareness and sets an example for others.

"Earth Club gives you a chance to meet new people and help the earth. I like it a lot because now I feel like I really am doing something to benefit the world," remarked active Earth Club member Sophomore Andrea Oatman.

The Hispanic Club is an organization that brings Hispanic students at T.H.S. closer together and reinforces knowledge of their heritage.

"Some people think Hispanic Club is a racial thing, but it is only here to help Hispanic students achieve their goals," advisor Sr. Jose Mejia clarified.

The main focus of this group is teaching the benefits of staying in school, and reaching goals for the future.

Both of these clubs offer experiences that will help the future of our world, whether it concerns cleaning up the environment, or furthering education and friendships. They are also helpful in understanding and resolving the differences among students.

Equestrians & Jungle Committee

Lions and Tigers and Horses, Oh My

The Jungle committee and Equestrians are two interesting clubs that our student body attends.

The Jungle committee added a lot of excitement to the year by planning dress up days such as Camouflage, Hat Night, Beach Night, and Toga Day. The Jungle committee also pumped up the crowd by leading cheers and chants in order to get everyone involved.

Half the reason people came to the games was to be involved and watch the Jungle. Basketball players really appreciated the enthusiasm they received from the Jungle, who helped them stay focused the whole season. This encouraged the players and helped them achieve victory at Districts.

The Equestrian team was coached by Cathy Scott this year. The members had a lot of fun gaining more experience, increasing their level of difficulty, and accomplishing many goals for the year.

Senior Amanda Scott and Junior April Hardy were the team captains this year. They helped the rookies and returning veterans all year long. Captain Hardy commented, "It was definitely an interesting year."

O.J. SIMPSON

This Year's Media "Overkill"

Nicole Brown Simpson and Ronald Goldman were brutally murdered on June 12th, 1994 in what has been called "The Crime of the Century". This disaster took place at Nicole's condominium in Los Angeles, California. It is alleged that Nicole's husband, O.J. Simpson, 47, was responsible for both murders. Simpson is the only suspect to have been implicated, with only two key witnesses to the killings in the case.

O.J.'s lawyers are his long-time friend, Johnnie Cochran Jr., and the Los Angeles celebrity lawyer, Robert Shapiro. Simpson has pleaded, "not guilty", and the trial has been well under way for months.

Each time a radio or a T.V. is turned on or a newspaper or magazine is opened, people in the United States are bombarded with opinions and useless facts about the case. There is 'daily trial coverage' on T.V. stations and everywhere one goes or looks there is something to remind us of this abominable transgression which has been committed. The media seems to be having a field day with something that, should be treated with more respect for the children and families of the victims.

The question of this case is no longer "whether or not he's guilty" but whether the jury, now down to only three alternates, can withstand this enforced infliction.

McVeigh arrested as chief suspect in bombing

The worst terrorist attack on the U.S. in history took place in Oklahoma City on April 19, 1995. A bomb, delivered in a Ryder rental truck exploded tearing down the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building and many others surrounding it. The explosion was so strong it took the lives of 150 people, twenty of them being young children from the day care in the Federal Building.

FBI officials believe that Tim McVeigh, a former member of the Michigan Militia, was involved in the bombing. It is said that McVeigh, with the assistance of two unknown accomplices, rented the Ryder truck and planted the bomb just outside the Federal Building.

It is speculated that the date of the attack, April 19, may have been connected to the two year anniversary of the catastrophe at Waco. In fact, a coworker stated that McVeigh had, "Extreme right-wing views, was a military veteran and was particularly agitated about the conduct of the government at Waco, Texas, in 1993."

According to that same coworker, "McVeigh had been so agitated, that he had personally visited the site". Coincidentally, the Federal Building bombed contained FBI and ATF agencies, the two government agencies responsible for the Waco attack.

Quotes taken from the April 21st, 1995 edition of the Adrian Daily Telegram.

This is Senior Ken Jackson's interpretation of the tragedy at the Alfred P. Murrah Building in Oklahoma City on April 19, 1995.

Relationships: The Real Facts

When looking back on high school years, what do you remember the most? Friends? Sports? Sure you remember those, but don't forget most of all, relationships. Seniors focus on graduation and college, the freshmen are just warming up to high school ways, and juniors and sophomores analyze their relationships with each other.

All relationships revolve around many things, which differs from relationship to relationship, depending on your virtue. Most people agree that they revolve around trust.

"I think that trust is the largest factor in a good relationship, but I also think that enjoying each other's company and being able to joke around with one another is important for a fun, lasting relationship," said Sophomore Jennie Webb.

"Relationships are definitely dependant on the trust and honesty of the couple, so that's what really makes the relationship," said Sophomore Camille Cameron. "Love and compassion are part of it also."

Unfortunately, to every good relationship, there is also a down side. Many people put all their trust into their relationship, and sometimes come out getting hurt. "Trust is the basis for every relationship," said Senior Krista Lash, "Without trust, it's gone....gone."

Some individuals focus too much on the physical aspects of their companions, and are blinded by the inner beauty of a person. Some, like Junior Kerstan Ryan, who admits, "I feel women should only be used as sex objects." This focuses completely on the sexual aspects of a relationship.

However, there are couples at T.H.S. who have a mature outlook on relationships, and can maintain a good, lasting one. The most memorable of these couples were Sarah Brunetz and Dave McDonnough, who were crowned Prom King and Queen. "Sarah and Dave- they've been together forever and they're so cute," said Senior Kelly Winkler.

Freshman Erin Durkee hopes to qualify for the Eastern State Meet next year. "She improved so much during the year, there's no doubt in my mind she will make state next year," commented fellow swimmer Noelle Dwarski.

Kristy Dunham

Following in her big sister's foot steps, Freshman Marcy Mobley pitched a no-hitter in her first high school season on the softball team. "She'll definitely be our pitching hero for the next three years," said Freshman Erin Lips.

Anticipation, hardwork, fun, and leadership, are the qualities these Tecumseh high school athletes have shown, throughout their sports season allowing them to receive a great reward, the opportunity to take it to the State Competition.

We would like to recognize these athletes on their outstanding achievements. Many hours of hard, strenuous workouts are what made these people earn their spot at top qualifying meets. "The workouts are hard, yet they are still fun because they always provide a new challenge," stated Senior Leah Harvey. Leah ranked 15th in the nation for gymnastics.

Although these athletes make it to the State Competition, it does not always end up as they had hoped it would. Junior Jason Mensing quoted by saying, "State for my second year was a lot harder, but I think I should have won." Losing can sometimes be a very devastating thing for an outstanding athlete, but it could have been nerves, what training they did before the competition, or it just happened to be a bad day.

Whatever the reason making it as far as these athletes have is quite an accomplishment.

Some other athletes that made it to State were: Amanda Palmer, Angela Stanifer, Ryan Roesler, Joshua Tuberville, Nate Murphy, Jocelyn Morse, Deanna Vogel, Jennie Webb, Devon Cunningham, and the Girls Cross Country Team. Many compliments on those athletes for their outstanding achievements, goals, and making it to the State Competition this year.

Michigan Teens Faced With New Law

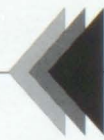

Although many people have never heard of it, Michigan drivers who are under 21 have a new policy to follow. The "zero tolerance" law, which came into effect on Nov. 1, 1994, states that if you are under 21 and are caught driving with a blood alcohol level above .02 percent, you will face extreme punishment.

Minors that have not had any prior alcohol convictions face a 30-90 day license suspension, up to 45 days of community service, and up to a $250 fine. However, minors with more than one prior alcohol conviction face a license suspension of 90 days to a year, 60 days of community service, and up to a $500 fine. Also, no matter if you have any prior alcohol convictions or not, this offense counts four points on your license. If you refuse a preliminary breath test, it's a two-point civil infraction (violation), as well as court costs and a fine of up to $100.

Convicted minors must undergo screening and assessment to determine whether they are likely to benefit from alcohol or other drug education programs that they are also responsible to pay. When full driving privileges are returned, minors will be faced with a $125 driver license reinstatement fee.

This policy was much needed considering some of the facts on underage drinking and driving. For example, alcohol-related motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death for minors who can legally drive. A young person under the legal drinking age is nearly twice as likely to die in an alcohol-related crash than an adult over 21. 42 percent of the Michigan crashes in which teenagers were killed in 1991 involved alcohol.

Heart and Dedication Prove Coaches Wrong

The Ann Arbor News' coaches poll predicted that this year's Varsity football team would finish 1-8 and last in the S.E.C. From the first day of August until the last game in Indian Stadium against Dexter the Tribe battled to prove the prediction wrong.

The only game the Indians were "suppose" to win was the first game against Hillsdale. The Tribe destroyed the Hornets but somehow were defeated 20-19. "We could have easily let down after the loss to Hillsdale, but instead we stepped up to the challenge and started to prove the coaches' prediction wrong," stated Junior defensive end John Roof.

The Indians followed the loss by dominating Lincoln in their first league game, 26-15. The Indians then lost to class A power Saline.

The Tribe then destroyed non-league foe Jackson Northwest 22-12. The Indians followed with a league game against Pinckney, in a very hard played contest, the Tribe came out with a 7-6 victory.

Homecoming was not a good week for the Indians as they came out flat against a determined Milan team.

"We just didn't come to play and Milan did. That was definitely the difference," replied offensive guard T.J. Hunt.

The Indians came back strong and defeated Chelsea on their field, something no Tecumseh team had ever done. The last league game was a battle with Dexter for second place. The Indians dominated from start to finish enroute to a 22-16 victory. The Indians then lost a somewhat meaningless game at Marshall 19-12.

Overall the Tribe finished 5-4 not 1-8 and also placed second in the SEC, far from last.

Even though the Indians weren't undefeated or league champions; "They played with more heart than any team I've ever coached in 27 years," complimented head coach Ray Schmidt.

"I thought Al was the best quarterback in the league. He was our leader on and off the field and was definitely in charge all the time," stated Gentry.

JV & FROSH FOOTBALL

A Season of Learning and Change

The Tecumseh Junior Varsity Football Team came into this season against a league that was more powerful and more experienced than in the past. The Tecumseh team would endure a very turbulent season ranging from blowouts to shutouts.

The Indians came up short against the Hillsdale team in the season opener, but they were determined to improve their skills and their record in the future. Tecumseh came on strong, showing their will to win by crushing the Lincoln Railsplitters and keeping the momentum by overpowering Saline 28-14 in the following week.

"This was a very emotional win for us," replied freshman Nate Long. "We came on strong and didn't stop until time ran out."

Next up were the Mounties of Jackson Northwest. With key blocking from the offensive line, the Indians scored an amazing 43 points and held Jackson to 32 to take the win.

The Indians were riding on a three game winning streak until meeting the Pinckney Pirates. In an offensive struggle, Tecumseh fell short with a disappointing loss of 7-6.

Even though the winning streak was broken, the Indians once again found strength and came back the next week to roll over the Big Reds of Milan. "This was an important win for us," stated fullback Dan Tooman. "It showed we could come off a tough loss and still rally for next week's game."

The Indians ended up losing two of the last three games, but still couldn't be denied of an overall winning record of 5-4. "Throughout the season they improved greatly and were always willing to give all they had," says coach Jeff Baker. "They will contribute greatly to the varsity team next year."

The Tecumseh Freshman Football Team came into the season with high hopes of an SEC championship. They showed they were genuine contenders by winning a hard fought game against Hillsdale 7-6 in the season opener. The Indians then pushed on to shut out Adrian and Western in the following two weeks. "After beating Adrian 14-0, we were really pumped. This gave us a big psychological advantage. We proved to ourselves that we could keep getting better by stomping Western 40-0 the next week," stated Andy Feldkamp team quarterback.

However, the dream for an SEC championship was crushed despite the efforts from the Indian team when they lost the next three games. Even though the team was flustered they pulled it together and were victorious against the Chelsea Bulldogs the following week. They finished up the season losing to Monroe CC, but coming back to upset Marshall 35-8. After an exciting year the Indians ended up with a 5-4 season. "The season didn't turn out like we all had hoped it would, but I believe it was a good learning experience for the boys," said coach Dan Perkins.

GIRLS VARSITY BASKETBALL

Shooting For Goals

What made the Girls Varsity Basketball Team so good this season? Good coaches, good players, a lot of teamwork, and plenty of practice. Coach Ron Spagnoli commented, "All the players got along and the respect they had for each other was abundant. They played hard every game and when we shot the ball, well, we were just a good team."

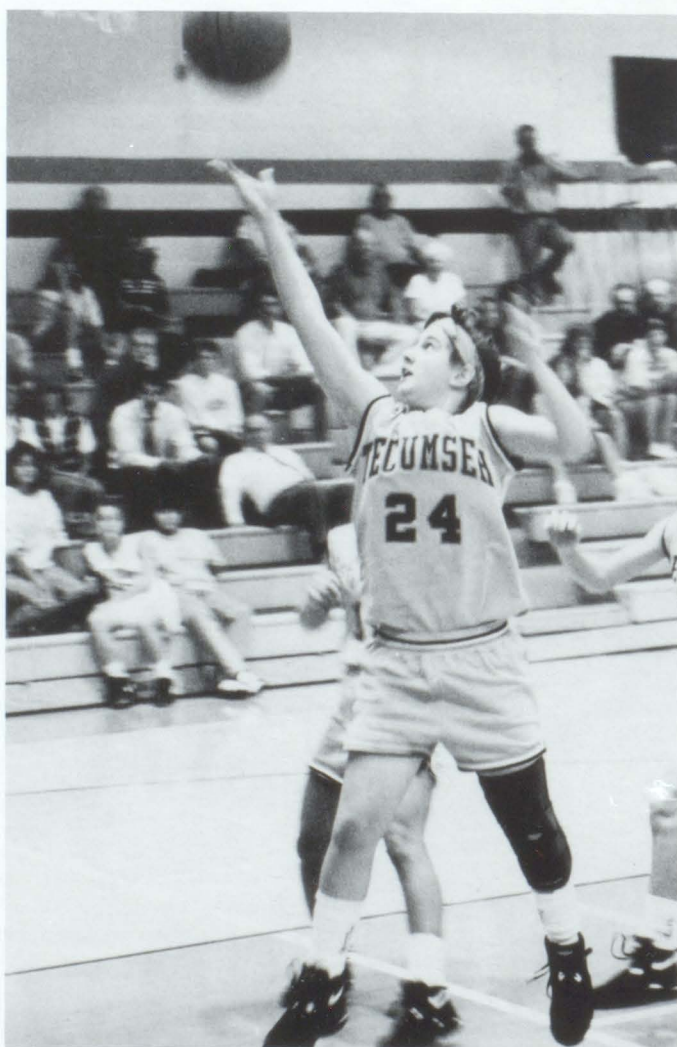

When asked about the senior players, Coach Spagnoli had this to say, "The seniors were good leaders with good attitudes. They worked hard and gave their best efforts. They were role models for the younger players."

The team finished fourth in the SEC with a 6-6 record. Their record overall was 9-12. Senior Amy Still set many records, including most 3-point shots made in a season, most 3-pointers made in a career, and most 3-point shots made during a single game (five, vs. Dexter). Still also was named Prep Athlete of the Week, All SEC, All Region, and honorable mention All State.

Senior Josette McWilliams also received All SEC, All County, and All Region; Senior Melissa Pound was awarded All Region, while Junior Brenda Roesler was named to the All SEC and All Region teams.

GIRLS JV & FROSH BASKETBALL

It's just the beginning

Starting the season with ten players did not look very promising for the JV team, and after losing their first game to Adrian, it looked as though it was going to be a long season.

"Despite the fact that we were very small, and had only ten players most of the season, our cooperation and ability to work well together proved us to be a winning team," commented Sophomore Katy Adair.

"As the season went on, our team became closer and more productive on the court which helped us on our victories," stated Sophomore Carrie Bagby.

The JV girls proved that working hard at being the best pays off as they finished their season with a winning record and a season they will always remember.

The beginning of the '94 season for the freshmen started off with a bang. Losing players to JV and Varsity teams did not bring the freshmen down. They started the season beating Hillsdale, Webberville and Western.

"It was hard adjusting when players got moved around, but we pulled through it and improved as a team," stated Freshman Stephanie Catros.

"During the season the girls improved offensively. They became more aware of the five player game," stated Coach Lori Spotts.

To the girls it did not matter who they played, they always played with dedication and the skill that proved they could win any match they set their hearts on.

Varsity Soccer

The Tradition Continues

Expected to have a "re-building season", the Varsity Soccer squad ended the season finishing second in the SEC.

"We really exceeded our expectations as well as our coach's by pulling together early on and winning a lot of tough games," said Rodney Roesler.

Outplaying teams became important to the squad, and they would stop at nothing to complete their goal. Their best asset was team unity, and it showed when they played.

"We could usually count on someone stepping up. If somebody was hurt, another player would jump right in and keep it going for us," said coach Jose Mejia.

The group stunned opponents with their blinding offense, led by Ricky Smith and Roy Harnish, and with every one playing to the best of their ability.

The season turned out to be promising for the varsity squad. Having a good record and being a talented team were only two of the qualities possessed by the squad, and it definitely showed when they played.

Striving to be the best was something the team worked hard for and it showed in the end. They gave it their all in practice as well as games and proved that they could accomplish anything they set their minds to.

The guys showed that nothing could stop them, as they finished the season with a great record and the determination to do even better next year.

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

Always First to the Finish

In the summer, the Girls Cross Country Team had a dream. That dream was to go to state as a team. No girls team had ever qualified since Cross Country was introduced to Tecumseh. The girls never knew that this year would be the year that history would be recorded.

The first meet was the Tecumseh Cross Country Preview, held at the girls home course. It was at this meet where it all began. The first dual meet was held against Columbia Central, where the girls ran away with their first victory, 27 to 28. (lowest score wins).

Throughout the season there were several ups and downs. The team earned either 1st or 2nd at every invitational. The girls league record was 3-3. There was only one major downfall-the league meet. The girls finished 5th out of the seven teams. Senior Erica Goodrow walked away from the meet with a 10th place finish, good for all-league honors.

Another highlight of the season was when Freshman Jennifer Brown broke the freshman course record of 22:40, formerly held by Kirstin Brink. Brown's new record is 22:25.

Yet another major event that occurred was at regionals, where Senior Angie Stanifer finished 12th. The rest of the team felt as if they didn't run well. That all changed when coach Gary Fox came to announce that the girls were going to state as a team.

"It was our goal to make it to state as a team since summer," said Senior Erica Goodrow. "When Fox said, 'Do you guys want to go to state?' I was so excited, I forgot about my hurt leg."

The team continued to improve. Senior Aimee Crumb was one of the team's captains.

She said, "This has been the team's dream for a long time. We were all so pumped when we found out we made it and that we beat Chelsea, our long time rivals."

Tecumseh High School should be proud of their girls Cross Country Team for achieving this milestone.

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

A Season To Remember

In the beginning it appeared as if the Boys Cross Country Team was on their way to state. The team was led by the solid 1-2-3 combination of Justin Compton, Steve Walker and Brian Kleman. Seniors Matt Lander, Brian Irwin, and four-year veteran Keith Jaynes were right at their heels. This team appeared unstoppable.

The team did run into some minor problems along the way, including injuries and the ineligibility of Compton, the top runner, for the first half of the season.

Bill Carter, only a sophomore, earned the status of Warrior, which is a 1,000 mile club. He was joined by fellow Warriors Kevin Brown, Justin Compton, and Mike Phillips. Brian Kleman, a senior rookie, placed tenth at the SEC League meet, earning all conference honors. Steve Walker recorded the ninth fastest 5k time in Tecumseh's history.

Justin Compton finished 12th at Regionals, qualifying for his second State meet (where he finished 28th). Compton also earned all-conference honors by placing 8th in the league meet.

Senior Matt Lander said this about his last year of cross country, "Even though I was injured, this year was the best ever."

Newcomer Brian Kleman noted that he wished he would have started running Cross his freshman year. "Cross is a lot different than track. We're more friends and family," said Kleman.

The team's true veteran was Keith Jaynes, who ran all four years under coach Gary Fox. "Cross Country is unexplainable," said Jaynes. "It's a sport that you have to come out for it to understand it. I think that I will really miss it."

Varsity and JV Golf

One Of The Best Ever

This year's Varsity golf team was led by five returning letterman from last year's state qualifying team. Seniors Jamie Feldkamp, Dave Siedel, Aaron Brakke, and Ryan Housekeeper, along with Juniors Garrett Roe, and Steve Newell, had the second best average in Tecumseh history.

The Indians dominated everyone on their way to a 10-0 record, with only two meets left, both against Saline. In Saline, the Tribe shot their worst score of the year and suffered their first loss on that rainy day.

The Indians had one last chance to do something no Tecumseh team had ever done, beat Saline. It was the Country Club where that goal was accomplished. Tecumseh easily dominated the Hornets and won by nine strokes.

Along the way to their impressive 11-1 record, the three Indians tied the school record for low score. In the same meet, Feldkamp, Newell, and Siedel all shot a 36 against Chelsea. Brakke chipped an impressive 38 to help break the school record for low team score.

The Indians placed second at the league meet behind, of course, Saline and placed fourth at regionals. "We were in the hardest region in the state," stated Brakke, "We shot over fifteen strokes lower than last year and still didn't qualify for state."

Overall, the Indians were happy with their accomplishments and with the help of Juniors Paul Volpi, and Pete Garcia, the returning juniors look to do even better next season.

Kristy Dunham

Three year letter winner, Senior Dave Siedel played a very important role in this year's team success. Along with Senior Captain Jamie Feldkamp, Siedel helped make up a strong nucleus for coach Paul Cunningham.

Senior Aaron Brakke makes an eight foot putt look easy on his way to a 38 against Chelsea. Brakke helped destroy the school record for team low score by setting a new mark at 146.

Girls Swimming

On a Quest for Victory

Team work and dedication were the main ingredients for success for the THS Girls Swim Team. Another important addition--practice. As Junior Tamar Mishigian explained, "I practiced hard for two weeks, and my time dropped two seconds!"

When athletes on a team were sick or unable to compete, it hurt the team as a whole, but it also made some swimmers stronger.

"For two weeks, four people were sick," replied Junior Amber Majeske. "Although the leaders were missed, it made others stronger by being forced into the lead."

Another example of team work was that most of the swimmers were underclassmen, meaning the team lacked in experience under pressure.

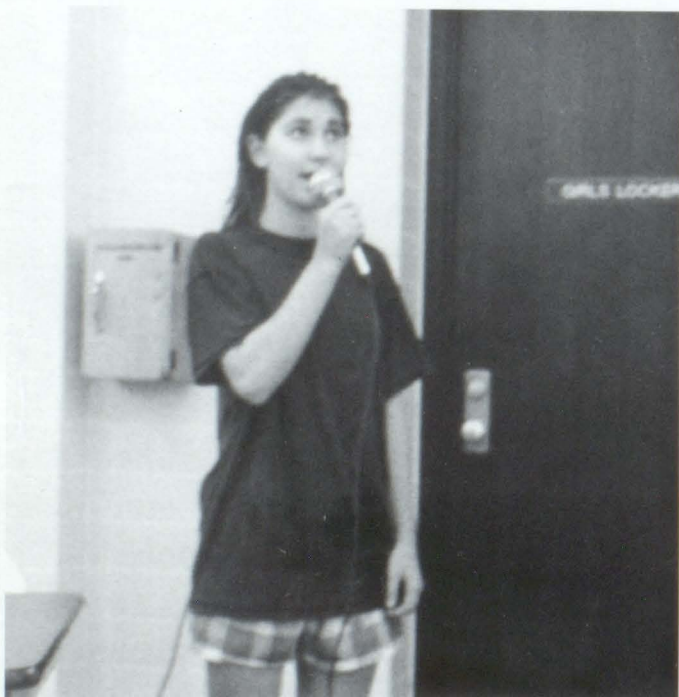

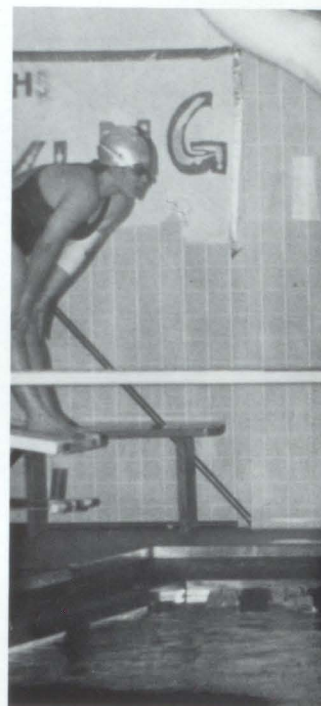

Tecumseh, as a team, finished seventh in the Southern Michigan Independent Swimming League. The top eight swimmers were: Amanda Palmer, Erin Durkee, Molly Hicks, Tasha Gurica, Noelle Dwarski, Devon Cunningham, Shannon Cunningham, and Andrea Wick. All qualified for state competition at EMU. After preliminary competition, Palmer placed third, and D. Cunningham came in second.

"I expected Devon and Amanda to do well, but I didn't think I would do as well as I did," commented Freshman Erin Durkee.

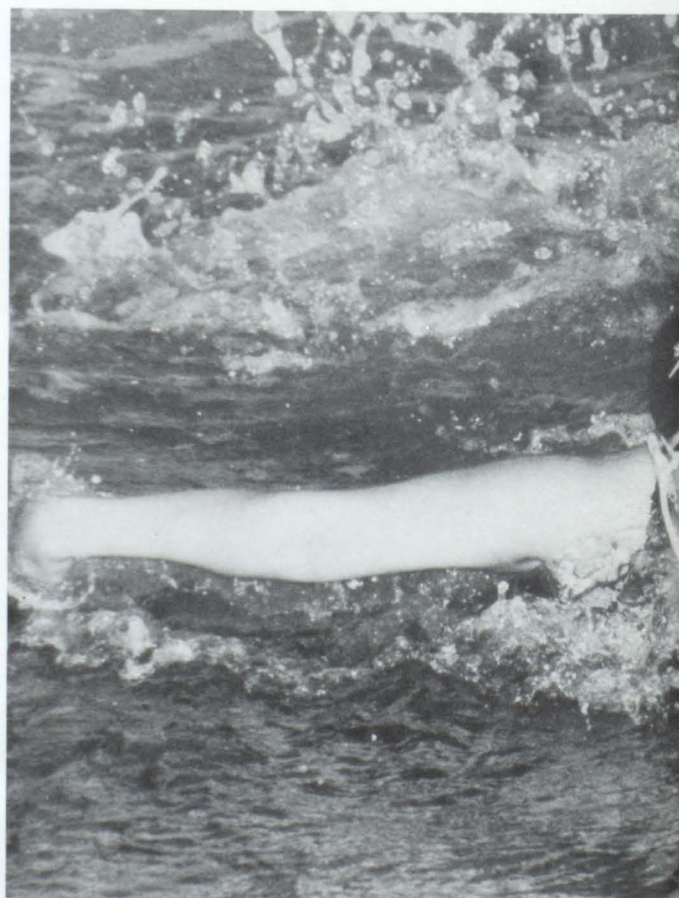

"The divers were the backbone of our team all year," explained coach Mammel, "and what they did here [at state] was extra exciting."

Senior Noelle Dwarski had this to say, "I was very happy with this season. Mr Mammel really pulled the team together."

Boys Swimming

On a Quest for Victory

The Boys Swim Team started off the season with five consecutive wins, then three losses. The season ended with three more wins for a record of 9:3, making the 1994-95 season a successful one.

Besides the regular meets, the team placed first in the T.H.S. Relays and the Kiwanis Invitational. Another great achievement for the team was finishing second in the S.M.I.S.L. Relays and Championships. They also took a respectable fourth place in the diving regionals and SEC meet.

"The team worked really hard this past year to succeed at the state meet. We stayed close and really helped each other out," commented Junior Nate Murphy. "It's going to be hard for next year's team to beat this one, but we will sure try."

This year's boys swimming team had a great season, winning three quarters of their meets.

In closing, the effort is summed up by a team captain, Eli Beutler, "It was fun, but it was tough!"

Varsity/JV Wrestling

A Time For New Faces

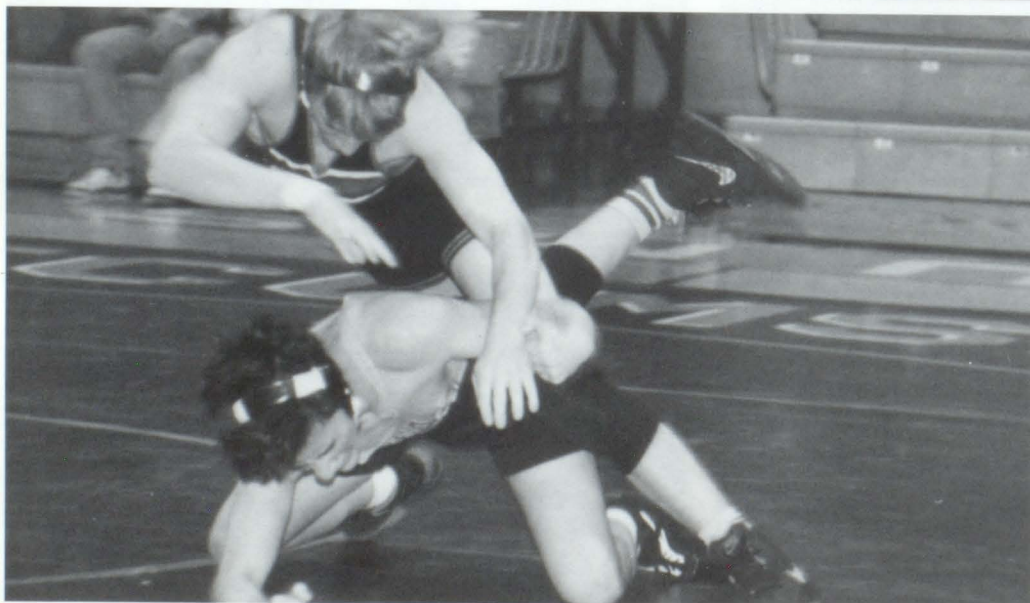

The Tecumseh High School Junior Varsity and Varsity wrestlers wrapped up the year with an educational season. The Indians encountered much this year including spectacular pins and devastating losses. This year the Indians learned much and many wrestlers improved throughout the duration. Incoming wrestlers took up the responsibility and gave strength to the group. The Indians put up an excellent fight, but finished off the season with a 5-16 win/loss record.

Despite the record, many individuals improved greatly. Many Indian wrestlers placed in meets, as well as in the invitationals. Junior Matt Baker finished second in Monroe, fourth at Belleville and third in the county. He achieved an impressive win/loss record with ten pins. Other honors were T.J. Hunt-fourth in League; Greg Stoddard-fourth in County, sixth at Belleville; Steve Stoddard-fourth at Monroe, third in County; and Tom Hawkins-fourth at Monroe.

The most impressive season record belongs to Junior Jason Mensing. He compiled a most powerful win/loss record of 38-5 with 22 pins. His honors include: Western Champion, Monroe Champion, Second at Belleville, Second in County, League Champion, District Champion, Regional Champion, and sixth in State Finals. "I'm glad that I improved in the State Finals this year, but I hope to go even further next season," said Mensing.

Over all, the Tribe didn't have that bad a year in an extremely tough League. "They're a great bunch of kids," stated Coach Pat Connors, "They've all got heart and a love for wrestling."

Varsity Basketball

Towering Over the Competition

This year's Varsity Basketball Team came into the season with two major goals: to defend the S.E.C. title and win the district championship.

They started out the season by beating Riverview, 64-55. The Indians then faced their first league opponent, Lincoln. The Indians played horrible and were defeated 65-48. "After we lost to Lincoln we realized that we had to play hard every game and couldn't let down," stated Senior forward Rich Schlanderer.

The tribe then went on a tear, winning their next five games. By winning four league games during that stretch, the Indians set up a battle with Dexter for early season control of first place in the league. The Indians struggled and were defeated 61-50.

The Indians finished the season strong, which set up yet another title match against Dexter, this time playing in "The Jungle."

Senior center Brad

Allen and Junior forward Derrick Wolfe both played amazing games, but the Indians lost by one, 35-34. The Indians had to settle for second place and set their sights on winning the District Championship.

The Indians started off District play by avenging an early season loss to Columbia Central. Allen led the way with 28 points and 19 rebounds, along with six blocks. The Indians then looked forward to playing their foe, Onsted, for the first time. The tribe destroyed Onsted by a score of 45-27. Schlanderer was unstoppable scoring 18 points and pulling down 13 rebounds. The tribe then lost their first game in Regionals to eventual champions, Grosse Ile, 54-52.

"A lot of people stepped up this year, like Brandon and Al (Schmidt). They made things a lot easier for me," stated All Stater Allen.

Play as a Team, Win as a Team

Starting the year off, the JV team had high hopes of having a great season and a winning record. Returning nearly all the players from last year's team was a reason to have such hopes.

They started off slow though, losing their first few games. Yet, they pulled out of their losing streak and turning the tables around, went from losing to winning.

Playing with pressure defense and strong offense, the team showed that working hard to be the best is the only way to get anywhere.

"When we actually played as a team, we did alright, but we were inconsistent and lost quite a few games that we shouldn't have," said Chad Whelan.

Playing inconsistent didn't seem to show though. The guys ended with a season they will always remember, and a record they will never forget.

Remaining undefeated for the past two years, the freshmen came into the '94 season with dreams of adding another year to that list. Playing hard in practices and games, they gave it their all to make the visions real.

Though starting the year off losing their first few games, the season looked as though it was going to be a rough ride. They had an up and down season and finally pulled it together long enough to win eight straight games.

"After we won a few games, we gained more confidence and continued to play at the top of our games," said Andrew Feldkamp.

Playing at the top came easy to the team as they finished their season with a great record and an anticipation for next year.

A season to remember

Jump, set, score! The Varsity Volleyball team was a great success this season. They had a tough time at the beginning, but they pulled together and ended the season with excitement and victories.

The team only had two returning players this season,

Brenda Roesler and Lindsay Yeager. The girls opened their season on December 30, 1994 with a tournament at Portage Northern. Their SEC schedule began against Saline where the Indians were defeated 8-15 and 11-15. In the third SEC game, the team defeated Pinckney getting their first league victory of the season. Coach Pomny replied, "The team may be small, but the girls play with intensity and desire."

Throughout the season, the girls continued to develop and improve. "Everybody worked together in both good and bad times, which helped the team out greatly," said Senior Jamie Hanselman.

Throughout the season, the girls continued to improve. By the end of the season, the girls were playing great and finished the season well.

Bumped & Spiked Their Way to Victory

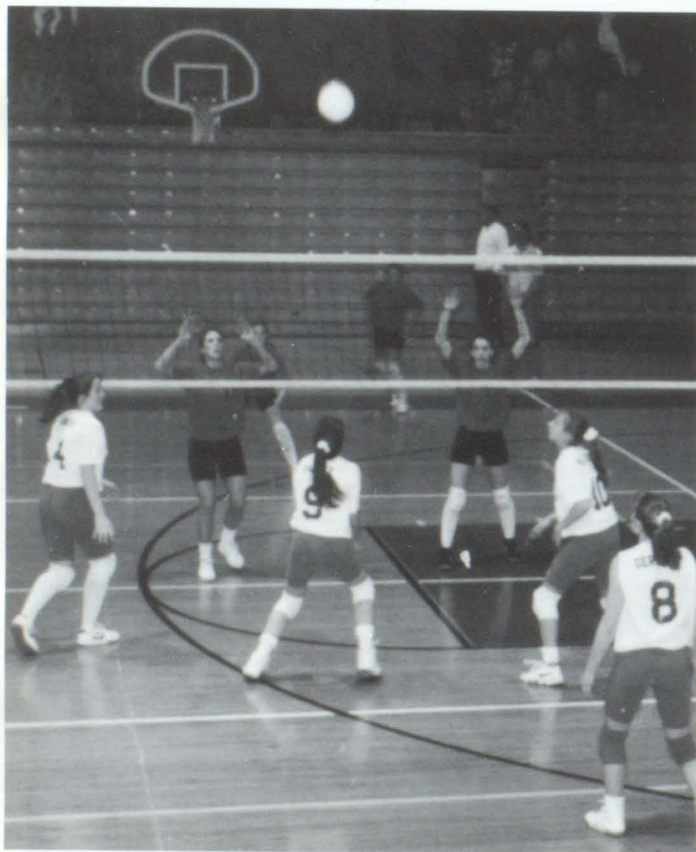

The 94-95 winter sports season was a successful and enjoyable year for our volleyball players. They learned a lot and had fun at the same time, mostly because of the coaches and overall unity of players.

Due to the steady improvements made by the many freshmen players, they had the opportunity to move up and help the J.V.

squad to their well deserved victories at tournaments.

This is only the second year that T.H.S. has had a freshman volleyball team, yet it is the first year they have won a S.E.C. game.

Freshmen Candy Gray commented, "I am really glad I tried out this year, the team has shown a lot of improvement throughout the year."

Varsity Baseball

Committed to Excellence

This year's Varsity Baseball Team was led by a strong unit of returning seniors along with a very talented group of juniors. The Indians played better as the season went on, which was highlighted by winning the S.E.C. tournament, and defeating Saline, something no league team had done in two years. "We had so much talent and senior leadership it was hard for us not to win," exclaimed Junior pitcher Matt Sebring.

The Indians started out the season with a 6-4 record. "After losing to Clinton we decided that we wanted to be a good team not just an average one," stated Senior Jeremy Bennett.

The Tribe then went on a tear, winning 18 out of 25 games, placing third in the regular season race and winning the S.E.C. tournament.

The Indians went into districts with a 27-6-1 record.

The Indians then defeated Jackson Northwest and Onsted to make it to the district championship game. In the Finals, the Indians played a near perfect game, but were defeated 2-0 by Brooklyn Columbia Central.

A Season of Improvement

The season started out strong for this year's JV Baseball Team. "We played hard, and it showed," stated Sophomore Matt Clark, "We were playing really well."

The young Indians battled all season to stay on top of the S.E.C. race, but were bumped by Saline late in the year. "Although we didn't win the league, we were still very happy with our performances all season," remarked Sophomore Scot Pittman. The Tribe finished the year with a record of 17 wins for 26 games, while finishing second in the league.

Overall the team felt very good about the season and they feel they can help contribute to the success of the varsity team in the year to come.

The year prove to be a long and hard season for this year's Freshman Baseball Team. The young Indians struggled through a very tough schedule and came out with a 5-12 record. "We showed a lot of signs of becoming a good team but we just couldn't break through and prove it," stated outfielder Joey Danley.

The season was highlighted by a win against Adrian. The Indians pulled out a 12-8 victory. "We played hard and were extremely pleased when we defeated Adrian," stated catcher Chad Gittus.

Although the team struggled this year they're looking to be an experienced and dominating team next year.

Varsity Softball

Playing at the Top

This year's Varsity Softball Team was led by a strong unit of returning seniors along with a very talented group of juniors, sophomores, and even two freshmen.

Mobley, pitched a perfect game.

"I couldn't believe the power demonstrated by Alicia and Marcy. They really came through for us in some really big games," commented second baseman Senior Kristy Dunham.

The team was expected to be a power-house in the S.E.C., but injuries eluded them from receiving any titles this year.

"We knew if we had a lot of injuries this year that we'd have to compensate for, would be extremely hard. After losing Barb Dykas before the season began, and then Kristy Dunham in the middle of the season, we had a lot of hard work ahead of us to rebuild the missing players," said Senior Jamie Hanselman.

Hardwork, teamwork, dedication, and having fun was what the '95 season was all about.

Half of the "sister act", Senior Alicia Mobley pitches hard in a home game. "Alicia always gave it her all, we're lucky to have her sister following in her footsteps for next year," quoted Sophomore Andrea Yalacki.

First baseman, Senior Molly Hicks, covers the base in order to get yet another out against Clinton. "Molly was such an exceptional player on and off the field. She'll be greatly missed next year," commented Coach Greg Lewis.

Freshmen Erin Lips and Marcy Mobley chat between games. Erin played left field, while Marcy was the team pitcher, along with her sister Alicia.

The Best is Yet to Come

"The Team That Wouldn't Quit", is the title earned by the JV squad as they started their season. Living up to their name, they showed everyone that they would rise to the top and never give up.

The team played to the best of their ability and more so as they combined their talents and won games left and right. "We got off to a good start. We had a few tough games, but overall we were very successful," said catcher Lisa Camfield.

Nothing could slow them down as they gave it their all and came out on top of their opponents and their games, and ended with a nearly perfect season.

It being the first year for a Freshmen Softball Team, the girls wanted to make a great impression on those who never thought they'd make it.

"Considering that we weren't a very experienced team, we made a good effort and everyone improved," said outfielder Maggie Baldwin.

Coming together as a team was something that they all had to do and they tried their hardest at every thing.

The team showed that combining their skills is something that they had to do to be the best and it paid off in the end.

Girls Varsity & J.V. Soccer

A Season of Transition

This season proved to be one of constant change for both the J.V. and Varsity Girls Soccer Teams. A bumper crop of freshman provided a very full Junior Varsity team, with plenty of talent. Even after losing 10 players to restock Varsity through the season, the team came out with a 12-3-2 record. This was highlighted by double wins against Dexter and Pinckney teams, and newcomers Clinton, Chelsea and Ypsi-Lincoln.

Speed was a major part of the Indians' game; forwards were known for their ability to blow past an offguard defense. A very strong defense also helped, letting in about one goal for every three scored.

"We came together as a team in the end, and played not as individuals," said Junior Brooke Catarina. "We had many hard losses, but they made us stronger."

Despite being a strong and immensely talented team, the Varsity girls struggled to convert their assets to goals. The team shined in double victories against Chelsea and Lincoln, but were otherwise unable to defend their SEC rank of last year. After accepting a bye in the Districts, the girls hosted Trenton, and were defeated, ending their season at 5-12-1.

Boys Track

A New Breed Of Runners

The Tecumseh Indian Boys Track Team got off to a rocky start this year. After losing a great amount of senior leadership, the remaining runners were asked to step up. Many people were forced to run events they were not experienced in, just to make up for the absence of returning letter men. Many of the key Indian runners were forced to sit out half the season due to disciplinary actions, which really added pressure. In a league that was much more difficult than in the past, scoring a win would prove to be quite challenging.

The boys started out the season against the always difficult Lincoln Railsplitters. The Tribe was quickly overrun, and Lincoln walked away with the victory. This loss began the Indians' hurtful losing streak. They went on to lose to Adrian in the following meet. Then came the Saline meet, where the team finally got things going and pulled an early lead. Later in the meet, the inexperience showed as Tecumseh began to fall apart, and Saline pulled ahead for the win. "The Saline meet was a hard loss," said Junior thrower T.J. Hunt, "At least it helped to make us more determined not to give up so easy in the future."

The Indians' determination showed when instead of settling for a total losing season, they pulled it together and ran with intensity. The victory over the Milan Big Reds was possible with many points from the throwers and other field events, plus the strength of the runners. The tribe also ended the season with a win over Dexter in the following week. "It was a trying season for the guys," said boys coach, Brian Boze, "Although, I do think a lot of character and experience was the outcome."

Junior Ryan Roesler displays good form in warm ups. He went on to place third in Regionals, and first in the S.E.C.

Girls Track

Running Away With the Competition

With only a few returning letter winners and fourteen freshman, the 1995 Girls Track season was questionable from the start. There were few home meets due to the re-painting of the home track, which caused some inconveniences. Although the girls didn't have a superior record, they really pulled together and cranked out some exciting races.

The girls opened their season against Lincoln, and fell to the Railsplitters by a mere eight points.

With this being the first meet, things didn't go too smoothly, including a missed hand off in the 800m relay. The first win came at Adrian, where the Lady Indians ran off with a sixty-one point victory margin.

Senior Captain Angie Stanifer proved to be the most exciting runner throughout the entire season. At the Chelsea Relays, she received the baton in tenth place, and ran past all the rest to take first in the Sprint Medley. Stanifer also broke school records. Another school record was set by the "Supersonics" (Jocelyn Morse, Deanna Vogel, Jennie Webb and Stanifer) in the 800-meter relay.

"We had a young team this year, but we still did pretty good. The team was small, also," commented Senior Erica Goodrow.

Junior April Dinius and Senior Aimee Crumb ran some excellent, near state-qualifying times in the 800m, and Dinius in the 1600m.

Goodrow came within seconds of the school record in the 3200m run.

At the State Finals, Stanifer placed second in the 200m and 400m, and the 800m-relay team, Morse, Stanifer, Vogel, And Webb, came back as State Champions.

"Track is a fun sport to be involved in. I'm glad I decided to come out for it," quoted Junior rookie Michelle Hillner.

Freshman Jenni Brown added, "Track can be tough, but it's a sport everyone should try."

Aimee Crumb

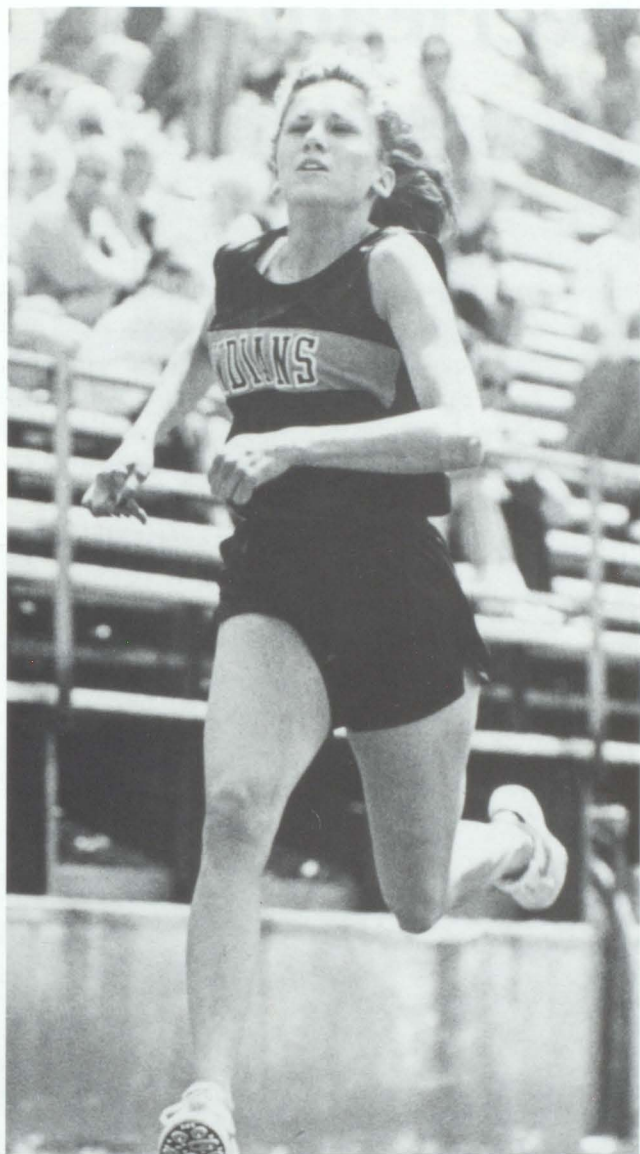

Sophomore hurdler Jennie Webb prepares to take the lead in the 100m hurdles. Jennie was a hurdler who also ran on the State Champion 800m relay team.

Deanna Vogel

Junior April Dinius and Senior Erica Goodrow work together in the 1600m run. Dinius and Goodrow took first and second in the event.

Senior Angie Stanifer is meters ahead of the rest as she takes first in the 400m dash. Angie broke her old record of 59.4 and replaced it with a 57.9.

Varsity/JV Cheerleading

Pep-rallies-Games-Competitions

Cheerleaders started their season in July at camp. JV started in the dance competition, which was the first time for all of the JV squad members to compete in any cheerleading ever. They did an excellent job for their first time. The Varsity, however, was the undisputed winner of the competition. During the previous week of camp, whenever the squad practiced the dance, every one stopped what they were doing just to watch.

"One squad from Toledo asked us to teach them how to do our pom tosses. It made all of us feel really proud to think that we had something totally new that other squads could appreciate," commented Senior Melodie Bone. The Varsity squad also won the side line competition.

Because of their undisputed success, they were invited to participate in the pregame show of the Citrus Bowl. This was the first time that an entire Tecumseh squad was invited to participate in a national performance. Four ladies took advantage of this opportunity, traveling to Orlando for their own 15 minutes of fame.

After camp the ladies had to come back to learn and relearn over 50 football cheers, because the first football games were the Thursday and Friday of the first week of school.

Next the girls started choreographing their Pistons cheer which took a lot of time and effort. Then they started basketball season. The girls practiced almost every day over vacation preparing for the Pistons performance, even practicing one hour before a basketball game to perfect the routine. "The Pistons competition was the best time in my cheerleading career," commented Junior Susan Bearer.

After competing, the ladies went back to finish out an excitement-filled basketball winning season. They kept themselves busy buying humorous goodie bags and planning a surprise pizza party for the players before districts.

D. Sakewski

The THS cheerleaders perform their "Pistons Cheer" that earned them a well deserved 9th place at the 2nd annual competition. They performed the cheer at half time of a Varsity Basketball game.

Dear Friends—

Tonight we lost one of our own. I'm not sure how to express in words what I'm feeling- a lot of anger, a lot of sadness, but also a lot of hope. That we as a class, as a family, will get through this, together. The pain in my heart for a lost friend will dull in time, I know, but there will always be a scar. My friend is gone.

Please help one another cope; reach out to your brothers and sisters, even ones you don't know. This is our last year together. Forget all the cliques we have been in the past and make this year the most memorable of all. This is a time to come together and stay together. You will never again have friends like the ones you do right now. Make every moment count. Let everyone know you care, and that you'll always be there for them. Look out for one another, take care of each other, love each other. Together, we can do anything.

Love Always—

CLASS NIGHT

It Doesn't Get Any Better Than This

Hard work, dedication, teamwork, and being with friends is what Class Night '95 was all about. Class Night gave the seniors one more time to say goodbye before their final moment... graduation. Class Night was held Wednesday May 24th, instead of the 25th due to a schedule mix-up with the Senior Awards Night. The change in date left a bad impression on many people, because the track team had their Leagues on the same night.

When asked how she liked Class Night, Senior Erica Goodrow replied, "It was too bad they had it on the same night as my S.E.C. Track Meet; I missed the senior girls' dance, which I was supposed to be in. Plus I would have liked to see my friends perform. But from what I saw, it was really good."

Class Night started off with a skit about everyone's favorite hall monitors, Mr. Lewis and Mr. Mobley. The night went on with music performed by Dan Casteel, Rich Schlanderer, Draft, and the Brass Band. For a little added pleasure for the girls, the senior guys performed an erotic dance entitled, "Erotica." All in all, Class Night turned out to be a big success, and an experience that anyone from the class of '95 will never forget.

Anna Fielder pays tribute to her friends / classmates by reading a self-composed letter, written to tell everyone that high school friendships may not last forever, so you must cherish them for as long as you can.

Some of the senior guys were able to show their feminine sides, by dressing in drag for the "Grease" skit. Class Night was held on Wednesday May 27th.

For a little added pleasure, the senior guys performed an erotic dance entitled , "Erotica". Some of the performers were Pete White, Rich Schlanderer, Jake Matthews, and Dave Siedel. The guys proved that they do know how to have a good time.

Allison Pittman

Jeremy Smith and Jennie Callison got all dolled up to present some crazy awards to their classmates.

Tony Bush, Tom Bush, Mark Steiner, and Andy Sattler performed acoustically for a change of pace at Class Night.

GRADUATION

The Final Moment

Saying good-bye is always hard, especially if it is probably for the last time. This year 198 students, including nine adult education students, gathered on the Indian football field, Sunday, June 4.

These students have become very close friends in the last four years. Now they are going their separate ways. Some will keep in touch, others may not.

There are many paths that can be taken by these graduates...college, work, vocational school, or marriage. Whatever they chose to do, they will be encouraged by the friends they have made. These friends will always be there, remembering the times in high school when they received support.

It's good to know that there will always be friends to lean on.

The class of 1995, with their amazing amounts of class spirit and endless ability to make and take jokes, hopefully, will be remembered by those classes to come. This class has the willingness to learn and the aptitude to succeed in anything they desire as long as they reach for the highest star and beyond. This class will go as far as they want because they have the enthusiasm to push themselves to the limit. That is what has brought them this far. Good luck to all of the graduates of the class of 1995. It's been great knowing all of you, and sharing a lot of great moments here at THS.

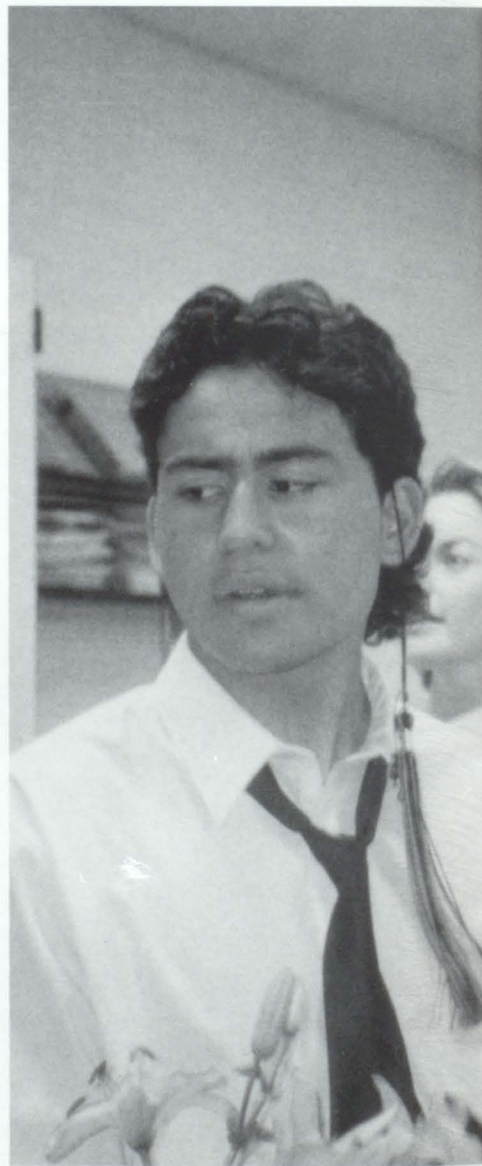

Class President, Mark Steiner, gives his speech at the opening of the ceremony on June 4, 1995. Mark's speech was very moving and caused some of the graduates to reflect back upon those times they felt out of place.

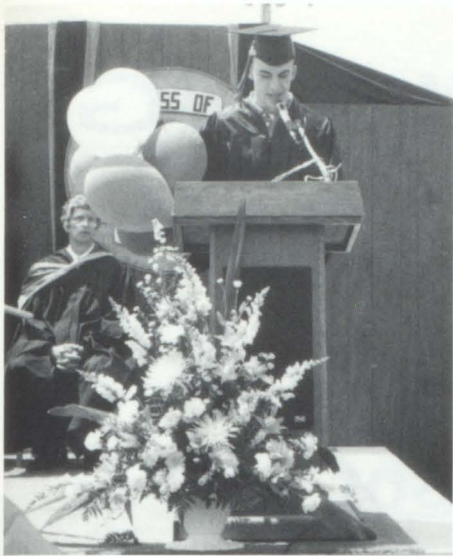

Jeremy Powers and Trisha VanRiper wait in room 129 to receive their diplomas. Many graduates had already taken off their gowns to cool down.

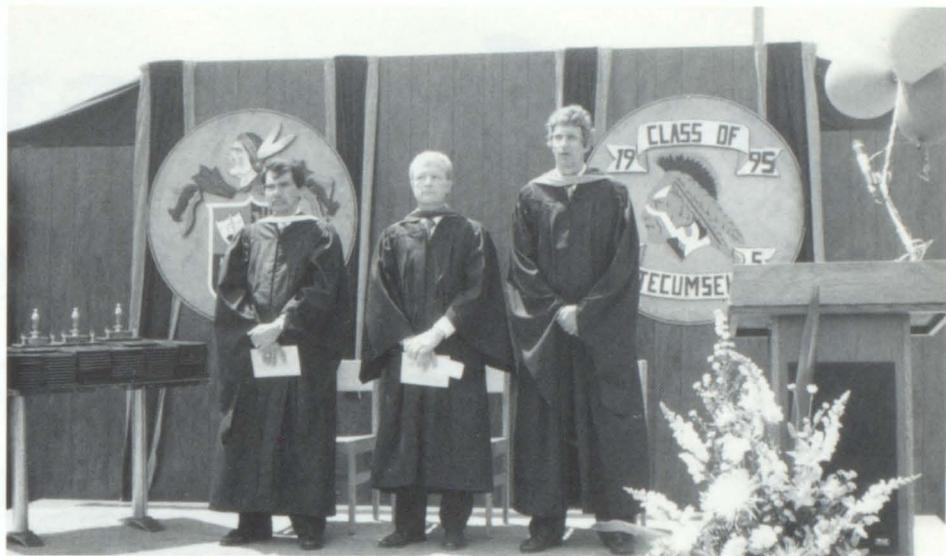

-Allison Pittman

These students sat patiently awaiting their diplomas. Some eventually used their caps as a fan because it was so hot out. Others tried not to think about the temperature and engaged in conversation with those around them.

-Allison Pittman

-Allison Pittman

During the ceremony, Mr. Pound, the Superintendent, handed the graduates their diplomas, while Principal Mr. Thomas read their names and Mr. Catros, Board President, congratulated them.

-Allison Pittman

-Allison Pittman

While some students were talking and laughing, others were listening to the speeches being made and thinking about the future and what it holds for them.

"I am really excited about graduation.
I just can't believe it's finally here!!!"

Head Varsity football coach Mr. Schmidt prepares to point to the Senior section during a pep rally cheer. He always managed to get everyone fired up for a game.

Every moment in time has a bearing on another. "Our todays and yesterday are blocks with which we build," said writer Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. Whether the moment be embarrassing, funny, sad, frightening, or exhausting, it's building up to something bigger and better, or maybe not. Something that may seem unimportant now, maybe important later.

You never know where the path may take you, so make every moment count.

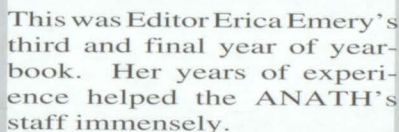

Colophon

Sticking to important moments, the Senior class' tye-dyed t-shirt was used to design the cover. The book is 8.5" by 11", with 208 pages. Striving to make the 1995 book more unique than past books, a Mini-Mag was added, and the font of each section varied, creating a sense of diversity. All sections were designed on computer using PageMaker 4.2.

sance card holders received a $2.00 discount. This year, 500 books were ordered. (55% of the student population.) Money to finance the book was earned by selling ads to area businesses. "Senior Ad's" were also offered $20.00 for each block, two blocks maximum. The staff raised $6,605.00 total in ads. Near Valentine's Day, "Balloon-O-Grams" were sold. For $1.00, the purchaser could send a clear, white, pink, red, or purple balloon and an attached message to their "special someone", to be delivered on Valentine's Day. This raised $132.31. All money was handled by Business Manager Amy Cox.

CLOSING

Of a Memorable Year

A simple picture taken of a most common sign at THS, ends our book. For some people, this year's ending means a summer break; to the seniors though, it's an exit to the real world.

During our year here at THS, we had a lot of fun, a lot of tears, a lot of excitement, and a lot of hard work. We had many good times that brought us close together, but we also had a few unexpected calamities that brought us even closer.

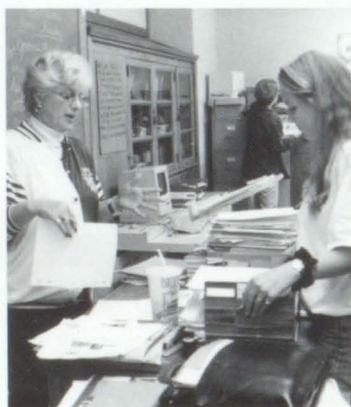

Many students entered the school for their first time with high hopes and aspirations for their high school careers; other newcomers were nervous wrecks. On the other end, THS contained 211 seniors who anticipated their final year, and awaited the arrival of June fourth, in order to conclude their four years in high school.

During the 1994-1995 school year, Tecumseh was named a model school, for having an outstanding educational program. We also incorporated a new program for the incoming 9th graders called Intergrated Quality Pilot, or IQP-9. This was a four hour practical application for any freshman who signed up.

Another new change we experienced was the changing of our assistant principal, Mr. David Phillips. He left at the semester change, and was replaced by Ms. Carol Nelson, who was director of Community Education.

For his second year at our school, Mr. Ben Thomas was not only our principal, but he led us smoothly through the year. He was the leader for our new generation.

As you looked at our student body, you saw the warmth, the friendship, and the hard work put forth. Students and teachers alike stuck together during our times of need, and when the going got tough, we got tougher. We knew how to get along and laugh together, and I guess we just knew how to "Make Every Moment Count".

During another hectic day in yearbook class, Student Life editor, Allison Pittman, questioned yearbook advisor, Mrs. Messerly, about her layout.
